Reds Down Private Plane, Kill Pilots, Take Crewman

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — Communist guerrillas today shot down a privately operated U.S. transport plane, killed its civilian pilot and co-pilot and led a third crew member away with a rope around his neck, a company spokesman said.

The Viet Cong atrocities occurred near the Mekong Delta town of Vi Thanh, about 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

The plane, a C-47 operated by Air America, was shot down while making a landing in the Communist-dominated delta and crashed into a small canal. A rescue helicopter managed to land near the crash scene but was unable to aid the victims because of intensive fire from the Communists.

A spokesman for Air America, a civilian-operated charter line under contract to the U.S. Operations Mission (USOM), said villagers told of the incident. He said the two slain crewmen both were shot and then mutilated and the third captured by the Communists. The bodies of the dead were recovered later.

American and Australian troops meanwhile today terminated the most massive U.S. operation of the war and flew by helicopter out of landing zones under heavy Communist fire. The U.S. and Aussie forces left behind gas-filled tunnels as gigantic booby traps to be touched off later by the bombs of U.S. planes.

More than 8,000 Americans and a battalion of Australian troops were involved in the search and clear operation 25 to 35 miles northwest of Saigon in the "iron triangle" Communist zone. The mission had been dubbed "Operation Crimp."

While the lull in the air war over Communist North Viet Nam completed its 21st day, U.S. Marine jet planes flew 131 combat sorties in the South, dropping 32 tons of bombs and firing 456 rockets.

U.S. Air Force B-52s today pounded a suspected Viet Cong target in Quang Nam Province but as usual no details of the raid were disclosed.

Government militiamen killed 40 Communists in beating off an attack on an outpost near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, scene of repeated Communist thrusts.

Casualties among the 100 defenders were reported light.

Two U.S. planes — a two-engine C-123 flare ship and an Air Force single-seat Skyraider — collided in the air on an operation in support of Korean ground troops 15 miles northwest of Qui Nhon on the central coast. All seven men on board were killed.

The Skyraider crashed into the bigger plane from underneath after pulling out of a strike, a spokesman said.

Other mishaps plagued the U.S. Marines in the Da Nang area, resulting in U.S. and Vietnamese casualties.

In the Da Nang area, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, two U.S. Marine jets called in by a forward air controller sank four sampans manned by government militiamen in the Thin Yen River, 20 miles southwest of Da Nang after being told they were carrying Viet Cong.

Four civilians on the river bank were killed and 16 civilians and five militiamen were wounded. The Marines accepted full responsibility for the mistake, a spokesman said.

Johnson Picks First Negro For Cabinet

Weaver, Aide's Names Submitted For Senate Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. Weaver appears likely to have an easier task winning Senate approval as the first Negro member of the Cabinet than he did in 1961 as housing administrator.

President Johnson announced yesterday he would nominate Weaver as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Weaver, 58, has been acting head of the new department since its formal creation in November. As administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, he has directed the agencies now under the new Cabinet department.

Johnson said he would name Robert C. Wood, 42, chairman of the political science department at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as undersecretary of the new department. Wood headed a task force that advised Johnson on its organization and functions.

The nomination of both Weaver and Wood were sent to the Senate.

The new department — the 11th in the Cabinet — has under its wing the Federal Housing Administration, the Public Housing Administration, the Urban Renewal Administration and the Community Facilities Administration.

Johnson said no decision has been made on a reported proposal by Wood's task force to move the community action part of the administration's antipoverty program from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the new department.

Senators, including some Southerners, generally expressed approval of Weaver's appointment. And two Negro leaders promptly applauded Johnson's announcement.

Trusted Convict Flees Over San Quentin Wall

Killer Deserts Post To Vanish Into Mist

A 36-year-old killer, placed on trust by San Quentin officials not to escape, scaled the 20-foot high north wall before dawn today and disappeared into the fog. He was still at large this afternoon.

William Joseph Dellinger, who had been considered a model prisoner, dragged a ladder from the nearby textile mill and climbed to the top of the wall, left unguarded at that point after midnight.

He let himself down the outside with a rope, then sprinted the half mile to the perimeter fence through fog-shrouded prison outbuildings.

The 4 a.m. escape was in almost exactly the same spot where two convicted robbers went over the wall in daylight last August, using a piece of pipe from the mill. These escapees were later caught.

Dellinger had access to both the ladder and rope in his job as textile factory night watchman, Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today.

His job was to tour the mill at set times and inspect for fire outbreaks. It was a position of trust for which Dellinger had been carefully selected, said Park.

"Things seemed to be going for him lately," Park said. "He was a key man in our industrial setup here and was doing a good job. In his spare time he was studying for his high school diploma."

AREA DESERTED

Park said that when the night shift comes off at the mill, the factory area is deserted except for Dellinger so the wall towers are left unmanned.

"Normally no one can escape unless he is already in the factory area and Dellinger was considered the best man for this job," said Park.

The escape was discovered at 7:25 today. The time clock Dellinger has to punch on his rounds indicated he made his getaway about 4 a.m.

USES FOG

"We put our escape procedure into operation immediately," said Park, "but it's likely he made use of the fog and got clean out of the area. At the perimeter fence all he had to watch for was the patrol car."

Dellinger was sentenced to life for the 1958 slaying of his stepfather in Kern County.

According to the records, said Park, Dellinger and his stepfather, Sterling Miller, were working a mine called the Golden Nugget and got into an argument. Dellinger shot Miller because he became "fearful" of his stepfather's actions and dumped the body in another mine.

BEFORE AUTHORITY

Dellinger appeared before the Adult Authority last August when his request for parole was denied for three years.

He has brown hair, bue eyes, is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 158 pounds and escaped dressed in the prison uniform of blue denim. He has a number of tatoos on his arm, including the Marine Corps motto, "Death Before Dishonor."

He had earlier spent time at San Quentin before the murder conviction. In 1949 he served two years for burglary and in 1953 was returned for grand theft, being paroled in 1956.

Unit Two Brings Reported $9 Million To Meet Draper Company Obligations

Sale by the Draper Companies of Unit Two of the Northgate Shopping Center to M and T, Inc., a holding company of San Francisco investors, was announced late yesterday.

The price was unofficially reported as in the neighborhood of nine million dollars.

The sale is the third of major Marin County holdings of the Draper Companies in less than two months.

Unit Two, largest and principal division of the shopping center, comprises approximately 45 acres and contains 27 stores and business, among whom are such tenants as the Emporium, City of Paris, Roos-Atkins, Hastings, H. Liebes, Milen's Jewelers, Modern Eve, Bank of America, Sommer and Kaufman, and other merchants. Present building area is 383,432 square feet.

The sale was the largest in dollar volume of the three recent Draper Companies sales. Northgate Unit One, 9.7 acres, was sold to Howard Properties, San Francisco in mid-November, for approximately 2.6 million dollars. Peacock Gap Country Club was sold Nov. 30 to New York-Cal, headed by Chinn Ho of Honolulu, reportedly for 7.8 million dollars.

The last sale has enabled the company to pay off its outstanding debts, president Jerome C. Draper said.

Dohemann and Co., San Rafael real estate firm, acted for the Draper Companies in the transaction. Coldwell, Banker and Co. represented M and T, Inc.

Coldwell, Banker and Co. will act as exclusive managing agent for the new owner.

Harold Valceschini, manager of the San Rafael office, said the acquisition includes an undeveloped 15 acres which will be used for future expansion. He said

Ross Resident Asks Publicity Of Burglaries

Council Says News Of Crime Is Up To Chief

"We're having a great increase in the number of burglaries here in Ross and I think the people would appreciate being warned," John H. Chase of 101 Camino Bueno, Ross, told the Ross Town Council last night.

Chase asked if there is a policy of suppression in Ross of crime news.

"It's up to the chief of police. If he thinks it might lessen his chances of apprehending a criminal, he shouldn't release information," answered Councilman Roy Farrington Jones.

'MAKE IT PUBLIC'

"I'm not talking about apprehension, I'm talking about education," said Chase. "We've had burglaries down on Ames Avenue. If the police chief is withholding this information, he should make it public."

"We haven't any policy of suppression, but we've found word of mouth is our best newspaper here," said Police Chief John Harris.

"The figures for the rising crime rate in California are well known. There's no reason why people should think that Ross is different," said Harris. "But there are people in this town who don't even have locks on their doors."

NO REPORT

No report of recent burglaries on Ames Avenue has ever been made public by Ross police. A series of thefts of valuable saddles came to light recently only because the owner of one of them called the Independent-Journal. Chief Harris at that time said it was his policy not to report crimes until they are solved.

There has been no arrest for any burglary by Ross police in recent months.

D.C. Watches Hanoi Move Of Reduction

COMBINED AP & UPI

The recent reduction in Communist activity in South Viet Nam brought some hope in Washington today the Hanoi government might be getting ready to cut back military operations as a prelude to possible peace talks.

Administration officials from President Johnson down declined to express an opinion, however.

Johnson told newsmen "the number of incidents has dropped off some." He would not say whether he thought there was "any connection between that and our peace moves—but that it is a fact."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, meanwhile, was due to return to the capital today from his trip to New Delhi for the funeral of Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Humphrey was prepared to report to Johnson on a lengthy talk he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk had yesterday with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin.

The vice president also met In New Delhi with Vice

Grand Jury Gathers Records On Hiring

A committee of the Marin County Grand Jury yesterday picked up copies of records and correspondence at the Civic Center concerning the hiring of a county director of economic development.

George R. Scott, grand jury foreman, would not comment on the action today. The 1965 grand jury which he heads has turned in its reports, but has not yet been discharged so could still make supplemental reports.

John Martin Douglas was hired by the board of supervisors for the economic development post at $15,600 a year. The job had been set up at $13,200, and a screening committee had interviewed candidates and recommended three, Douglas, a neighbor of Supervisors Chairman Byron W. Leydecker, was not among the three.

Early Morning Fog Stalls Marin Air Transportation

Marin temperatures warmed slightly today, but fog slowed traffic and closed airports. The fog in the bay was expected to return tomorrow.

The Marin County Airport in Novato was closed, as was the Marin County Heliport at Waldo Point. SFO Helicopter flights from the heliport were resumed at 10:30 a.m., and the airport was expected to be open by noon.

The landing strip at Hamilton Air Force Base was also closed to all but instrument landings while the fog stayed in North Marin.

The Weather Bureau predicted that a high pressure area would keep rain away from California for the next few days. The lowest temperature reported in Marin today was 32 degrees at Woodacre and the Chevy Chase area at Larkspur. Elsewhere low temperatures ranged as high as 42, recorded at Mill Valley.

Other low temperatures were 35 at Novato and Hamilton Air Force Base, 36 at Inverness, 38 at Sausalito, 39 at Bolinas, San Anselmo and San Rafael and 40 at Fairfax and Ross.

Yesterday's low at Woodacre was 28, four degrees lower than today.

Trouble Puts Papers Out Late

Nearly all Independent-Journal subscribers received their papers much later than usual last evening.

The clutch went out on one unit of the I-J's big press. This resulted in a series of paper tears, and delayed completion of the press run by about two hours. Last papers did not roll off the press until 5:45 p.m.

Only about 4,000 copies had been printed before the breakdown, of the total run of about 42,000.

LBJ Sees Little Fuss Over Revival Of Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he detects "a minimum of opposition" to his proposal to restore excise tax cuts on cars and phone bills.

"I think most of the legislators would prefer receiving revenues in this form than revenues in new taxes on corporations and individuals," Johnson told a news conference at the White House yesterday.

Amid a burst of criticism from congressmen over his tax proposals announced in Wednesday night's State of the Union message, Johnson said he had sounded out sentiment in advance and "I did not detect overwhelming resistance to it."

He said he believed that "most of the people are patriotic" and would be willing to give up reductions in the taxes, which took effect Jan. 1, to finance additional military costs stemming from the Viet Nam war.

In other major topics covered at the news conference, Johnson said:

He will appoint Robert C. Weaver as secretary of the new Department of Housing and Urban Development and Robert C .Wood as undersecretary. Weaver would be the first Negro member of the Cabinet.

"The number of incidents" in Viet Nam has "dropped off some." But he added: "I don't

White House Mystery Shot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An unidentified man fired a rifle in the air today about a block from the White House.

Police arrested the man and took him to police headquarters for questioning.

Officers on the scene said the man was with his wife and child at the time the shot was fired.

There was no immediate explanation for the shooting.

Police Kill Two Attempting To Kidnap Firestone Heir

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Pistols raised, two men crashed into the home of Leonard K. Firestone last night in an apparent attempt to kidnap the wealthy industrialist. Staked-out police killed both with shotgun blasts.

Cal Bailey, 40, was killed instantly as he attempted to rush into the living room of the palatial home. George Scalla, 28, fell wounded on the threshhold and died three hours later in a hospital.

Police said the men may have planned to ask $2 million in ransom.

The deaths ended three weeks of police undercover work, during which the proposed kidnaping was tipped by an undisclosed source. Firestone, 58, was warned to leave the city.

He hid out at Pebble Beach in Monterey County.

Capt. John E. Hankins, chief of Beverly Hills detectives, told this sequence of events:

First hint of the kidnap came three weeks ago in connection with a burglary that took place in the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles police. Ten days ago, the tipster disclosed that the intended victim was Firestone.

Hankins advised Firestone to leave his home on Alpine Drive, a tree-shaded street where millionaires live amid movie stars. Police officers moved in, along with a policewoman who posed as a domestic.

Days passed uneventfully. No unusual phone calls came, no suspicious cars drove by. The identity of the two suspects was known, and they were known to have long records of burglary, robbery and robbery with violence. All attempts to locate them for surveillance failed.

At 6 o'clock yesterday the telephone rang. The policewoman, Barbara Ezell, told the male caller that Mr. Firestone could not come to the telephone. The caller hung up.

HARVEY FIRESTONE
Kidnapers' target

At 6:20 a black 1965 Ford drove into the semicircular driveway and stopped in front of the door. Policewoman Ezell gazed through the peephole and saw two large men emerge from the car. One wore a Halloween mask over his face and carried a gun in one hand and a sack containing adhesive tape in the other. He was later identified as Bailey.

Scalla wore a hat pulled down on his face and carried a gun in each hand. Both men wore surgical gloves.

The doorbell rang and Miss Ezell asked, "Who's there?"

"Parcel post, ma'am," came the reply.

Behind Miss Ezell stood three veteran Beverly Hills policemen: Lt. B. L. Cork, Sgt. Jack Egger and Det. Jack Mourning. They were armed with two shotguns and a pistol.

Egger motioned Miss Ezell out of the room. Then he reached for the knob and jerked open the door.

"They moved in fast and saw us," Cork said later. "Bailey raised his gun and pointed it at us. In my opinion, they were prepared to shoot us. We shot first."

The case did not necessarily end with the deaths of the two men. Hankins said police were still investigating the possibility that others were involved in the kidnap attempt.

Firestone, a personable man who has been active in civic affairs since moving here in 1943, lived alone in the modern, white-stucco house. His wife Polly died a year ago.

Firestone was one of five sons born to the pioneer of the rubber industry.

Johnson Expected To Back Redwood Park In California

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson is expected to endorse creation of a Redwood National Park in California despite his failure to include it in his State of the Union Message.

Supporters of the proposal to establish the park in Northern California were hopeful almost to the end that the hoped-for recommendation would be included in the message.

The park proposal was among recommendations submitted by the Interior Department for inclusion in the message but dropped from the speech.

Johnson, who was irritated by a report it had been dropped at almost the last minute, was expected to include a recommendation for the park in a later conservation message.

At least some funds for the park also are expected to be included in the budget, in anticipation of Congressional authorization of the park this year.

The budget bureau has placed a $55 million ceiling on spending for the park which would be created around a nucleus of existing state parks.

The Budget Bureau figure is about $10 million more than the cost of the most modest of three alternate plans drawn up by the National Park Service for the proposed park.

Legislation introduced by Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., and by about 10 other members of Congress calls for a 90,000-acre park estimated to cost some $150 million.

However, spokesmen for California's redwood lumber industry say such a park would cost more than $200 million and contend it would seriously injure the economy of the area.

Cause Sought In Killer Explosion

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Aerojet General Corp. officials were probing today for the cause of an explosion which killed two of the firm's technicians.

Killed yesterday afternoon in the company's solid rocket operations area were Joseph K. Roberts, 33, of Citrus Heights; and Clifford J. Shaffer, 34, of Elk Grove.

A spokesman said the men were mixing chemicals in a small preparation building when the explosion occurred. The building was only slightly damaged.

Roberts, with the company eight years, is survived by a wife and 7-year-old daughter; Shaffer, a six - year veteran, leaves a wife, two daughters and a son, aged 5, 6 and 9.

Ex-Nazi, Two Aides Ready To Pay Penalty

MUNICH (UPI)—The Nazi general blamed for the death of Anne Frank, the young Jewish girl whose diary became world famous, is ready to accept any punishment due him, a West German prosecutor said today.

Ex-SS (elite guard) Maj.-Gen. Wilhelm Harster and two wartime aides are accused of complicity in mass murder after launching the Nazi roundup of Dutch Jews that netted Anne Frank.

READY FOR IT

"My impression is they have the guts to face what is coming to them," Prosecutor Benedikt Huber told UPI.

"They seem to agree with me that it's no use making things more difficult than they are already — it would do them no good anyway," the prosecutor said.

West German authorities announced the arrest yesterday of the 62-year-old Harster along with Mrs. Gertrud Slottke, 63, and Dr. Wilhelm Zoepf, 57. Harster is accused of 83,000 cases of complicity in murder and 317 cases of attempted murder as boss of Nazi security police and espionage in occupied Holland.

WOMAN JAILED

Mrs. Slottke, a Stuttgart saleswoman, was arrested for her role in running Harster's Dutch Jewish Affairs Office, which carried out Adolf Eichmann's orders to hunt down and dispatch all Jews to death camps. Called a "secretary of death" she is accused of complicity in 93,328 murder cases.

Zoepf, a Munich lawyer, was arrested along with Harster and accused of complicity in 94,328 cases of murder while serving as the general's legal expert in Holland.

The arrests climaxed a six-year investigation by Dutch and West German authorities.

National Anthem Action Protested

DOVER, Del. (AP) — The Governor's Committee on Protocol has complained about high school drum majorettes and cheerleaders wiggling during the playing of the National Anthem.

The committee was created by the General Assembly to study all aspects of protocol in Delaware and suggest ways to improve it.

The committee suggested yesterday to school officials "that drum majorettes and cheerleaders are perhaps not aware of the respect due to the playing of the National Anthem." It said it found cheerleaders doing cartwheels to "the rocket's red glare," and majorettes keeping time to "the bombs burst in air."

Unruh Still Coy About Plans

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, came close last night to saying he wouldn't seek re-election to the lower house, but declined to spell out his future plans.

Unruh

"I want to chart the future, not just log the present," he told a testimonial dinner.

Referring to the bitter legislative debate has accompanied some of his legislative proposals, Unruh said:

"I want the freedom to propose a tax reform plan which is two years ahead of its time, a health plan which is 10 years ahead, without having them crippled and delayed simply because they are advanced by the man who is supposed to have the muscle to get them passed."

To the more than 2,000 persons attending the dinner, it appeared to be a tip off on the political plan.

But Unruh said "I am afraid that I cannot tell you anything very specific tonight about my personal plans for the future, and for that I apologize."

Guests contributed an estimated $200,000 to Unruh's political war chest.

MOTORCYCLES ROAR

Hell's Angels Attend Funeral Of A Friend

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— The simple, gray casket was flanked with gawdy gang jackets as well as flowers.

Outside the funeral chapel, motorcyclists revved their waiting bikes. Police were jittery.

And that's the way James (Mother) Miles wanted it. His fellow Hell's Angels said so.

Some 350 members of the notorious motorcycle club converged on the California capital yesterday for the funeral of the 30-year-old Miles, who was fatally injured when his bike collided with a car in Oakland, on Jan. 2.

The A.J. Nicoletti Funeral home chapel had only about 100 mourners inside, while outside the club members, along with their girl friends, rumbled their motorcycles. The noise could be clearly heard in the chapel.

Flowers were on top of the casket. At each end were Hell's Angels' jackets on stands. The jackets belonged to Miles and his brother.

Strategically stationed around the chapel and from along the short route to the cemetery were police patrolmen, some on motorcycles.

Miles' casket was carried out of the funeral home by six club members clad in sleeveless denim work jackets with such emblems as the Hell's Angels' grinning skull and swastika. One of the pall bearers was identified as Ralph "Sonny" Barger, who led the Angels in their confrontation with anti-war demonstrators in Berkeley last year.

The mourners clustered around in the silence around the canopied grave for three minutes, their eyes on the casket. Two women wept. The crowd broke up and they headed for their motorcycles.

The cyclists then lined up two abreast and rode slowly out of the city, with police cars following closely behind.

Miles leaves a widow and two small children. He had been the chairman of the Sacramento chapter of the Angels before it folded last May and the members moved to other cities.

Miles himself moved to Richmond after complaining to city officials that his club had been harassed by law-enforcement officials when it held its "social functions."

New Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harley O. Staggers has stepped up to the chairmanship of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. The West Virginia Democrat succeeds Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., who resigned yesterday to become a U.S. district judge in Arkansas.

Secret Desert Flights Tied To Sonic Booms

Sonic booms heard in Marin and other parts of the Bay Area Wednesday and yesterday probably were caused by an SR-71, an experimental aircraft which is capable of going three times the speed of sound.

Officials at Hamilton Air Force Base today would not say for sure that the booms were caused by the unusual craft, but admitted the plane had been making test flights out of Edwards Air Force Base both days.

Such flights are usually flown at high altitudes over desert areas, officials said, but unusual atmospheric conditions sometimes cause the shock waves to travel long distances.

Purpose of the flight, as well as any technical data about the Lockheed-manufactured airplane, are "classified," according to the Air Force.

Claims for any damages believed caused by a sonic boom should be made to the claims office of the nearest Air Force base, officials said, whether the offending aircraft is from that base or not.

Yesterday's boom shook plaster from the ceiling of a Kentfield home. That on Tuesday shook crockery and glassware from shelves in San Rafael and Belvedere.

plans are also under way for the immediate finishing of seven retail areas for new tenants with whom leases have already been completed. Included will be stores for McKenzie's Children's Wear, Lore Jan's women's wear, Franz Design of San Anselmo, the Music Box (a record store), and a motion picture theater for Blumenfeld Enterprises. Two other lessees have not been identified.

Draper said his company still retains seven acres of the shopping center designated as Unit Three, which will be developed within the next year. Leases have been signed for occupancy there by Lucky Stores and Long's Drug Stores, he reported. Total retail area of 70,000 square feet will be divided among 20 stores.

The Draper Companies also holds about 85 acres of undeveloped lands in the Northgate Industrial Park, which has been scheduled for work this year. In addition, the company retains 200 acres of residential properties at Peacock Gap not included in the 720-acre sale to Chinn Ho.

say there is any connection with that and our peace moves."

He is "disturbed" that the New York City transit strike lasted so long and "I am equally concerned by the cost of the settlement," which "violates our national guideposts for non-inflationary wage increases."

Reaction to the State of the Union message was "very good" and "I was very pleased with it."

He feels "fine" three months after his gall bladder operation.

He has no foreign travel plans now.

Besides rescinding the two excise tax reductions, the administration's tax package includes a speed-up in corporate tax collections and a graduated withholding plan under which taxpayers in higher brackets would pay more as they go along and less at the end of the year.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler formally submitted the tax package to Congress last night and estimated additional revenues from it at $4.8 billion in the fiscal year which starts July 1. Hearings on it will begin next week before the House Ways and Means Committee with Fowler as the first witness.

Radio Station Gives Award

Radio station KTIM yesterday made the first awards in its $2,500 Community Club awards program.

First place winner was Chapter 266 of B'nai B'rith, receiving a $30 award. Second prize of $25 went to the San Rafael Improvement Club and third prize of $20 went to the San Rafael Lions Club. Fourth place winner was the Pythian Sisters, with $15, and fifth place of $10 went to the San Rafael Kiwanis Club.

The awards were the first of a series to be made by the station over a 17-week period.

thanks for your history-making appointment," wired Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Whitney Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, said of the appointment: "It will become a model to inspire and motivate the Negro youth in today's society."

Early Senate approval of the two nominees seemed likely. Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said the Senate Banking Committee which he heads will hold confirmation hearings Monday. He described Weaver as an able man. He said "I don't anticipate any trouble."

Robertson was one of the four senators voting against Weaver in the committee in 1961. The full Senate confirmed Weaver by voice vote.

When nominated to head the housing agency, Weaver ran into more opposition than any other nominee of President John F. Kennedy. And when Kennedy proposed creation of an urban affairs department and indicated Weaver would head it, there was strong Southern opposition and the move was defeated.

Reminded of his opposition, Robertson said, "I know. I thought he was going to be prejudiced." He said he had seen "no evidence of any prejudice" in Weaver's operation of HHFA.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah, ranking Republican member of the committee who also opposed Weaver in 1961, said it was the President's prerogative to select his own Cabinet members, adding, "I don't know of any effort to block Weaver."

The other two negative votes in 1961 came from Sens. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., and William A. Blakley, D-Tex.

In Huntsville, Ala., Sparkman said Weaver has done "a good job" in his present post but that he would await the appointee's testimony before deciding whether he will vote to confirm him.

Blakley was defeated later by Republican John G. Kower, who also is a member of the Banking Committee. Tower promptly said he supported Weaver.

Bruce Favors Rejecting All Bids On Center

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce today recommended that all bids on the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center be rejected and that new bids be asked in 30 days.

Meanwhile, Bruce said, $472,000 should be taken out of the project, mainly by deferring the health department offices and laboratory that were to go in the top west floor.

The low bid of Haas and Haynie of South San Francisco, which has been under fire from other contractors because of a short list of subcontractors, was $9,529,000. The architect's estimate was $9,011,500. The county figures to have $8,953,000 for the project — if the courthouse square can be sold for $1,400,000.

Bruce recommended deletions which he said would reduce the total project cost — which runs over 11 million dollars with site work, furnishings, etc. — by $1,246,750.

Bruce also recommended rejecting site development bids, with deferral on rebidding for one year and deletion of $90,000 from the specifications.

Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick and Burrows and Williams of San Francisco, bid low on site development at $485,568. Estimate was $500,000.

In detail, Bruce's recommendation calls for elimination of miscellaneous items, $233,700; interior finishing of one courtroom, $20,000; interior furnishing of top west floor, $220,500.

Reductions outside the prime construction bid would be movable partition allowance down by $20,000, health department equipment down by $42,550, court furnishing reduced by $200,000, and landscaping, sprinkler and fountain allowance down by $400,000.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, and Public Works Director Donald R. Frost concurred in Bruce's recommendation.

Spraying Slated To Halt Skeeters

The days are numbered for mosquitoes now breeding busily in marshes around Novato and in other areas of the county, G. Paul Jones, manager of Marin County Mosquito Abatement District, reported to the board last night.

He said spraying of the areas will start at the end of this month. Recent heavy rains started hatching of eggs which had been laid last fall, Jones added.

Frank V. Baccaglio of Novato, was elected president of the board; Harold Henry of Mill Valley, vice president, and Clifton C. Cordes of Fairfax, secretary.

Trustees reappointed were Harold Henry of Mill Valley, Paul Di Pietro of San Rafael, Evan T. Pugh of Belvedere, and Baccaglio.

Massachusetts Fixing Hazards

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Public Works Department has launched a million-dollar program to identify hazardous highway spots to combat accidents.

Commissioner Francis W. Sargent said the work will involve such items as widening narrow traffic lanes and bridges; flattening side slopes and removal of roadside curbs and fixed obstructions; and installation of traffic control and protective devices.

HANOI

President Hussein Shafei of the United Arab Republic, who was said to have reported on talks his government has had with the North Vietnamese in Hanoi.

Rusk was joining roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman in Bangkok to accompany him to Saigon, where they are scheduled to meet with high South Vietnamese officials.

Communist China today accused the Soviet Union of working hand in glove with President Johnson to peddle his Viet Nam peace "hoax." The attack came while a high Soviet delegation headed by Alexander Shelepin was visiting Peking.

Shelepin stopped off in Peking for 24 hours en route home from Hanoi where he reaffirmed full Soviet support for the North Vietnamese in their war against "American imperialism." It was obvious Peking did not take his statements at face value.

There have been reports in the West that Shelepin actually was trying to talk the Communist leaders of North Viet Nam into agreeing to discuss peace. Moscow sources have denied this but Peking's statements showed they distrusted the Shelepin mission completely.

Shelepin left today for home with his arms and rocket experts but there were unconfirmed reports he might fly to Outer Mongolia to join party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev in talks with Mongolian leader Yumzhagin Tsedenbal. Outer Mongolia is a buffer state between China and Russia.

The U.S. military buildup in South Viet Nam will continue to gain speed and the hourglass may be running out on the bombing pause in the North.

Defense observers today regarded these as solid inferences that could be drawn from further study of President Johnson's State of the Union speech Wednesday night.

There were increasing indications the American troop commitment to the Viet Nam war could equal the peak strength deployed during the Korean War.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese are using the bombing lull to rebuild railroad lines and bridges over which war gear has flowed from Red China, it was learned today.

Aerial reconnaissance indicates that the Reds are giving priority in reconstruction to rail links reaching northwest and northeast from Hanoi into Communist China.

These rail lines and bridges were pounded heavily by U.S. fighter bombers for about three or four months before the strikes were halted three weeks ago.

There has been no indication as yet that the Communists are taking advantage of the lull to regroup or intensify their anti-aircraft defenses.

Police Discover Auto On Fire

Fairfax police today were checking registration on a Ford Mustang automobile found burning and abandoned on San Geronimo Valley Drive.

Police Chief James Orr said license plates of the car may have been stolen in San Francisco.

The car, gutted by fire and still burning, was seen parked off the San Geronimo road at 1 a.m. by Sheriff's Deputy Russell E. Hunt. The officer, who summoned Marin County Fire Department, said a metal cap, apparently from an oil or gas can, was found on the hood.

Canals On Mars Believed Cracks

By GENE BYLINSKY
Advance News Service

BERKELEY—The astronomer who discovered the planet Pluto says Mariner 4 photographs contain evidence of "canals" on Mars.

But Dr. Clyde W. Tombaugh says these and other "canals" observed by Telescope are cracks in the planet's surface and not the work of intelligent beings.

When space agency scientists released the Mariner 4 pictures after the spacecraft's historic flight past Mars last July, they said they could see no "canals." But Tombaugh, who sighted Pluto in 1930, notes that none of the Mariner scientists were planetary astronomers.

Early astronomers, in charts of Mars, drew the "canals" as straight lines running for hundreds of miles. They called the points where several canals intersected "oases."

Tombaugh, in a report to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science annual meeting, said the markings would not appear as straight lines on close observation. Sometimes they appear to be irregular patches even when viewed through a telescope.

Some scientists have claimed the "canals" to be an optical illusion. But Tombaugh, who has been observing Mars for 35 years, said he has seen them through a five-inch telescope, although only fleetingly. The earth's shimmering, distorting atmosphere seldom allows a clear view of Mars.

The New Mexico State University astronomer identified what he believes are portions of "canals" by superimposing Mariner pictures on a map of Mars and by sifting thousands of telescopic photographs of the same area.

If Tombaugh's plotting is correct, the Martian strip photographed by Mariner 4 is located a few hundred miles to the east of the spot originally estimated by the space agency.

He found that most features that appear in Mariner pictures coincide with previously plotted features.

For instance, one Mariner picture showed a crater 100 miles across. Tombaugh said its position coincides with an "oasis" drawn in that approximate area by an early observer of Mars.

In another picture, alignment of dark patches "crudely coincides with the juncture of three canals," the scientist said.

The red planet's cratered look was no surprise to Tombaugh. He predicted in a scientific journal 15 years ago that Mars would look like the moon. He still thinks, however, that some kind of vegetation, perhaps lichens, is the only plausible explanation for observed seasonal color changes on Mars.

Final Subcommittee Report Due On Otepka Next Month

By EDWARD J. MOWERY
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—In late February, the Senate internal security subcommittee will issue its final report on the longest and most acrimonious series of hearings in its history.

The subject is Otto F. Otepka, the State Department's top-level security officer, ordered dismissed in 1963 for assertedly supplying "classified" information to an "outsider" — the Senate judiciary subcommittee.

Consuming 69 sessions and millions of words, the case featured a parade of nearly 50 witnesses, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The hearings have ended.

Under State Department fire was Otepka's "institutional loyalty," stemming from his disclosures to Julien G. Sourwine, subcommittee chief counsel.

In all, the Senate group will have issued from 30 to 35 volumes of testimony on State Department security by early spring. Half of the reports will deal with the Otepka case. All will unlock the "secrecy" door on testimony given in executive session.

Knifing through mounds of verbiage in the charges against Otepka, a 27-year veteran in government service, the issue boils down to this:

Is reprisal the reward for a federal employee who testifies—with his agency's permission—before a congressional committee which ordered his appearance? Do his disclosures obliquely violate the 1948 presidential directive which barred "classified" data to "unauthorized" persons?

Is a Senate committee, under Congressional mandate to root out security risks in government, "unauthorized" to receive so-called "classified" information pertinent to its inquiry?

Otepka, who received persona non-grata treatment after his testimony, has been awaiting a hearing on his appeal from the ouster since Oct. 14, 1963. He has been demoted, humiliated and harassed.

His State Department hearing isn't expected until the committee issues its last prined repor. Rusk has said that State's decision on Otepka will be reviewed by the president.

It's interesting to note that Sourwine appears in the State Department's charges against Otepka as a quasi-defendant—the recipient of "classified" information dealing with Otepka's security evaluations of State Department personnel.

Sourwine, the stocky 57-year-old chief counsel and jealous guardian of the committee's mandated rights, seemingly isn't perturbed by the incident.

A native of Reno whose grandfather sat on the Nevada Supreme Court, Sourwine is widely known as an expert on constitutional law and an astute interrogator. A former newspaperman and correspondent for scores of papers, he has been a lawyer for 30 years and subcommittee chief counsel since 1955. His legal legislative service dates from 1943.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Bertucci's Services Set

Funeral for Mrs. Margaret Louise Bertucci of 641 Plum Street, Novato, who was found dead Wednesday, will be at 1 p.m. Monday at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home ni Novato.

A native of Texas, Mrs. Bertucci had lived in Marin County for the past 21 years. She was 37 years old.

She is survived by her husband, Charles, of the home; two daughters, Judy Bertucci of the home, and Mrs. John Whitney of Petaluma; a son, A/3C Robert Bertucci of Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.; her mother, Mrs. L. B. Rachels of Olivehurst, Sacramento County, and a brother, James Hughes of Olivehurst.

Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Stolen Goods Hearing Set

Preliminary hearing for Charles James Stephens, 20, charged with possession of goods stolen from a Forest Knolls home reportedly burgled several times in the past two years, was scheduled in Marin Municipal Court today for Jan. 25.

Stephens, of Railroad Avenue, Woodacre, allegedly had items taken in the Dec. 4 burglary of the home of Peter R. Hansen. Sheriff's officers said $486 worth of household articles and liquor were taken. Part of this loot was found in a clothes hamper in Stephen's home, they added.

Mrs. Hansen said yesterday her home has been burglarized nine times within the past two years.

Stephens is free on his own recognizance.

Commute Train Kills Teen-Ager

BELMONT (AP) — A schoolboy running to meet friends dashed in front of a San Franciso-bound express commuter train this morning and was killed instantly.

Police said the boy, Gregory Oliver, 16, Belmont, had been talking to buddies on the west side of the Southern Pacific track when he spotted a friend in a automobile on the track's other side.

Apparently the youth, a sophomore at Carlmont High School in Belmont, decided to hitch a ride.

He made his dash and the train ran over him.

Fanfani Tells Why He Quit Cabinet

ROME (AP)—Amintore Fanfani told Parliament today he resigned as Italy's foreign minister to prove his sincerity in transmitting to Washington a later-disavowed Hanoi peace feeler.

Fanfani, U.N. Assembly president, said that only by quitting as foreign minister could he demonstrate that he did not share the anti-American and pro-Communist statements attributed to his friend Prof. Giorgio La Pira, former mayor of Florence.

Charles and Anne Lindbergh in 1933 blazed a northern aerial trail across the Atlantic via Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, Labrador, Greenland and Iceland. Their flight pioneered the great circle route as the shortest distance to Europe.

Ross Council Agrees To Boulevard Design

The Ross Town Council last night agreed to go ahead with design work for widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the San Anselmo line past the intersection with Bolinas and Winship avenues, after considerable urging by the town engineer.

Councilmen were doubtful of the possibility of getting $9,000 in county urban thoroughfare funds which were allocated originally to San Anselmo and Fairfax. And one councilman questioned whether Ross residents want the road widened, anyhow.

A request from Ross that San Anselmo release the money from its share of urban thoroughfare funds, which are allocated by the county from its gasoline tax money, was rebuffed by the San Anselmo City Council last month.

"If we're going to try to get this money, couldn't we have the county contact San Anselmo?" asked Ross Councilman William P. McAndrew last night. "I don't want to have to be subjected to that kind of abuse again."

Town Engineer Philip Lygren argued that the county urban thoroughfare committee will release the money to Ross because neither San Anselmo nor Fairfax will be able to use it this year. Both have unused surpluses in the fund, he said.

San Anselmo is preparing to widen Drake Boulevard to four lanes from Tunstead Avenue to the Ross line. When that happens, said Lygren, "the traffic coming from the west will likely turn off at Shady Lane to avoid the Ross bottleneck." This would put additional traffic through Ross residential streets.

McAndrew expressed doubt this would happen.

"I wonder whether the majority of the townspeople are in favor of this idea," said Councilman Natalie G. Lewis. "I know I'm against it."

Lygren, pointing out that Ross has budgeted $49,500 toward the project—$9,000 short of half of the estimated cost—urged that the council apply to the state for gasoline tax money for the other half, available under a state program. He urged also that an engineer be hired to design the project at the same time as the San Anselmo end is designed.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen, however, said Ross first should ask San Anselmo and Fairfax whether they will make the $9,000 available from their share of urban thoroughfare funds.

"If they don't, we know we're finished right there," he said.

Finally, however, the council voted unanimously to negotiate for design of the project and apply to the state for funds, as urged by Lygren—and to write San Anselmo and Fairfax, as suggested by the mayor.

The Ross Town Council Also:

1. Adopted an ordinance establishing a slope policy for the town corresponding to those of Marin County and San Anselmo.
2. Adopted an ordinance expanding the title of town building inspector to include plumbing officer, and a resolution making him also electrical inspector.
3. Introduced and adopted an emergency ordinance prohibiting parking on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between the driveways of lots 88 and 94.
4. Accepted a health and disability insurance policy for town employees, with the town to pay the full cost "in lieu of raises in the near future."
5. Appointed Dr. Arnold Nutting as town health officer for matters not handled by the chief of police or the county health department.
6. Voted to have the mayor appoint a board of appeals for the building inspection department at the next meeting.
7. Decided to call a special meeting for discussion of a master plan outlining future activities and development of the Marin Art and Garden Center. No date was set.
8. Voted thanks to Van Logen and Webb Otis for assistance given the council in supervising the Ross Common project.
9. Awarded Marin Chrysler-Plymouth Inc. a contract for a new Plymouth police car at $2,358.

Volunteer Fire Leader Installed

James Vice was installed last night as president of the Mill Valley Assn. of Volunteer Firemen at dinner ceremonies at the municipal golf clubhouse. He will serve one year.

Vice succeeds Robert Hackney, who was presented a key to the Playboy Club, San Francisco, by the volunteers.

Student Destroys Data Punch Card

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — Protesting what he termed "mass culture," a Stetson University junior mutilated, stapled, then burned his data processing card.

Angel Castillo of Miami told 100 students who gathered at an outdoor demonstration Wednesday night that increasing use of data cards could reduce members of the student body to numbers rather than names.

Castillo's card admitted him to a 600-student lecture.

Demo Senator To Be Marin Guest

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., will be in Marin tonight to meet the public over coffee and drinks.

The senator will appear at a fund-raising gathering at the home of Leigh Athearn, 146 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, about 9:30 p.m.

Nancy Swadesh, member of the First Congressional District Committee, said the proceeds will go to the First Congressional District campaign.

Robert D. Carrow, chairman of the Marin Democratic Central Committee, will introduce Senator McCarthy.

McCarthy introduced Adlai Stevenson at the 1960 Democratic national convention and was himself mentioned for the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1964.

Mt. Vesuvius erupted in 79 A.D. and buried an estimated 20,000 residents of Pompeii under hot ash.

Sanitary Areas Combine Asked

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer of Mill Valley, today urged the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to consider ways of combining functions of the four sanitary districts which use the city of Mill Valley's treatment plant.

Such action would result in lower operation cost and lower tax rates, he said.

Balmer suggested three possibilities to combine the four districts' functions:

1. Merger into one district which would have one elected board and one contract with the city of Mill Valley.

2. The four districts could contract with Mill Valley to operate their systems, with the function of their boards reduced to adopting a budget and levying necessary taxes.

3. The districts could dissolve their respective boards and allow the city to become the governing body.

"Any of the above solutions would be preferable to the situation which now exists," said Balmer.

Almonte, Homestead and Alto sanitary districts each has its own boards. Kay Park Sanitary District is operated by the county. Mill Valley is currently negotiating with all for changes in contracts.

Mill Valley's sewer tax rate is 16 and one-half cents. Other tax rates are: Homestead, 31 cents; Almonte, 25 cents; Alto, 45 cents, and Kay Park, 49 cents.

"I think you would agree that the problems and needs of urban living have become too complicated to be solved at the level of small districts," said Balmer in a letter to John F. Barrows, local agency formation executive, proposing the changes.

Corte Maderans Seeking Cleanup

Two members of the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission met informally with five citizens last night to begin planning a town beautification drive.

Commission Chairman Robert W. Riboli said he, Commissioner Charles Garrison and the residents decided the drive should coincide with Corte Madera's 50th anniversary celebration in June.

"We want to have the town all cleaned up by June 10," he said.

Riboli said they talked only in general terms about problem areas in town and spent most of the time composing a letter to service groups, asking them to a meeting set tentatively for Feb. 16 at 8 p.m. in Granada School.

Power Blackout

BERKELEY (AP) — A power line failure blacked out electric service for about 2,000 homes and businesses at 6:11 a.m. today in Albany and West Berkeley.

Gate Bridge Traffic Tops All Records

Traffic over the Golden Gate Bridge in 1965 hit an all-time high of more than 26 million vehicles, Mgr. James Adam of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District reported today.

He told bridge directors the 1965 traffic was 1,240,000 more than in 1964. The increase in traffic was 5 per cent over 1964 and 64 per cent over the 10-year period since 1956. In 1956 vehicles totaled 15,403,850, last year, 26,001,203.

The directors voted to call for bids on a $10,000 alteration of the Roundhouse Restaurant on the east side of the Toll Plaza. Adam said new covering is needed in the booths and on chairs and the soda fountain area needs renovation.

Director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco voted against the renovation. He said, "I thought we were going to look into a full-scale first class restaurant." He said the repairs would be "just sticking another prop under a very tired horse."

Radiation-Proof Studio Is Built

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—Radio station WBRK here has completed a radiation-proof broadcasting studio. It's built like a cocoon of concrete, with an eight-foot-high room inside, 12 feet square.

The roof is a 10-inch slab of concrete covered by four feet of earth. Underground lines connect the studio with its network and local police, fire and civil defense.

TRIO BEFOGGED

Bay Dinner Date Just Floats Away

A man and two women returning by boat from dinner Wednesday in Sausalito, were lost in the fog, ran out of gas and finally ended up early today in Monterey. They had been headed for Redwood City.

Michael Vogelgesang, 29, a flight engineer, and Judy Vroom, 20, and Pamela Warren, 23, both airline stewardesses, all from Burlingame, were trying out a new 18-foot speedboat for its maiden voyage.

They left Redwood City Yacht Harbor with 15 gallons of gasoline. The boat has a 150-horsepower motor and is capable of about 40 knots.

After eating and strolling in Sausalito, the trio started back, but the craft ran out of gas in mid-channel as the tide was running out the Golden Gate. The boat was swept into the Pacific Ocean and drifted in the fog.

About 1 a.m. yesterday, the Coast Guard started a search of the bay, at first confining operations to the southern part of the bay, then extending north to San Pablo Bay. Harbor checks were made as far north as Sacramento.

All that time the boat was not even in the bay. The search was stopped at dusk. At 10:30 p.m. a fishing boat captained by Joe Fernandez of Monterey found the boat adrift, and towed it into Monterey Harbor.

Deadly Rainstorm Leaves At Least 333 Known Dead

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—The summer rain storm which has soaked Rio for four days moved out to sea today.

By midday, 333 bodies had been recovered from rain-triggered landslides in the city and its suburbs. Rio, with 190 known victims, was hardest hit. In Petropolis, there were 70 bodies waiting for burial, 36 in Niteroi, 20 in Itagai, 16 in Sao Goncalvo, and 1 in Campos.

There were reports of further mud avalanches as the rains ended in mid-morning.

Police said casualties among the hundreds of persons still reported missing could raise the death toll sharply. An estimated 30,000 persons were left homeless by the storm.

Missing Beagles Just Too Hard To Replace

A San Rafael woman offered to give him a poodle pup, but croppled Frank S. Smith III, 53, of Stinson Beach, said yesterday that it wouldn't be the same as having his pet beagles back.

Smith, who lives with his 73-year-old mother at Panoramic and Shoreline Highways, is a victim of cerebral palsy. His dogs dashed out of the house Jan. 5 and haven't been seen since.

Novato Fire Official Will Ask Reelection

Peter J. Ferrarese, chairman of the board of the Novato Fire District, today announced that he would seek re-election in April.

Ferrarese, who has served on the fire district board since November, 1955, is a native of Marin County. He attended San Rafael High School and College of Marin and is a graduate of the Pacific Coast Banking School at University of Washington in Seattle.

He worked for the Bank of America for five years prior to going to work with the First National Bank in Novato. It is now Crocker-Citizens Bank, where he is branch manager.

He has served on the Novato School District board and as a director of the Redwood Empire Assn.

He and his wife Margaret have three children, Peter, Paul and Patty. They live at 10 Los Alondros Court, Novato.

"I believe in keeping the fire equipment in the district up to the growth of the district," said Ferrarese. The district recently received a lower fire insurance rating.

Weather Observer

Jose Silva of Bolinas has been designated as an official weather observer for the Army Corps of Engineers. Silva, who lives on Overlook Drive, said he was setting up his rain gauge today.

Inverness Improvers Face Eviction In Rent Squabble

The Inverness Improvement Assn. has no place to meet.

For years, the association has met each month at the Inverness Firehouse, which is owned by the Inverness Public Utility District. But district directors took away the key when the association refused to pay $10 per month rent.

The squabble started when utility district directors accused the association board of leaving a wall heater turned on and a window open after a meeting. The district then asked for rent, which it had never charged before.

Director Jack Mason reported to the association last Friday—at what may well be its last meeting in the firehouse—that he met with district directors to try to get the rent reduced to $5, but without success.

Association members said $10 is too much.

Directors are looking for someplace else to meet.

Witness Is Mute On Klan Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A witness at a Ku Klux Klan hearing was questioned today about the dynamite bombing of the newspaper offices of a Pulitzer Prize-winning woman editor.

The witness, James Nolan Fortenberry, 33, declined to anser questions about the incident as the House Committee on Un-American Activities continued its probe of Mississippi Klan activities.

Committee investigator Donald T. Appell asked Fortenberry about the incident. He said a stick of dynamite was tossed into the offices of the Northside Reporter in Jackson, Miss., Aug. 27, 1964. Fortenberry refused to answer.

The explosion caused an estimated $1.000 damage. No one was injured.

The Reporter was one of four weekly newspapers edited by Mrs. Hazel Brannon Smith, who was in Atlantic City, N. J., for the Democratic National Convention at the time of the explosion.

She had received the Pulitzer Prize in May 1964 for her editorial writing. She has called for moderation and reason in facing up to social changes in Mississippi.

Fortenberry said he worked as a city construction inspector in Jackson, Miss., until 1964 and now works for a private construction company.

Like other Mississippi witnesses, Fortenberry said he was unable to turn over Klan records to the committee because he did not have any. He pleaded the Fifth Amendment and other constitutional privileges in refusing to answer all questions about Klan activities.

Schemes of violence and money were the prime targets of committee questioning yesterday including a suggestion that klansmen bomb the train carrying Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on a campaign swing through the South in 1964.

An investigator said this idea, attributed to Louis Di Salvo, a Waveland, Miss., barber, and a proposal to set up a firing squad to eliminate Klan informers were too scary even for klansmen.

Di Salvo, 38, a New Orleans native, invoked the protection of the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination when asked if he sponsored the schemes.

Collision On Snowy Road Kills Five

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (UPI)—A California car moved to pass a truck kicking up a blinding cloud of powder snow and collided head-on with a West Yellowstone car, killing five persons and critically injuring another.

Killed in the crash yesterday were William Orluck, 65; his son, Mark, 37, and their wives, Mary, 61, and Elgie, 32, all of Hayward, and Frank Conner, 43, West Yellowstone.

Critically injured and hospitalized in Idaho was Conner's wife, Marjorie, 36. Gary Orluck, 3, the younger couple's son, and Mrs. Conner's son, Mark, 15, were reported less seriously hurt.

Although the road was "extremely slippery," Highway Patrolman Al Miller said the accident probably would have occurred on a dry roadway. Both drivers apparently were blinded by the flying powder snow.

The accident was on U.S. 191 west of Yellowstone National Park and in Montana.

The collision apparently occurred in the Conner traffic lane. The Orluck car, driven by Mark Orluck, apparently was passing the truck when the autos collided, Miller said.

The Orlucks were bound for the funeral of the younger Mrs. Orluck's father in Minot, N.D.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Name Of Bacillary Dysentery Changed But Effect Is Same

VAN DELLEN

Most adults recognize bacillary dysentary as a serious bowel disorder. It was a ravager of armies for centuries and continues to be a problem in this country and abroad. The name of the causative organism was changed to Shigella (Sh.); the four types are called after their discovers. The Sh. flexneri type, for example, is named for the late Dr. Simon Flexner, a famous bacteriologist at the turn of the century.

The Sh. sonnei type is one of the most prevalent infectious diseases in England and Wales. They refer to the condition as Sonne disentery, and an average of 30,000 cases are reported annually.

Authorities believe that this is only a fraction of those involved because most cases are not recognized. Bacillary dysentery usually is transmitted via contaminated food and water, and food-borne outbreaks are now rare in that country.

The disease is spread mainly by contact with those suffering an accute diarrheal attack. Youngsters probably are the main spreaders of the malady. This is why Sonne dysentery is a common problem in nurseries and schools. When introduced into the home it spreads rapidly to other family members.

Outbreaks of dysentery are not easily controled. We lack an efficient vaccine even though good remedies are available.

The best prophylaxis is keeping the hands clean and paying strict attention to good hygiene in the lavatory.

The main problem is that many are not sick enough to be concerned about spreading the disease.

In addition, the causative Shigella bacilli are expelled in the stool for weeks after diarrhea subsides. Some persons become carriers. The problem is 10 times as great when the individual is a food handler.

Bacillary dysentery is best treated with certain sulfonamides and streptomycin. Rest is important along with intake of fluids to combat dehydration and acidosis. Barley or rice water, gruels, poached eggs, custard, weak fruit juices, and toast should be eaten until diarrhea subsides.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

JITTERY LEGS

J. R. writes: During his sleep, my husband's arms and legs jerk quite violently at times, which wakes him up. What causes this?

REPLY

These movements may stem from the release of emotional tension, in which the individual acts out a dream. Another factor is myoclonic jerking, a spontaneous stimulation of muscles that occurs during relaxation.

WELL ROUNDED

Mrs. T. W. writes: When a doctor suggests a balanced diet does he mean an equal amount of protein, roughage, and starchy foods?

REPLY

No. He means a diet that will supply all the needs of the body. Menus of this kind contain the right combination of the different food elements: carbohydrates, fats, proteins, minerals, and vitamins.

SCHOOL REDISTRICT STILL DEADLOCKED

Tam-Tomales Votes Mean State Gains Say Over Long-Standing Marin County Issue

By FRANK FARRARA

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization started out with 14 unification proposals last night, but failed to recommend any of them.

Committee members debated only one proposal, a two-part plan affecting both Tamalpais and Tomales high school districts, voted on only four and rejected them all.

The outcome seemed inevitable when the only apparent contender was defeated by a 6-5 vote.

This was a proposal to unify the Tamalpais and Redwood High School attendance areas, less the Bolinas-Stinson Beach School District. It was linked to a second proposal to unify the Tomales High School District with the Drake High School attendance area and the Bolinas-Stinson School District.

After the "first half" of the proposal was defeated and two other proposals went down to defeat, chairman Rachel Conner made a last-ditch effort to break the deadlock.

She asked members to vote on the "second half" proposal, the Tomales half. It, too, was defeated 6-5.

Since the committe failed to come up with a new recommendation for the Tomales High School District area, it lost jurisdiction of unification in that area of the state, Mrs. Conner reported.

David D. Ring, who proposed the unification of the Tamalpais and Redwood High School attendance areas, described the plan as a compromise he felt the state might approve.

The state has approved overall unification of the Tamalpais High School District area, but has rejected a three-way division which would unify the Redwood, Tamalpais and Drake High School attendance areas separately. The voters turned down the Tamalpais High School District unification.

After Ring's motion, Mrs. Conner opened the meeting for comments from the audience, though it was not a scheduled public hearing.

Mrs. Doris Harnsberger of the San Anselmo School District Board noted that the "recommendations were confused" at the public hearing Jan. 5.

Mrs. Harnsberger said Drake High School "would suffer if it were cut away from the opportunities and potential a large district (Tamalpais High School District) offers."

J. R. B. Ellis of the Kentfield School District Board said he was disturbed about having the mechanics of unification "dictated from Sacramento where they have the least idea of the problems of educating children."

Mrs. Alyce Thompson of the Bolinas-Stinson School District Board objected to placing Bolinas-Stinson with Drake and Tomales, as did James R. Hassall Jr., a teacher at Bolinas School.

Mrs. Jean E. Adams of Inverness and committee member Roy Parks of Tomales, both members of the Tomales High School District Board, said most of the district residents prefer unification with Petaluma.

posal to link Drake High to Tomales as "a step from" the overall Tomales proposal and the three-day Tamalpais unification proposal, both of which have been rejected by the state.

Then came the vote on unification of the Tamalpais and Redwood High School attendance areas excluding Bolinas-Stinson.

Voting in favor were Mrs. Dorothy Brown, Floyd D. Fisher, Dr. John Hamren, Ring, and Mrs. Conner. Voting against were Jack L. Mengel, Mrs. Binckley, Mrs. Larsen, Parks, Dr. Walter Way and Galen H. Williams Jr.

At this point Ring said, "I see we might as well pack up and go home."

Mengel then proposed unification of the Tamalpais High School District area plus Point Reyes and West Marin elementary school districts. This was defeated 8-3 without discussion. Mengel, Binckley and Larsen voted for it.

Parks then moved that the Tomales High School District area be unified with the Petaluma High School District area. This also was defeated 8-3. Parks, Fisher and Williams voted for it.

Then Mrs. Conner asked the committee to consider the "second half" of the Redwood-Tamalpais unification proposal, which failed earlier.

This proposal's 6-5 defeat involved two vote switches. Fisher who had voted yes on the "first half," voted "no" on the "second half," and Parks, who voted "no" earlier, voted "yes" on the "second half." Other votes remained unchanged.

Mrs. Conner said that the committee's recommendation for overall unification of the Tomales High School District area and its recommendation for separate unification of the Redwood, Tamalpais and Drake high school attendance areas will be before the State Board of Education Feb. 10 or 11 in San Francisco.

Mrs. Conner announced the committee has cancelled its regularly scheduled meeting on Jan. 19, and will next meet Feb. 16 at the Civic Center.

Indecent Exposure Charge Is Lodged

Derward M. Cranfill, 24, of 72 Kensington Road, San Anselmo, was arrested on a charge in indecent exposure by San Anselmo police yesterday. After two girls, aged 6 and 8, pointed him out as the man who exposed himself to them the day before at Kensington and Ross avenues.

Police said Cranfill lived in a trailer in a lot behind the First Presbyterian Church, where he worked as custodian.

Rights Group Defies Court In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—About 20 shouting young Negroes defied a federal court order today and marched into Ullman High School to recruit students for demonstrations.

Two of the invaders were arrested on disorderly conduct charges, a police spokesman said.

Only about 10 students joined the ranks of the demonstrators.

The chanting and shouting group obeyed police orders to leave the school, regrouped outside, and then set out to enlist more recruits.

Yesterday police used billy clubs to disperse about 450 Negro marchers who turned the downtown sections of Birmingham and suburban Bessemer into nerve-rending traffic jams of screaming, milling demonstrators and angry, horn-blowing motorists.

At least three demonstrators suffered slight injuries and several others claimed to have been struck by officers. Also during the melees about 13 miles apart, a policeman fainted, another got his hand cut and a woman collapsed.

Three civil rights workers were arrested in Bessemer and one in Birmingham.

Later, a three-judge federal court issued an injunction prohibiting demonstrators in Jefferson County from "obstructing the public streets in any manner so as to prevent or delay the orderly flow of traffic."

Police Kill Deer

Police shot a deer in Mill Valley last night after it reportedly had been attacked and badly injured by a pack of dogs at 49 Cornelia Avenue. The deer was taken to the corporation yard by Ross J. Benson, superintendent of public works.

Super Atom Smasher Plan May Be Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission may scrap its plan to build a $348-million atom smasher.

A source outside the commission said yesterday that three alternative proposals are under consideration.

He said each would be cheaper, and each would be for a machine of lesser intensity than the proposed 200-billion electron volt (BEV) accelerator which would be used for basic research.

Some 85 communities in 43 states have been scrambling to win the $348 million project for their area.

Rep. Criag Hosmer R-Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Committee, was told of the report.

"To me, it looks like possibly the beginning of the end for the 200-BEV, $348-billion machine," he said. "When you start talking about alternatives it adds up to that."

The source said the AEC has scheduled a late January meeting to get the views of some of the nation's leading high-energy physicists.

He described the alternatives as:

A suggestion by Prof. S. Devons, chairman of Columbia University's Department of Physics, that the AEC's existing 33-billion electron volt atom smashers at Brookhaven National Laboratory, Long Island, N.Y., be scaled up to the 120-150 BEV range. This could cost about $150 million.

A suggestion from the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California that the existing 200 BEV plan be scaled down to a lower intensity. This would cost about $260 million.

—A suggestion by Prof. R. R. Wilson of Cornell that a 150-million machine of lower intensity be built with provisions to increase its intensity over a period of years.

Selection of either of the latter two proposals still would require the AEC to choose a site.

St. Columba's Parish Annual Dinner Slated

Annual parish dinner of St. Columba's Episcopal Church of Inverness will be at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the church's Frick Hall.

Following the dinner, two members of the bishop's committee, two delegates to the diocesan convention, and delegates to the Marin deanery will be elected.

Rare Jade, Safe Taken In Home

Expensive pieces of jade and a small safe were stolen in burglary of the home of Arne E. Ingels, 3825 Paradise Drive, Paradise Cove, sheriff's officers reported today.

Ingels told deputies he returned home from work to find the 20 by 20-inch safe containing papers but no money, missing from his bedroom.

Taken from the living room, officers said, were two jade goldfish valued at $200 total, and silver pieces worth $300. No forced entry was evident, deputies said.

After 43 Years, Sausalito Police Changing Address

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito's cramped and divided police station, located 43 years in a portion of the City Hall at 727 Bridgeway, will move to new quarters at Caledonia and Johnson streets, starting tomorrow.

The new office is on the main floor of the former antique store, Heritage House, being leased at $200 per month from Mrs. Marie Silva of San Rafael and her daughter, Mrs. Amelia Boone of Mendocino County.

"We will have about five times as much space in the new location, said Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck.

The new office will contain a complaint-communications desk, watch commander's office, squad room, detective bureau, booking desk and chief's office. It will have a temporary holding facility for prisoners, interrogation room and storage areas, said Chief Huck.

Parking, now difficult in busy downtown Sausalito, will be provided for citizens in front of the station, which is across Caledonia Street from the main fire station.

Huck said heavy equipment will be moved tomorrow and the communications system on Monday, with assistance of the public works department. Besides the Chief, manning the office on the three shifts will be 13 officers, three clerk - dispatchers, and two cadets.

The City Hall was acquired in 1923, the building having formerly been the Bank of Sausalito. Jack Hannon was town marshal then, according to former Fire Chief Matthew J Perry.

An addition was built at the rear of the building for the police station, and offices for the two officers were built in front. Sandwiched between was the police court, now the city council chambers.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, who was a policeman and later chief in the '50s, recalled how an officer would site a man while on patrol, point out the direction of the police station, then hurry back to it himself, turn on the lights in the police court and wait for the man to come in.

"You look familiar," the arrested man would often remark; and the officer would reply, "I'm the fellow who gave you the ticket." The officer would post bail and the judge would take up the case in the morning, said Mountanos.

The police court was eliminated in 1953 when the statewide municipal court system came into being.

There were five steel cells with five bunks, and a young officer did a great many fundamental things, even to going out for a sandwich and coffee to bring the prisoners, said Mountanos.

Gone from the new station will be the light outside the door and the noisy bell which signalled the man on foot patrol that the telephone was ringing.

Gone will be the "dungeon" under the council chamber where police stored such things as stolen bikes.

And gone will be the frequent episode, breaking into the serious city council agenda, when a patrolman leads a weaving citizen down the aisle of the chambers toward the station to book him for drunkenness.

SPEAKER—Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, president of Planned Parenthood-World Population, will be guest speaker Monday at 12:15 p.m. at a uncheon meeting of the Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael. Guttmacher will tell the purpose and need of local planned parenthood associations in limiting world population.

Border Traffic Up

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Traffic passing California's 17 border quarantine stations during December was up 12.5 per cent over that month a year ago.

During the month 608,917 automobiles, 39,548 trucks and 4,534 buses passed the border for a total of 652,999. This compared to 580,382 a year ago.

Sanitarian Declares Need For Los Ranchitos Sewer

Directors of Las Gallinas Sanitary District last night heard county sanitarian William A. Desmond declare that the Los Ranchitos area must soon be sewered.

Desmond said he has been investigating the situation since the application of T. W. Schlich of 135 Ranchitos Road for sewer service from Las Gallinas.

Mrs. Helen Foulkes, recording secretary for the district, said it would be extremely expensive to run a line to the Schlich home. Los Ranchitos is not part of the district.

Desmond told directors he will meet with property owners and hopes to have a report next month. The Schlichs, meanwhile, have withdrawn their application and will try to solve their septic tank problem until some action is taken for the entire area, Mrs. Foulkes said.

There are about 100 homes, all on septic tanks, in Los Ranchitos. The area borders the sanitary district.

Las Gallinas Sanitary District directors also:

1. Decided not to consolidate their election with the June 7 primary. The district election will be Sept. 13. The terms of Arthur B. Carpenter, Fred J. Mahr Jr. and Annie M. Reagan expire at that time.

2. Authorized six-month extension for Draper Co. to install an interceptor to serve a new Richfield gas station at Northgate Shopping Center, and allowed occupancy of the station with a temporary holding tank for sewage.

3. Requested approval of the Marin County Local Agency Formation commission to annex the Auréguy parcel on the east side of the Terra Linda overpass.

4. Hired Mitton Wixson of Novato as maintenance man at $500 to fill a new position.

5. Agreed to cooperate with the city of San Rafael's stand that no new building permit will be issued until sewer connection permits are assured.

6. Learned from contractor Kirkwood-Bly Co. of Santa Rosa that another bank cave-in yesterday will further postpone connection of Gallinas Village to the Las Gallinas system. Completion was originally expected Nov. 15.

7. Adjourned until Jan. 26 to accept completion papers on a year-long system expansion project.

Doctor Robinson Ready For Surgery

Dr. Louis Luster Robinson of 116 Locust Avenue, San Rafael, entered Marin General Hospital today for surgery.

He is expected to be in the hospital several days, followed by several weeks convalescence at home, his wife reported. He is under care of Doctors William R. Smart and Donald Barbour.

Air Force Assn. Installs Officers In Novato Rites

Lt. Col. (ret.) Noel Turner was installed as president of the Novato chapter of the Air Force Assn. last night at the officers' club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Andrew Bretz and Irving Chapman Jr., were installed as vice presidents, and Jack Kinney as secretary-treasurer.

Jack Withers, state president of the Air Force Assn., described a plane of the future, called a "scramjet," which would be powered by jets taking hold at supersonic speeds and utilize centrifugal force to increase its speed to 17,000 miles per hour.

He said such a plane, the size of a B-52, could orbit the earth in 80 minutes. Unlike a rocket, it could return to earth, landing in conventional fashion.

"This fantastic aerospace plane will in turn become the Model T of its time," Withers predicted.

Island Children Learning Crafts

VINA HAVEN, Maine (UPI)— The youngsters who help dad by carving initials on lobster pots have begun getting a little fancier art education on this island off the Maine coast.

A plumber who on the side is a photographer, a lobsterman who is a sculptor, and a housewife teamed up to start a volunteer arts and crafts school.

Fifty boys and girls are learning how to model baby seals, whittle carvings of Maine seagulls, and sketch the waterfront that has made Vinalhaven one of Maine's most famous resorts.

Viet Nam War's Drama Has Widely Varied Cast

COMBAT SPECTATORS — While an American paratrooper, grenade launcher ready, grimly scans for a Viet Cong sniper, two South Vietnamese mothers and their children hide from the sniper fire in waist-deep water in the Bao Trai area 20 miles west of Saigon. Jan. 1 was the opening of large-scale sweeps of the area, previously a Red stronghold.

THE GENERAL'S THERE — Lt. Gen. John A. Heintges, chief of staff of the Military Assistance Command in Viet Nam checks on a wounded paratrooper during the first allied invasion of the Viet Cong-riddled Mekong Delta west of Saigon, in a battle that began on New Year's Day.

DAILY Independent-Journal Est. 1861
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Friday, Jan. 14, 1966 10

ALWAYS, THE CHILDREN — Paratrooper Sgt. Frederick C. Faucett holds and reassures a South Vietnamese youngster he rescued from a well at Duc Lap Jan. 5, after the girl became panicky at the rumble of approaching U.S.armor and dived into the pit. Fawcett leaped from his vehicle, jumped in after her and held her safe until his fellows could lower a rope harness. The child's mother is Mrs. Ly Thi Lanh (right). Another recipient of warmth is the child with whom Marine Gunner Sgt. Walter F. Childs Jr. shares a can of ginger ale during a lull in the fighting (right photo).

UNFAMILIAR TASK — After a hard day in the jungle, there's still the laundry to do, grimaces Marine Lance Cpl. Russell Wing. But not many homemakers have such an unusual way of keeping clothespins handy.

FOOT-SLOGGING WAR — Heavy-burdened with weapons, paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade take to the muddy grounds of the Mekong Delta (left) in an assault launched New Year's Day. During the advance, some were killed by misplaced fire from their allies' artillery. Then, encountering sniper fire from a distant line of trees, paratroopers lay down a light-weapons barrage as they advance (above).

SOLDIER'S PET — Paratroopers Sp/4 Charles Rector chats with mascot "Pfc Bufford L. Monk" at Bien Hoa. The monkey doesn't go on operations, but is a qualified jumper, Rector says, and he's thinking of promoting his pet to the same rank he holds.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Your Social Security Is Up, But So Are The Benefits Due

Your social security tax went up to 4.2 per cent of the first $6,600 you earn in 1966. This means you will pay $277.20 instead of $174 an increase of $103.20. Your employer also pays the same for you.

P. J. Wikel

What do you get for this?

You get a broad program of health insurance called "medicare" for people 65 or older. This is important if you are now working as you will have this protection in later years. If you are already 65, or will reach that age soon, you will want these health insurance programs when they start in July 1966.

There are two kinds of health insurance:

1. Hospital insurance — to help you pay the bills when you are hospitalized. The program also provides payments for skilled nursing care and other services in an extended care facility after hospitalization, outpatient hospital diagnostic services, and home health services. You and your employer pay for this out of your social security taxes.

2. Medical insurance — to help you pay the bills for doctor's services and for a number of other medical items and services not covered under the hospital insurance program.

The medical insurance program is voluntary. You can have this added protection at a low cost ($3 monthly).

How people 65 and over qualify: most people will not have to go to the social security office to qualify for protection under the hospital and medical insurance programs.

You will not need to go to your social security office if —

1. You are getting social security or railroad retirement benefits. You qualify automatically for hospital insurance and an application card for medical insurance benefits was mailed to you in September or October of 1965, with a leaflet explaining both of these programs.

2. You are receiving a federal civil service retirement annuity. You will get information and the necessary applications by mail. You will be told if it is necessary to go to the social security office later.

3. You are receiving public assistance payments. In most cases, the public assistance agency will assist you in applying for hospital insurance and will advise you about enrolling for medical insurance.

You should go to your social security office if you are not receiving any of the above payments and if —

A. You have worked under social security but have never applied for benefits.

B. You have never worked under social security.

Be sure to get in touch with your social security office before March 31, 1966.

Shop Features Artists' Work

The Spanish Door, a shop featuring handmade gifts created by artists and artisans in the Mill Valley area, has opened in Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Jean Marie Secchitano of Mill Valley operates the shop, which is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Miss Secchitano sews and makes necklaces from wool and leather. Other gifts include paintings, sculpture, batik clothing, candles, pin cushions and jewelry, she said.

EXPERIMENTAL CAR IS SHOWN

The AMX, a prototype of a design experiment by American Motors Corp., is being shown for the first time at the national convention of the Society of Automotive Engineers in Detroit this week. The two-door hardtop features a cantilever-type roof supported by inner structural members which also serve as a roll bar. It is 72 inches wide, 48 inches high and has a wheelbase of 98 inches.

Sardinia, 120 miles west of the Italian mainland, is losing its reputation as Italy's wild and woolly frontier. Marinas, villas and luxury hotels have transformed Sardinia's bleakly beautiful northeast shoreline into the "Emerald Coast."

Profit Taking Trims Market's Early Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit taking trimmed many gains in a turbulent stock market at the close today.

The list moved higher at the start but reached its peak in the first hour or so. Thereafter the general price level receded although many individual stocks showed great strength.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.3 million shares compared with 8.87 million Thursday.

The large volume occurred despite the fact that it was another abbreviated session, with the close at 2 p.m. EST — instead of the usual 3:30 0.m., a change initiated by the New York transit strike, now over.

Analysts called it an "emotional" market fed by inflation fears caused by a number of factors.

Here was the picture near the close:

Low-priced Chemway looked like the most active issue as it posted a fractional gain.

Xerox and Polaroid rose about 4 each. Du Pont more than 2.

Spurred by its sulphur price increase, Pan American Sulphur was active and up nearly 2. Texas Gulf Sulphur advanced more than 2.

Most steels were slightly lower, but Crucible held a small gain in heavy trading. Big Three motors were all narrowly higher.

Anken Chemical and Boeing were off about 2 apiece on profit taking. Aerospace issues and electronics were generally higher but most gains were moderate. An exception was Fairchild Camera, up 3.

General Electric, Kennecott and Storer Broadcasting were up about a point each.

Prices rose in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Od Town slipped more than 3 points. Gulf Sulphur rose nearly 3. Pneumodynamics and Lundy Electronics about 2 each.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds declined.

Savings-Loan Rates Made Competitive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government has moved to help savings and loan associations compete more evenly with banks for deposits.

Action was required after the Federal Reserve Board, in raising the discount rate, also told banks they could pay up to 5½ per cent interest on time deposits. The old maximum was 4½ per cent.

The Federal move threatened to bring about a big shift of funds from S-and-L's and other non-bank financial institutions to banks. But now the federal Home Loan Bank Board—overseer of federal S-and-L's has done two things to put associations back in the ball game:

Associations may now pay depositors up to 4½ per cent without incurring any penalty. The old maximum was 4¼ per cent.

They may now pay as high as 4¾ per cent for deposits of $1,000 or multiples of $1,000 that are left on deposit for at least a year.

In giving S-and-L's the right to pay a higher rate, the bank board cautioned them against being forced into unsound lending practices.

Nation's Fire Losses Grim For Last Year

BOSTON (AP) — The National Fire Protection Assn. says fire killed some 12,000 persons in the United States and destroyed property estimated at more than $1.7 billion last year.

The death toll was up about 100 over 1964 and close to the record of 12,100 in 1963. The property damage estimate was more than $100 million higher than in 1964.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Griddle Is Being Sold Again; Chinese New Year's Coming Up

Most recent restaurant sale in the county to come to light is that of the Griddle at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, which will change hands on Jan. 24.

New owners are John Limniatis and Zaharias Michopoulos of San Francisco, who are purchasing from Mr. and Mrs. Haddon Salt. The Salts have had it about 14 months. The transaction involved a listing by Harry Abras of William Timmer Realty and sale by Larry Klinefelter of Marin Town and Country Realty.

Limniatis is a former painter by trade, but Michopoulos has been in the restaurant business before, in Ohio.

For the time being the name is expected to remain the same. It may be changed after the new owners have a chance to get acquainted with the operation.

The Salts intend to to spend all their time on their fish and chips ventures. They'll keep the Griddle open until the transfer, then Mrs. Salt will manage the fish and chips shop in Sausalito, while husband Haddon sets up another one in Berkeley. Their objective is to establish a number of franchised shops in various locations throughout the Bay Area and perhaps even more extensively.

THE CHINESE observe their New Year's festivities a little later in the western year than on the first of January. Their new cycle, beginning this year on Jan. 21, marks the "Year of the Horse," which according to manager Ed Leong of Confucius Restaurant in Greenbrae, signifies a period "for forging ahead." I believe it will also be something like the year 4243 in the Chinese calendar.

The Confucius contribution to "Gung Hay Choy" this year is champagne supplied with all regular dinners from Jan. 19 through the 25th, and included in the price of the meal.

NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT, Jan. 18, is the "hello and goodbye party of Connie and Bill Jackson at the Office in Mill Valley.

"Hello" to new owners John P. Ebner and Claude T. Ross of Larkspur, whom they will introduce to all comers—and "goodbye" to wellwishers on their own part. This should be quite an affair and you are welcome to look in and participate.

Connie and Bill intend to get behind the steering wheel and set a course south so they can take in the Mardi Gras in New Orleans next month. It's their first vacation in many years and they'll take off as soon as the transaction is closed. Says Connie: "If we go into business again—perhaps in Sonoma County—after this holiday, it may turn out to be our last for a good many years more." (Last holiday, she means).

COMMENCING NEXT FRIDAY, Jan. 21, the Ark at Waldo Point will open its upstairs deck to the public as a "Discodeck a-go-go," featuring the Townsmen on Friday and Saturday nights. Dancing, of course, and there's a separate room here for minors to do their own frugging and swimming.

On the same date — also for Fridays and Saturdays, the downstairs will begin serving 2 to 4 a.m. breakfasts from $1.25. Music and dancing program on the lower deck still features Gil Cardona Friday and Saturday nights, and Chris Ibanez on Sundays. Chris, by the way, has a new vocalist with his group starting this Sunday —Gwen Jordan.

Remember—all entertainment tax is abolished now, so there's no extra charge on food and drinks by reason of the dancing.

FOLLOWING a brief vacation, Rubini's in Fairfax opens next Wednesday, Jan. 19. I understand that on display this month are the works of award winning artist Edna Van Kaughnet.

NEW OFFERING at Bobs' of Marin in Corte Madera (in the coffee shop only) is chef Art Hill's potluck dinner for $2.25 Tuesday through Friday nights. There's a different choice of three entrees each day. And if the first serving doesn't fill your internal gap—go back and ask for a second helping. It's on the house. Served from 4 to 9 p.m. Also a child's dinner at $1.65.

JUDY CLOUD
At the Cellars

AT DI PIETRO'S cocktail lounge in San Rafael, which co-owner Ron Hennig still claims as having the largest dance floor in the county, there is a new swinging group Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. — the Zackman Quartet.

Novelty numbers and good entertainment (no rock and roll) —with Daryl Hutchinson at the piano and organ. Jim Luttrell on the guitar, along with his wife, Rose, also on the guitar and as the featured vocalist—and "Little Al," who can turn out a terrific beat on the drums.

STEAKS MUST BE GOOD these days at McKees (where you broil your own)—when a big outdoor TV star like Dan Blocker comes all the way from the Ponderosa to prepare and eat one. And apparently the steak was big enough, too—he didn't look for seconds. He's supposed to be a talented amateur chef, I've heard.

Marin Dining And Wining

SPEAKING OF TALENT, cocktail waitress Judy Cloud at the Cellars has turned out to be quite a performer with maracas, supplementing the rhythm of Dick Saltzman's orchestra Friday and Saturday nights. And, says Dick, "toplessness isn't needed here—with Judy's other attributes."

EL BORRO opened again in Tiburon this week after a short holiday and you'll find it nicely redecorated — among other things, with a new red carpet. New on the menu are empanadas—chicken or pork turnovers (sometimes chicken livers), mild in flavor. And El Borro makes these in small sizes if you want to order them to take home for party hors d'oeuvres.

ALSO IN TIBURON—Kappie's House of Sandwiches will open again Saturday after a holiday in the southland for Ernie and Rose Kaplan—who found Palm Springs "too cold," Hermosa Beach "just right" — and Las Vegas "profitable."

AT THE COUNTRY BOY restaurant in the Bermuda Palms, San Rafael, Joe Satterfield has increased his choice of hot dishes for lunches and dinners to six. There are also about 30 different cold items on the smorgasbord table.

HAVING TROUBLE finding the Taverna Yasiou that we wrote about last week?

First—set your sights for the Marin County Civic Center and its broad entranceway from North San Pedro Road which leads to Santa Venetia.

Second—instead of taking this broad entranceway, look directly across North San Pedro Road where there's a gas station and a little commercial cluster next to it. San Pablo Road comes in here.

That's the place. There should be a sign there now. Taverna Yasiou is downstairs in the building in back of the station. Former name was Civic Center Coffee Shop—just ask for that if you get stuck. Offstreet parking.

Skate Board, Girl Go Separate Ways

Carol Fischer, 13, of 227 Jewell Street, San Rafael, has given up skate boards.

She cracked her left hip Saturday riding a board she had borrowed from a friend, according to her mother, Mrs. Kenneth E. Fischer.

She was treated at Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco.

New York Truce Means Pay Hike In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—New York's transit strike won a pay hike for San Francisco's bus and streetcar operators, the secretary of the city's Public Utilities Commission says.

James Finn, the secretary, said yesterday the raises are virtually automatic under the city charter. The charter sets the pay of the Municipal Railway's 1,700 operators at the average between the two highest pay scales in other U.S. cities with a population of at least 500,000.

New York operators have been the highest paid for several years.

Operators here stand to get increases totaling $572,000 between this July and July of 1967. They are to get hikes totaling $1.6 million in 1968.

The hourly wage will rise from $3.22 to $3.73 over the 2½-year period.

THIS IS A CITY STREET?—Sonoma Avenue in San Anselmo is one of many streets in the Hub City which have never been improved, and which drew fire in initial responses to a questionnaire on needed city improvements being circulated by the San Anselmo Congress for Community Progress.

Community Study Deadline Is Monday In San Anselmo

San Anselmo residents have only until Monday to make known their views on city problems and opportunities for use in the city's Congress for Community Progress, Don Perry, project chairman for the congress, said yesterday.

With Monday the deadline for return of some 4,000 questionnaires circulated to town residents, only 127 have been returned so far, Perry said.

Mrs. Anne West of the project committee acknowledged the slow return of questionnaires, but praisded those who have returned the forms.

"The main thing is they have made such thoughtful comments and shown such concern for their city. The variety and thought of the comments is something to see," she said.

Mrs. West said she has been posting all comments sent in with the questionaires on the bulletin board in the San Anselmo Library.

The project committee will consider the returned questionaires at its meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in city hall, Perry said. There the questionaires will be evaluated and the subjects of greatest community interest will be marked for use in panel discussions during the community-wide congress March 5 at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Prison Inmate Given Sentence On Weapon

Kelly Andrews Johnson, San Quentin Prison inmate found guilty Jan. 5 by a Marin Superior Court jury of possession of a sharp instrument in the prison, was sentenced yesterday to not less than three years in prison.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner said the term will run concurrent with one Johnson is already serving. He was convicted Oct. 13, 1961, in San Francisco for petty theft with a prior conviction, and Nov. 27, 1962, in Monterey County for possession of a knife.

Erie canal was opened in 1825.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Sid Braverman Served Quietly, Effectively

If there was ever a man who could serve the community and his fellow man effectively, without fanfare and with the least amount of friction, it was the late Sidney Braverman.

His quiet and soft-spoken manner and gentlemanly conduct belied the tremendous effectiveness with which he served Marin year after year for a quarter century.

His service did not come in spurts. His work with the old Community Chest and later United Crusade, with the Boy Scouts, and other religious and charitable organizations was a sustained drive that came from genuine interest in and compassion for the well-being of his fellow citizens.

He did not seek the limelight. Neither did he deliberately avoid it. If there was a job to be done, he proceeded to do it, oblivious to and totally unaffected by the limelight.

Some civic leaders are able to perform feverishly and effectively for a year or two or three. But those who stand at the helm year after year inevitably develop enemies.

Sid Braverman was one of the rare individuals who was able to render sustained public service with minimum friction. Even those who disagreed with him on minor points developed deep respect and warm admiration for him.

He was one of the founders of the Marin Jewish Community Center and Congregation Rodef Sholom.

As director of the Boy Scout Council of Marin, he received the Silver Beaver award for developing a trust fund for the council.

Other cultural and charitable organizations that received Braverman's helping hand and constant backing include the Babcock Foundation, Sunny Hills, Marin General Hospital Foundation, Marin Symphony Guild, and Marin Music Chest.

These and other fraternal and civic organizations to which he belonged will miss Braverman's quiet presence and support.

Sid Braverman was one of Marin's finest. A description of his many attributes add up to a description of the ideal community-conscious citizen.

Getting Rid Of The Starlings

No one has yet come up with a fool proof method of getting rid of that undisputed emperor of nuisance birds, the starling. Scientists are experimenting with grain soaked in oral contraceptive, as a humane method of control.

One of the most ingenious methods of getting them out of an area, but not harming them, is to record their distress call, then play it back to them, highly amplified. When the starlings hear what sounds like a 40-pound bird crying, "Help! Help!" they don't stay around to find out what the trouble is.

But this just scares them to another area and is no long term solution to the starling menace which is just beginning in California.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Congressional Hopeful Storer Skeptical Of 'Home Town' Poll

By WAT TAKESHITA

GEORGE McCABE OF Sonoma State College and state Sen. Frank Petersen of Ukiah, two Democratic hopefuls for Congress, got together and conducted a sample poll last weekend.

Takeshita

According to the poll, Supervisor Tom Storer of Marin "doesn't have a chance" for the Democratic nomination.

But Storer, who "didn't have a chance" in the race for supervisor, isn't about to lie down and play dead in the Congressional race. He discounts the accuracy of the poll, especially since it was conducted by Dr. Frank Siroky, a colleague of McCabe's at Sonoma State College.

The Siroky poll shows McCabe a runaway favorite in Sonoma, Napa and Marin. Public preferences run something like 60 to 75 per cent for McCabe, 25 to 30 per cent for Petersen, and about 5 per cent for Storer in Sonoma and Napa, according to the poll.

In Marin, McCabe got 64 per cent, Storer 26 per cent, and Petersen 10 per cent.

In Petersen's home county of Mendocino, Petersen got about 80 per cent, and McCabe about 15 to 20 per cent.

REMEMBER PROF. John Bodo of the theological seminary in San Anselmo, the one who was once mentioned as a contender for Marin supervisor?

Don't count him out of politics yet. He's using his one year sabbatical leave to do research work in Sacramento for Jesse Unruh and his boys. Dr. Bodo may come bouncing back into politics yet, after he completes his political homework in Sacramento.

RAY PASCHKE of Santa Rosa, field representative for Congressman Don Clausen, got a brand new daughter for Christmas. His wife presented him with a 7-pound, 12-ounce girl, their third child.

CONGRESSMAN CLAUSEN is one of four career life insurance underwriters in Congress who will be honored by the National Assn. of Life Underwriters at a dinner in Washington, D. C. next Thursday. He will get the association's public affairs award.

DON'T FORGET next Tuesday noon. Marin Federated Republican Women will meet at the theological seminary in San Anselmo to hear Laughlin E. Waters, Republican gubernatorial hopeful.

"Lock" Waters will also be the first guest on a new Bay Area TV series that makes its debut Sunday at 2 p.m. The program, titled "Page One," will be on channel 7.

SEN. JACK McCarthy of San Rafael got considerable publicity for the salary, allowances and expenses he drew during 1965.

It should be explained that 1965 was not a typical year for McCarthy, the senate minority leader. You'll recall he was rushing back and forth from here to Washington and even to Hawaii, trying to block the reapportionment of the state legislature.

Travel mileage pushed his total (salary plus expenses) to $18.913. Sen. Randolph Collier of Yreka drew $16.400, and Sen. Hugh Burns of Fresno, president pro-tem of the Senate, $15.192.

ON THE ASSEMBLY side, majority floor leader Jerome Waldie of Antioch put in the biggest claim — $18.041. Three in the $17.000 category were Speaker Jesse Unruh, minority leader Bob Monagan of Tracy, and Pauline Davis of Portola.

Assemblyman Bill Bagley of San Rafael was far down the line—$12,179.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Economic Plan Is Wrong Step

Editor, Independent-Journal:

"Co-ops for Bay Poor—$500,000 experiment by Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington." The reason? — "to organize more than 100,000 poor, uneducated people who don't get their money's worth out of their dollars, because they are prime suckers for shoddy sales tactics."

Looks as though the tax paying public are the suckers. In order to finish with a one cent net profit on each dollar the food chains must run a taut ship. Imagine a political operation paying no taxes, competing with private enterprise—what a gravy train!

This is pure socialism, something the Russians cannot operate successfully. It offers a bloc of 100,000 votes, which is the dream of all politicians, and is one step closer to destroying a system which has produced the greatest prosperity any country has ever enjoyed. Don't shrug and say this won't affect you, as whatever business you are engaged in, you may be the next target in the future.

We are stuck with the "Great Society" for the next few years, but let us show our displeasure by replacing satellite Governor Brown next November.

Marin's Coast Is Marvelous

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a new Marin resident (by choice) and an ardent conservationist (by conviction), I was shocked by your editorial of Jan. 5 urging widening of the Shoreline Highway. My shock arose from the fact that your editorial position is usually so enlightened.

I share your view that a new route must be found between San Francisco and the West Marin recreational areas—but, in the name of all that's beautiful, not at the cost of wrecking our sea coast. (I have no selfish interest, since I happen to live near the Redwood Highway.) I have had the good fortune to know the Atlantic coast from Maine to Virginia, the French and Italian rivieras, the coast of Queensland in Australia, the white cliffs of Dover, and the Izu peninsula in Japan. None of these is more glorious than our own Marin County shoreline.

We have no right to ruin a precious part of our heritage for all time. The Shoreline Highway is for the leisurely contemplation of natural beauty. If we use our imagination, we will find an acceptable route for an east-west highway between Route 101 and West Marin.

West Marin Needs Judicial Service

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Permit me to comment upon your front page story of Jan. 8, entitled "West Marin Court Elimination Asked."

I would estimate that the Northwestern Judicial District covers well over half of Marin physically, less than 10 per cent of her population, and less than 2 per cent of the cost of her total judicial system. It is also an area that commands at least two-thirds of Marin's tourist travel, and most of its population growth potential of the next several decades.

It would be interesting to know if any members of the current Grand Jury live in West Marin and are familiar at first hand with both its needs and problems.

Assuming the Jury's estimate of an annual saving of "almost $7,000 a year" is correct, what would be the cost, both of requiring West Marin citizens to travel to San Rafael with their problems, and of adding to the already overburdened condition of the Municipal Central District.

Considering the astronomic cost of county government today, compared to only five years ago, it would appear there were many areas offering cost saving potentials well in excess of "almost $7,000," and which would not deny West Marin the judicial services it needs.

Railway Plan Not Right One

Editor, Independent-Journal:

During the 20 years my wife and I have lived in beautiful, picturesque Mill Valley, I don't think we have ever been more distressed than by the proposed rape of Mt. Tamalpais. . .All of us ardently hope the water district flatly rejects the proposal to rebuild the old Mount Tamalpais railroad.

Advocates . . . nostalgically sing of "the good old days." But their song, alas, seems a bit off key. They tell you nothing of a few probable results —of the overcrowding of our village with unwanted hordes; of the vastly increased downtown parking problem when our own residents are already often sorely pressed to find parking space; of the mutilation of our mountainside; of the fire danger.

And don't say there is no fire danger. . .No matter how tightly policed a crowd may be, there's always some member of it who will sneak a cigarette. And just one "ciggie flipper" could ignite our whole mountainside. . .

Let the litterbug line snake up the mountainside to a restaurant and bar at the summit, and we'll be opening our door to further commercialism of our lofty sentinel. Let the promoters once get a toehold, and others are bound to follow. . .Why not a gift shop? And then a motel? Not one, but several. And for the kiddies, amusement devices would surely be nice. . .

Do we want to retain the wild, rugged natural beauty of Tamalpais or have it go commercial? Before answering, consider the honky-tonk blight on the shores of once lovely Lake Tahoe or look at what's happened to our own Sausalito. Shall we keep the Indian name and magic of Mount Tamalpais or change it, without a sigh, to a no-nonsense monicker, something like Mt. Tamal-Pay-Us?

DOROTHY Middleton, in a book called "Victorian Lady Travelers," paints an intriguing portrait of Mary Kingsley, who, attired in her "stout Victorian skirt and prim headdress" scared the daylights out of a fierce African cannibal tribe. Not only didn't they eat her; they ended up beseeching her for remedies to cure insect bites and blisters. She also helped them kill a man-eating crocodile, dispersed a herd of wild hippopotami by poking them with her umbrella, and let a leopard out of a cage that obviously was not to its liking. When the leopard stood liberated before her, not knowing whether to lick her hand or attack her, the indomitable Miss Kingsley simply stamped her foot and commanded, "Go home, you fool." The leopard turned tail and crept off meekly into the jungle.

DICK SHAWN, investigating the string of fabulously successful resort hotels in the "Borscht Circuit," reports: "They say in the Catskills that the only truly happy guest is one who every time he opens his mouth is either eating or laughing. It is essential to keep the guests occupied. For example, there even are classes in jewelry making. A girl may not bag a husband, but at least she can return home with a pair of earrings."

Congress Not Likely To Strip Federal Reserve Board Power

WASHINGTON — Thanks to an action President Johnson tried hard to prevent, the nation's booming economy is far more healthy and secure than if the administration had had its own way.

Mr. Johnson ought to be grateful that the Federal Reserve Board did not yield to the pressures of the White House against its recent decision to raise the discount rate.

Events are proving that the Federal Reserve Board was profoundly right and that the President's adviser's were dangerously wrong.

THE MAIN BENEFICIARY is the nation. Going into its sixth year of prosperity-without-recession, it can now surmount a war-heated economy with less danger that the boom will get out of hand.

The administration also benefits. Against its own views, it has been put in a far better position to prevent runaway inflation, which would adversely affect the pocketbook of nearly every person — and nearly every voter — in the country.

As Mr. Johnson begins to send his messages to the Hill, it is premature to predict what Congress is going to do. The mood is a good deal different than it was last year. But it is not premature to predict one thing which Congress is not going to do.

Congress is not going to pay the slightest attention to the pleas of Rep. Wright Patman (D-Texas), chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, and any others who want to take away the independence of the Federal Reserve Board and put it under the direction of the President.

RESPONSIBLE PEOPLE inside and outside the government can now see how right the Federal Reserve Board was in raising the discount rate six weeks ago and how vital its independence was to that action.

That decision could not have been taken and would not have been taken if the Federal Reserve Board were not an independent agency.

There are sound reasons to preserve this independence. It reflects the basic premise of the American government of divided powers.

There is another factor. The administration is subject to massive political pressures to keep the economy expanding at all costs, and the temptation is to put off too long restraints on over-expansion. The Federal Reserve Board is subject to banking pressures, and the temptation is on the side of putting on restraints sooner than the administration would.

The division of power makes for a prudent balance.

THIS WAS WELL illustrated by the recent boost in the discount rate. The administration wanted to put it off. The Reserve Board refused to wait, and its reading of the danger signals in the economy has been completely borne out.

The Commerce Department has now found that the national output has been rising at a $2.5-billion-a-year faster rate than it realized a few months ago. Employment is at an all-time high for December; unemployment is at a 9-year low, and some inflationary labor shortages are appearing. Another rise in consumer prices has just been reported and wholesale prices are advancing.

Even without this knowledge, the independence of the Federal Reserve Board enabled it to act forehandedly.

Congress will have no reason to change the law.

The administration has every reason to feel that an independent Federal Reserve Board has served it well.

Labor Legislation Viet Nam Casualty

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The first major legislative casualty of the intensifying Viet Nam war apparently is labor's demand for repeal of Section 14B permitting states to enact right-to-work laws.

Although the AFL-CIO's priority proposal is still not being rated as "dead" for this session of Congress, its prospects are drastically dimmed by the contemplated high-powered drive to put through President Johnson's $13 billion emergency Viet Nam appropriation.

In conferences here this week, members of the AFL-CIO executive committee are being frankly told their No. 1 legislative proposal will not be the first order of Senate business as originally planned.

Instead, the controversial 14B repealer is being sidetracked to clear the way for immediate consideration of the huge Viet Nam fund bill to avoid delay in winning congressional approval of it.

THIS BACKSTAGE STRATEGY, worked out by White House, Labor and Democratic congressional leaders, calls for cannonballing the emergency money measure through both the House and Senate before the legislators take up the controversial domestic legislation.

According to word congressional leaders are passing to colleagues, AFL-CIO chiefs bowed to this unannounced strategy for two compelling reasons:

The union leaders' fear that a prolonged debate over 14B would block action on war funds and backfire against their repeal efforts; private polls showing that the pro-labor forces in the Senate lack the votes to force an early showdown on this issue.

Labor and administration leaders are privately saying they can muster only 55 votes to cut off Senate debate—11 short of the 66 needed to compel a vote on repealing 14B.

With Democratic congressional leaders hoping to adjourn by August 15 so members up for election can campaign, every delay in bringing up 14B reduces its chances for passage this year.

Freshman Democrats, who helped edge the measure through the House last year, already are urging the White House to shelve the controversial labor issue.

They point out that if a full-scale Senate debate takes place, the bill will become a major issue in their election contests and could cost a number of them, particularly from rural areas, their closely-won seats.

SENATOR EDWARD KENNEDY (D-Mass.) is submitting his own legislative program to the Senate.

He will propose new civil rights, crime, social security, education and refugee legislation that has been prepared for him since last year's session of Congress.

Quietly working behind the scenes with several Kennedy holdovers in the Johnson Administration, the youngest Kennedy plans to seek national prominence by calling for establishment of a Criminal Justice Academy.

Under this proposal, scholarships would be granted by the government to outstanding law graduates to study methods of improving the administration of federal and state judicial procedures and protecting civil liberties.

Kennedy, a member of the Judiciary Committee, plans to urge enactment of legislation to safeguard civil rights workers and to insure Negroes the right to serve on state as well as federal juries.

WHILE SENATOR ROBERT KENNEDY (D-N.Y.), will seek the leadership of youths throughout the country, his brother "Teddy" Kennedy, in proposing new social legislation, will bid to become the leader among the millions of elderly persons in the country.

As a starter he will sopnsor legislation for a guaranteed income for all persons 70 or over regardless of whether they are under social security.

Kennedy also hopes to improve his liberal image by waging a vigorous fight for federal funds for the National Teachers Corps, which he co-sponsored last year. Congress authorized the establishment of this body, but balked at voting funds so teachers could be recruited to work in poverty-stricken areas.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The Fish Are In, Politicians Out, There's Even An Honest Man About

The herring are in. The politicians are out. And we have found an honest man.

Sausalito is the place of the politician and the fish. We met Jane Bias standing barefooted on the sea wall, fishing. Asked why the water was so soapy, she explained it was caused by the herring's egglaying process.

According to Sausalito's Swede Pedersen, who is really Norwegian, the herring rub along the side of a wall or pier and the eggs come out "like a strip of tooth paste." If anyone knows about herring, it must be Swede. He has been a herring-catcher for 42 years, he says.

"IRWIN LOWE'S mother-in-law, a paisano, is one of the best of all Sausalito herring picklers," Pedersen tells. The Italians use wine or garlic vinegar, the Swedes pickle with cream. Swede gives the fish to his friends.

The action is great to watch by night or day. Flora Olson of Tiburon said she, her husband, and son, Don, fished pre-moon Tuesday night about 9 with about 20 others in Sausalito. "My son got so excited fishing he fell in," said she.

Asked at Zack's if he had started campaigning yet, growly, wonderful Matts Perry said: "Campaigning? I started last year!" He handed out a green and black bumper sticker, the first we have seen in the April city council race, and said, "remember, I'm running as an independent. I've had offers of money for backing but the only thing I'm asking for is votes."

THE HONEST MAN, whose face is good but his name a mystery, we met last Sunday while acting as a volunteer interviewer at the Core-sponsored job survey in Marin City.

He was tinkering with a car engine on Cole Drive, talking to friends. Asked if he were interested in on-the-job training, he said, no, "I'm happy with my present job." He is a maintenance man.

Other persons interviewed, just as honest, said yes, they would like to have more training. One was a shirt presser who would like to do nursing or work in business. One was a laborer who wanted to be taught to use machinery. Both man and woman said they would like to improve their English and arithmetic.

MILL VALLEY carpenter Walter Coenders said he has received his back pay as worker in a World War II Nazi slave labor camp.

He related that when he was about 20 he was picked up off the streets in his native Holland and shipped to Germany where he dug ditches and cleaned up bombing damages. He worked until 1946 and then was freed by Americans. "I'm glad I got out alive. Of about 500 sent, one half didn't make it back," said Coenders.

He later emigrated to America and about a year ago got a letter from his sister saying that any one who had been in a labor camp could send in a statement. Coenders did. About three months ago, he was paid, a total of $195 in American money. That meant one guilder an hour in Dutch money, he said. "I was mighty surprised at this," said Coenders, "because the Germans lost the war."

POET DON ADAMS of Mill Valley and artist Gene Beery of Stinson Beach say they depend on gardening to pay for their respective roofs and groceries.

Beery, an anti-surrealist, says he paints flying coffee pots and windmills with rainbows coming out of them as well as portraits and landscapes. He has lived in the East, Midwest and West and prefers the latter.

"Marin stimulates you," he said, "and it lets you alone. New York doesn't let you alone. Whatever we've got here is too good to lose."

IT'S CURIOUS that Beery was the only Beery in the Manhattan directory, according to him, but he says there are three Beerys in Marin. Asked about his card: "So what, Inc.," Beery says "I want to go beyond 'so what,' some things need a so what. Some things don't I'm trying to paint the new faith, hope and charity . . .so what is public relations work that an artist has to do, and incorporation of ideas I have been working under. It's like having the power to say no to things."

Adams, who says he doesn't write poetry for money, permitted the use of his equation-type poem, Korzybski's Maya Scandal:

"One god 20/two rosebuds 18/four buttons 10/(total) 48/ tax 03/(total) 51."

Answers To Peace Overtures Inscrutable But Promising

WASHINGTON—As the Johnson peace offensive goes into its third week, more and more attention is being paid to responses from Hanoi. Everyone is looking for some sort of sign that North Viet Nam is ready to come to the negotiating table, and every reply to our peace overtures is studied by our experts in minute detail.

Therefore, what might sound on the surface as a complete rejection of an offer could very well be the opening we've been looking for.

I went over to the State Department the other day and talked to a U.S. Hanoi-watcher, who was, at that very moment, studying the latest North Viet Nam raido broadcast concerning our peace offensive.

"IT LOOKS PROMISING," he said, as he shoved his magnifying glass to one side.

"How's that?" I asked.

"Well, listen to this," he continued, reading from the report. "The U.S. policy of aggression in Viet Nam remains unchanged and shows the arrogance of President Johnson in pretending he wants peace while American and puppet troops intensify their attacks on innocent women and children."

"That's promising?" I said.

"It's a very mild statement compared to the one they made last week."

"What else did they say?"

"U.S. imperialists will be thrown into the sea long before any peace swindle can be made, and their lackeys in Saigon will be chewed up by the democratic peoples of Viet Nam."

"That sounds bad," I said.

"ON THE CONTRARY, there's a great glimmer of hope here. This is the first time Hanoi has mentioned the sea. It may have great significance. It's quite possible they might want to negotiate on water rather than land."

"That's something I hadn't thought of."

"Now here, in the third paragraph, may be another hint that they're ready to talk. It says, 'North Viet Nam will never be blackmailed into giving away the rights of the National Front for Liberation by a nation who sabotaged the 1954 Geneva agreements, and who have shamelessly launched air attacks on the cities and villages leaving behind wanton destruction and horror.'"

"What kind of hint do you get out of that?" I asked.

"THIS IS THE FIRST time they've mentioned the Geneva agreements in a broadcast, and it's quite possible this is their way of telling us, without the Chinese knowing, of course, that they would be willing to go there."

"By George, you may be right," I said excitedly.

"Now down here in the broadcast they make their usual attacks on our imperialism and credibility. Then they say, 'There is no possible way of ever negotiating peace in Viet Nam until every American soldier leaves this country.'"

"That's a tough statement," I said.

"We've asked them to clarify it. You'll note they don't say when the soldiers should leave. There could be two meanings to it. Possibly three.'

"HERE, AT THE END, they say, 'So long as U.S. imperialists still pursue the war of aggression against Viet Nam and launch attacks against the fatherland, the people in both zones of Viet Nam will fulfill their sacred duty to resist with the aid of their peace-loving friends in China and the Soviet Union. Let them make no mistake about this.'"

"It sounds like a peace feeler to me," I said.

"We're treating it like that, until we get word to the contrary."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

There's Something To Be Said For Way County Hires People

FUSSELMAN

LAST Monday radio station KTIM broadcast an item, which will be repeated shortly. That night in the Independent-Journal there was a strong editorial (which I hope most of you read) with the headline, "County's Hiring Methods Far Less Than The Best." One of the paragraphs: "Another strange aspect of the case (hiring the man for promotion and development) is that the oral review board, which interviewed 13 candidates, did not list Douglas among the top three. There is some indication that he was not among the top five."

Another paragraph: "Unorthodox hiring practices such as this make a mockery of the county's processes . . . "

Still another: "Whenever it suits their fancy, do the supervisors, together with the county administrator's office, ignore the regularly established procedures and substitute their own personal preferences instead?"

THE ITEM heard over the air appeared in the I-J on Tuesday.

"Douglas' Wife Was Campaigner"

"The wife of John M. Douglas, hired by county supervisors as director of economic development for Marin County, was a campaign worker for Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker in 1964.

"Last Tuesday Leydecker answered complaints over the appointment . . . by saying that . . . (Douglas) was no particular friend, even though he is a neighbor . . .

"Mrs. Douglas was one of five area chairmen in the 1964 campaign in which Leydecker defeated John F. McInnis, the Mayor of San Rafael . . .

"DOUGLAS was hired at $15,600 a year, $2400 over the budgeted salary, on recommendation of County Administrator Alan Bruce."

This whole thing ties in with the cost of county government. Let's have a short play-back from last week's column . . . "If I wanted to put people who are friends in county government, I wouldn't do it in this crude fashion". (Said the supervisor from District One.) The column also stated, then, that the records will show that he appointed the lady about December 10, 1964, to the Mosquito Abatement District board. Nice going isn't it?

The banner story across the front page of the I-J Tuesday was: "County Tax Rate Could Rise 21 Cents Next Fiscal Year". This was according to a bland prediction of the administrator to soften you up and prepare you for the shock. And the board was forewarning the department heads that they must hold the line. In effect, to let the board do the spending.

The supervisors said much the same thing to the cities last year, when they urged them to cut their budgets because the board was lowering its tax rate. You will remember they had increased the budget by $3,502,813. Double talk. At the time (July 1965) one supervisor suggested that the board take steps to encourage the formation of a "responsible taxpayers group."

Has it ever been done? Another supervisor suggested that the "Grand Jury be given extra funds to hire a professional to help examine county operations". I asked then, "What goes with the administrator's office?"

I INTEND to review, next week, the whole costly operation that is going on, even though I have touched on it before. You know, you don't have to be pushed around, dollar-wise, as you are.

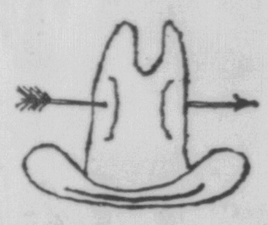
League Show Takes 'Americana' Theme

By MOLLY MARIN

The Junior League's fashion show to be given Feb. 9 at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel is taking an "Americana" theme this year, and as usual, is attracting a number of Marin spectators to the gala. The word is out that although the sponsor tables have been sold out there are still a limited number of tickets at the San Francisco league office. Mrs. Huntley Bennett of Ross is chairman of decorations and Mrs. Warren Outten of Tiburon is also on the committee for the benefit aiding the league's community trust fund.



'AMERICANA'

Juvenile models who will make their first runway appearances are Pierce Buxton, son of Mrs. John W. Buxton of Sausalito, and Jean Lloyd of Mill Valley, whose mother is Mrs. W. James Lloyd. Participating as a junior model is Alison Amonette of Ross, whose mother, Mrs. Clarence O. Amonette Jr. is well-known here for volunteer modeling activity in the summer Marin Art and Garden Center show sponsored by Northgate Group and the Junior League. Mrs. Gerald D. Stratford of Belve-

NEW BRIMS FOR SPRING

Marinite Writes Guide For Girls

By BETTY FROST

A reluctant author is rare. Rarer still is a reluctant author with a successful book who is not planning another.

Gwen Cummings of Belvedere who has published "It's Up to You Girls!" is this unusual, and still reluctant, writer. Her 195 page guide for girls has been called the answer to Helen Gurley Brown's "Sex and the Single Girl."

"It may not be the answer, but it is an answer," says Gwen, who considers the sophisticated viewpoint of Mrs. Brown's book disastrous for the inexperienced girl on her own for the first time.

Geared to the needs of younger women, who have just left schools and colleges, the Belvedere woman's book gets down to very practical considerations in chapters dealing with jobs, finances, room mates, appearance, dwellings, conduct, use of time, gaining maturity, social life, and — oh yes, men.

WRITTEN AS a series of letters to friends, the format suggests the cheerful tone, but the book is studded with down to earth practical suggestions, listed in an orderly fashion for easy reference.

The writer's knowledge of the needs of young women in the 18-22 year old bracket is far from haphazard. For four years Gwen worked with young girls in what turned out to be a kind of laboratory situation and ideal preparation for the book. While working at a full time job herself, the enterprising Marin girl conducted a training course called "Experiment in Urban Living." She maintained an apartment in San Francisco which she shared with five would-be career girls in the late teens and very early twenties. The same set of girls would stay for a three month period, then others would take their places. Nights and weekends were used for field study and projects in connection with group living and the adjustments to life in a big city. Experts were called in and some lectures were included in the program.

"THEY MANAGED money, managed jobs, managed a household, and managed social life in a new environment," Miss Cummings said. "These were normal girls with normal challenges."

Gwen started the urban living group experimentally during a summer vacation from her duties as a member of the dean of women's staff at Principia College, Elsah, Ill. By the end of the summer she was so interested in the project that she resigned her position with the college and returned to the west permanently.

The editor of the women's page of the Christian Science Monitor, Jessie Arndt, learned of the work Gwen was doing and asked her to write a series of articles about the youth project for the paper. At first Gwen was — there's that word again — reluctant. But, encouraged by family and friends, and knowing that she had the material needed, she submitted several articles. The series continued for 14 months, with one article published each week. For seven months of this time, Gwen was traveling around the world with her mother, Mrs. Harold Cummings of Belvedere. This accounts for some of the exotic datelines — such as London, Lisbon, Bangkok, which head the letters of friendly and practical advice. These articles became the basis for the book which was published by the Smith Co. of California, Inc. of San Francisco.

"The key for young women making a place in the world is to stop and think. Life doesn't have to be 100 per cent trial and 90 per cent error," says Gwen.

ALTHOUGH SHE INSISTS that she has no future writing in mind, and works as the office manager of the family business, the Cummings Stained Glass Studios in San Francisco, the book continues to keep her busy. She handles the production and distribution herself. Just last week she received an order from Dallas for 31 copies, one for each of that city's public libraries.

Some copies of "It's Up to You Girls!" have been sold abroad, but Gwen does not think that foreign editions would serve a useful purpose since the material is geared specifically for the American pattern of life. The writer has also found herself in demand as a lecturer, principally for women's groups, "who are concerned about establishing communications with their growing children," says Miss Cummings.

Raised in Belvedere, the daughter of Mrs. Harold Cummings and the late Mr. Cummings, Gwen attended Belvedere elementary school and Tamalpais High School. She is a graduate of Principia College, and did graduate work at Occidental College, where she qualified for a California teacher's credential. She taught in the Reed Union School District for a short time. She is the sister of John Cummings of Belvedere, Mrs. Robert Shelburne of Albany and Bill Cummings of Philadelphia, Pa.

Teen-Agers' Dating Code From 'It's Up To You Girls'

Here is Gwen Cumming's dating code, which she emphasizes is "a city code for young women on their own for the first time among strangers in an urban environment." It is reprinted from the book by Miss Cummings, "It's Up To You Girls!"

1. Get to know a man a little bit before you accept an invitation to single-date with him . . . through double dates; entertain him in your home with some of your friends or family around, or through work, church, sports or intellectual group where you met him. Ask yourself "Is he someone I'll see again, so his sense of responsibility for me is apt to be alive?"

2. Beware of dating married men who pose as single—on business trips and so forth.

3. Dating older or divorced men is not taboo; just be careful.

4. Beware about accepting dates to beach parties at night.

5. When dating a man whose attitude toward drinking you are not sure about, go in a group of two or three couples.

6. In deciding where you will or will not go on a date, ask yourself, "How would I feel if Dad walked in?"

7. Locate the after-dark "off limits" areas in your city — usually big parks, international settlements, etc., and do your dating there in the daytime!

8. Always take some money with you on a date; you may never need it . . . but then you may, for a taxi or the telephone if you end up alone.

9. Never go into a man's home — not even for a few minutes — unless there's a party there or his family is there. (His roommate won't suffice; a man is never considered a chaperon.)

10. Never ask a man into your home unless housemates or other guests are there too.

11. Men should clear out of your apartment by 12:30 a.m., and girls should likewise be out of men's homes by 12:30.

12. It's up to the women to set the curfew on dates; 2 a.m. is my absolute deadline, except in extraordinary cases.

13. Wether or not you date on week nights depends on your job, stamina, and home responsibilities.

14. Be wise about confiding in dates too readily.

15. Don't lend money to men; long-time friends may be the exceptions.

16. Don't phone men — at their work, club or home — unless on business. (If a man wants to talk yith you, he'll call you. If he doesn't want to, he won't. If you call him just to talk, you make yourself out to be a vampire in pursuit, and you only add to his ego and amusement or exasperation.)

17. Don't accept favors or gifts from men without due deliberation . . . sometimes the gifts are tokens of appreciation but sometimes they have "price tags" attached.

18. Avoid such feminine tricks to get more dates as leaving lipsticks in men's pockets, coats in their cars, or offering to do their laundry.

Marin Branch To Sponsor Get Acquainted Coffees

Three morning coffees to acquaint members of Marin Branch, American Assn. of University Women, with their neighbors who are also members are being held. This large organization is structured on two dozen study and interest groups, meeting separately monthly, so it is quite possible to be an active member of several sections without running across neighbors who are also members. Women in the central Marin area who are interested in learning more about membership in this organization may telephone membership chairman Mrs. Roy C. Enos of San Rafael, or attend one of the gatherings.

Mrs. Robert Ohrenschall is arrangements chairman. Mrs. Robert Flanders, branch president, will speak informally at each gathering. Today members met at the home of Mrs. Fred O. Goodell.

On Monday at 9:30 a.m. the group will meet at the home of Mrs. K. Whitehead in San Anselmo, assisted by Mrs. Martin T. Fredericks. Mrs. Etienne Rolin, entertainment chairman, fellowships committee, will report on the "International Affair."

On Feb. 25 Central and East San Rafael members will meet at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hartmann, with Mrs. R. O. Bolt, co-hostess.

Tamalpais Unit Pythian Sisters Will Install

On Tuesday, Mrs. Herbert Hickman, grand chief of California, will install new officers of Tamalpais Temple 129, Order of Pythian Sisters at 8:30 p.m. in the Odd Fellows Temple, San Rafael.

Installed with Mrs. Robert Cole, past chief, will be Mesdames Anthony Bottini, most excellent chief; Harold Marple, most excellent senior; Leonaro Tibbott, most excellent junior; Edward Kennedy, manager; Charles Heller, protector; Lloyd Brooks, guard; Joe Whiteley, secretary; Harry Simpson, treasurer; and Holgate Thomas, musician.

Officers and members of the temple will meet at 7:30 p.m.

Australian Girl Will Be Speaker

An Australian girl, Perdita Avery, attending Redwood High School as an American Field Service exchange student, will be the speaker at the noon luncheon to be held by the United Presbyterian Women of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Tiburon on Tuesday.

Perdita, who comes from Melbourne, is staying with the Kenneth Merklin family in Tiburon this year. She will discuss her experiences and observations of life in the United States and Marin County.

Luncheon arrangements are being made by Priscilla circle, with Mrs. Gerald Frellson, chairman.

THE TOP-DRAWER DRESSERS—

Among the women named to the 1965 international list of best dressed women of the world last night were, from left, Princess Paola of Belgium, Mrs. Angus Ogilvy, the former Princess Alexandra of Kent; and singer Barbra Streisand, whose song "Second Hand Rose" is a current U.S. favorite . . . Best Dressed Named

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who headed the annual list of the world's best dressed women for a number of years, was named a permanent member of the fashion hall of fame yesterday.

The wife of the late President was among six women to achieve the honor which elevates them above yearly competition. They were selected by a committee of fashion experts on the basis of votes cast by some 2,500 members and observers of the fashion industry throughout the world.

HEADING THE LIST of the 12 best dressed women of 1965, in Mrs. Kennedy's place was 22-year-old Mrs. Carter Burden of New York, socialite daughter of Mrs. William Paley, another veteran of the list.

Two close relations of Mrs. Kennedy also figured in the voting. Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, her mother-in-law, placed fifth on the annual best dressed list and Princess Lee Radziwill, her sister received a number of votes although she did not make the final 12.

THE FULL LIST of the 12 best dressed women of 1965:

—Mrs. Burden.

—Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt of New York.

—Mrs. Wyatt Cooper, the former Gloria Vanderbilt, of New York.

—Mrs. Giancarol Uzielli and Mme. Stavros Niarchos, the former Anne and Charlotte Ford of New York.

—Mrs. Joseph Kennedy.

—Mrs. Kirk Douglas of Los Angeles, French-born wife of the actor.

—Mrs. Angus Ogilvy Princess Alexandra of Kent of London.

—Actress Barbra Streisand of New York.

—Mrs. Charles Engelhard, wife of the mining magnate, who commutes between homes in New York, New Jersey and South Africa.

—Mrs. William McCormick Blair, wife of the U.S. ambassador to the Philippines.

—Princess Luciana Pignatelli of Rome.

—Princess Paola, Italian-born wife of the Belgian crown prince.

OTHERS NAMED to the fashion hall of fame with Mrs. Kennedy were Mrs. Charles Wrightsman of New York, Queen Sirikit of Thailand, British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, socialite actress Dina Merrill and Mrs. Gilbert Miller of New York and London, wife of the theatrical producer.

Use No Silicone

Satin-gloss finishes require a cleaning polish or a cream wax containing no silicone since that ingredient would increase the gloss. Should the gloss increase from numerous waxings, remove the wax with a cloth dampened in mineral spirits, then apply a thin, fresh coat of polish or cream wax and polish with a soft cloth. Occasionally (between complete waxings) surfaces that get heavy use can be wiped with a soft, wax-moistened cloth and buffed with a dry cloth to give protection to the finish and preserve the satiny sheen.

ANNOUNCEMENT HAS BEEN made of the engagement of Carol Ann Long of San Anselmo and A. Norman Matson Jr. of Great Falls, Mont. (Bennett photo)

Carol Ann Long To Wed A. Norman Matson Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Long of San Anselmo have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to A. Norman Matson Jr. of Great Falls, Mont.

Carol's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Aubuchon of Mill Valley and Mrs. Elsie Long of San Anselmo. She was graduated from Tamalpais High School and College of Marin and is a student nurse at San Francisco State College.

The bride-elect is a past honored queen of Job's Daughters Bethel 119 in Mill Valley.

Norman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Matson of Great Falls, was graduated from Santa Barbara High School. He attended University of Montana where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He is presently a member of the Professional Bowlers' Assn.

There are no immediate wedding plans.

Marin Women

Marin Toasmistress Club Elects Mother Of Seven

A mother of seven youngsters, Mrs. Lloyd Winslow Allen of Corte Madera, is the new president of Marin Toastmistress Club. Marian Allen, and her husband, a consulting electrical engineer, are the parents of Lloyd Jr., 21, David, 18, Barry, 11, Larry, 9, Bob, 8, Eleanor, 7, and George, 3.

During her eight-year membership in the Toastmistress Club, she has held the offices of secretary, treasurer and first and second vice president. She points out that ultimate purpose of the club is to foster poise and self-confidence in individuals.

Marian is also active in the Marin Women's Legislative Council and lists her important concerns as her children, cooking and doing office work for her husband's business.

Marian received a bachelor's degree from San Francisco State College and taught school for two years while her husband worked for his master's degree. The Allens have been Marin residents for eight years.

Her most enjoyable moments are garnered when her family gathers around the table at meal times. However, at present, her husband is in Viet Nam, and their son, Lloyd Jr., is in England.

Other new officers are Mesdames Raymond Robson, first vice president; Paul Satur, second vice president; William Heinemann, recording secretary; Orrin Butler, treasurer; Vera Haven, corresponding secretary; and Miss Marilyn Boehrer, club representative.

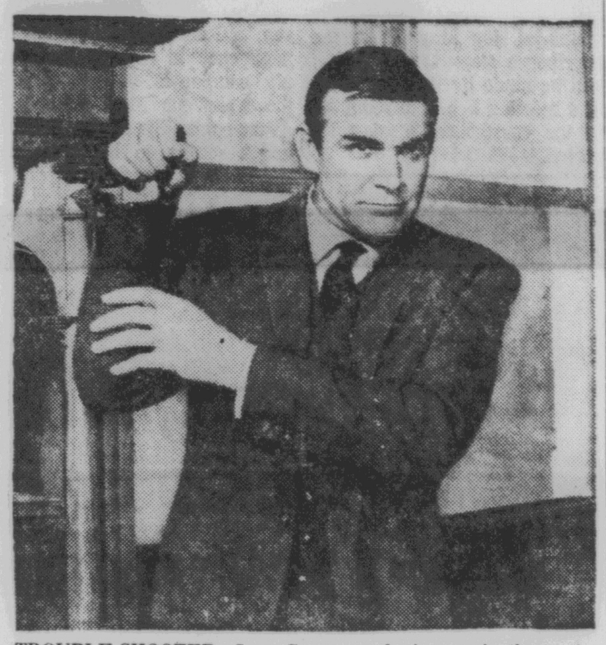
MARIN FILM FARE

Tamalpais Playing 'King Rat'; Mastroianni Is At Playhouse

By LES DARD

Here's what's on tap this weekend at Marin area theaters:



TROUBLE-SHOOTER—Sean Connery, playing again the part of James Bond, tracks down the foes of the Westrn Allies. He's in "Thunderball," based on the Ian Fleming story, at the Rafael Theater.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

A first-class war drama is now playing: "King Rat."

The story is one of survival—staying alive in a Japanese prison camp during World War II. The hero, if such he can be called, is the man who lives the best while his fellows starve.

George Segal plays King, a completely unscrupulous American. To procure food and other supplies for himself he corrupts everyone around him. Nearly the whole camp, prisoners and guards alike, are on his payroll.

His principal antagonist is Tom Courtenay, playing a British officer who is fighting not so much against King as against the British class system. Then there's James Fox, another Briton, who is enthralled by the individualistic American. Patricia O'Neal, Denholm Eliot, James Donald, Todd Armstrong and John Mills are also featured.

A fine entry.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Moving to this theater is the dashing new sex farce "Casanova '70," with the very talented Marcello Mastroianni taking the title role.

Through a complicated set of circumstances, NATO officer Mastroianni discovers that to make love effectively, imminent annihilation must be present.

So starts his crazy quest—for love spiced with danger. He gets himself into all manner of nutty situations—in a cage with a lady lion tamer, on a museum bed, being chased by the Mafia, undertaking a killing for a beautiful girl . . . and so on.

Virna Lisi co-stars. She is the object of Mastroianni's one chaste love affair—an affair that ends in marriage.

It's all a lark, and will make a great escapist evening for any adult moviegoer.

Co-featured is "Major Barbara."

SEQUOIA THEATER

Now showing in Mill Valley is Doris Day's latest dip into domestic comedy—"Do Not Disturb."

It is lively, professional, and completely enjoyable.

The story is set in London. Rod Taylor, Miss Day's husband, is a newly appointed director of a British woolens firm whose task it is to improve their poor sales.

When Miss Day becomes convinced that Taylor is giving a sales pitch to his beautiful secretary, Maura McGiveney, drastic measures are in order. On the advice of friend Hermione Baddeley, she pretends to be infatuated with handsome antique dealer Sergio Fantoni.

The results spell fun.

LARK THEATER

Michael Caine stars as an unorthodox secret agent in "The Ipcress File," a spy thriller of a new genre.

Sent to locate a kidnapped British scientist, he accidently stumbles onto the secret of the "brain drain," a devious process "They" are using to brainwash Britain's top scientists.

Meanwhile, our hero has managed to get the CIA and a British traitor or two on his trail. Not to mention the enemy. The last few scenes are bloody, but Caine emerges victorious.

Fine portrayals, "arty" photography and an off-beat story make top escapist fare.

NOVATO THEATER

Now showing is "Morituri," which is, to put it bluntly, a very good war picture.

Marlon Brando stars as an anti-Nazi German; a pacifist living in India. He is recruited, with a bit of persuasion by the Allies, for a mission on board a German freighter. The captain, Yul Brynner, has been ordered to scuttle the ship in case of trouble.

The reason is that it is carrying badly needed rubber — as badly needed by the Allies as by the Nazis.

It is Brando's job to de-fuse the scuttling charges so the Allies can salvage the rubber.

A variety of supporting characters include a German-Jewish girl who has been terribly treated by the SS, and a fanatic Nazi first mate.

The film is rife with dramatic import, and at times is food for very genuine thought.

Brando and Brynner perform excellently, as usual.

Co-featured is "The Secret of My Success."

101 DRIVE-IN

The Dave Clark Five is the biggest attraction in "Having a Wild Weekend," a new one aimed at the teen crowd. It is running tonight and tomorrow night only.

Fed up with the hectic pace of an ad campaign, Stuntman Steve (Dave Clark) and teen model Dinah (Barbara Ferris) run out—all the way out, to an island off Devon.

Before reaching their destination, though, they are pursued by agents, sponsors, reporters, police and the four other members of the popular singing group.

Most of the "Five's" singing is done off-stage—as background music for the action.

Exuberant escapism.

RAFAEL THEATER

Piling up grosses as if it's planning to outdo its record-shattering predecessor is "Thunderball," held over.

Sean Connery plays James Bond. The intrepid secret agent is out to stop Emilio Largo, a SPECTRE nasty who steels two atom bombs from a NATO bomber and plans to extort a king's ransom from the free world.

As always, the girls are in abundance. The roster this time includes Claudine Auger as Largo's mistress, Martine Beswick as Molly Peters.

Much of the footage is underwater, affording a spectacular opportunity for the wonderful world of gadgetry.

If you're a James Bond fan, this one's for you. If you're not—get with it!

FAIRFAX THEATER

Held over is last year's big Oscar winner, "My Fair Lady," a delight for all ages.

When irascible British speech expert Prof. Henry Higgins (Rex Harrison) takes it upon himself to transform a Cockney flower girl into an aristocrat, little does he know he will fall in love with his creation.

Audrey Hepburn plays Eliza, the flower girl whose conquest of the English language begins with "the rain in Spain," picks up at Covent Gardens, and culminates at the opulent Embassy Ball.

All the music, all the sparkling, scintillating flavor of the Lerner-Loewe musical is here—as great as ever.

A truly fine motion picture.

Collision Hurts Neck Of San Rafael Man

Dennis M. Keller, 19, of the Bermuda Palms motel, 737 Francisco Boulevord, San Rafael, suffered an acute neck sprain when the car he was driving was struck from the rear and forced into one in front of it on Highway 101 just north of the Greenbrae overpass at 8:19 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Keller was northbound when his car was hit by one driven by Lloyd E. Dahl, 38, of San Francisco. Keller's car in turn struck one driven by Neda Louise Edwards, 32, of Vallejo. Miss Edwards and a passenger in her car, Ernestine McKinley, 50, also of Vallejo, both suffered mild neck sprains and were treated at San Rafael General Hospital. Keller was in good condition at the same hospital today. Dahl was unhurt.

Seminary Touring Company To Present Music Revue

"Acts 2:12," a musical and satirical revue by Project Vanguard, the San Francisco Theological Seminary touring company, will be presented at 8 p.m. next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church, 120 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

The production will feature a dozen numbers which grew out of a "drama and the church" workshop conducted by Festival Theater director Elizabeth Berryhill at the seminary.

Its title is derived from a biblical verse which reads, "And all were amazed and perplexed, saying to one another, 'What does this mean?'."

195 Courses Scheduled For Evening

A total of 195 College of Marin evening courses for the spring 1966 semester have been announced by Dr. Roy G. Mikalson, dean of the evening college.

The spring schedule includes 86 credit and 109 non-credit classes to start Feb. 7, in Kentfield, Novato, San Anselmo, and Hamilton Air Force Base.

New credit classes are anthropology, computer programming, German, philosophy, and retail buying. New non-credit classes are semiconductor circuit analysis; law for the layman (intermediate); the Middle East: "Patterns of Conflict and Compromise;" history and appreciation of the film; great living religions; sight-singing, rhythm, and ear-training (intermediate); special lip reading section for senior citizens; retail sales training; air conditioning and refrigeration (advanced); leadership training; and pre-school volunteer training.

Registration for credit classes will be from 9:30 a.m. until noon and from 7 to 8:30 p.m., Feb. 3, in Room 96 in Olney Hall at the Kentfield campus, or by mail if postmarked no later than Jan. 21. Mail registration kits may be obtained by writing or telephoning the evening college office. Counseling is by appointment with the dean of Students office.

A $5 per course fee is charged all adults except those taking 10 or more hours of credit courses and persons enrolled in English for the foreign born, citizenship training, piloting and small boat handling, workshop for braille transcribers, and performance classes such as community band, orchestra and chorus. Certain classes including ceramics, lapidary art, machine shop have an additional fee to cover cost of materials used.

Complete list of classes is available from the college.

Hall Re-Named As President Of Contractors

Frank H. Hall of Santa Rosa was returned to a second term as president of the Plumbing, Hearting and Cooling Contractors of Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino Counties at a meeting of directors last night.

Kenneth Testa, of Testa Plumbing, San Rafael, who lives at 489 Wilson Avenue, Novato, was given a second term as first vice president, and Russell C. Thompson, of Currie Heating and Plumbing Co., San Rafael, who lives in Palo Alto, was returned as second vice president.

Richard Peterson of Sonoma was named secretary, and Edward H. Dill of Mill Valley, treasurer. New sergeant-at-arms is William Palmer of Healdsburg.

J. S. Stites of Cotati was named a director, replacing Louis Wilson of Santa Rosa, who resigned.

State Art Commission Tours Civic Center

The California State Arts Commission recessed its meeting at the Marin County Civic Center this morning soon after convening.

Members wanted to tour the building.

It was the first time the year-old commission had met in Marin, which is represented on the 10-member commission by Mrs. Roger Kent of Kentfield.

Commissioners were guests of the Marin Museum Assn. for lunch at Peacock Gap.

Meeting Postponed

The Tomales High School District board postponed its regularly scheduled meeting from last night until 8 p.m. next Thursday at the Tomales High School because members wanted to attend last night's meeting of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

BATTLE NOT OVER

Scenic Roads Aide Views Marincello

"Obviously, the Marincello battle is not over; it has simply moved to new ground."

This declaration was voiced by Peter D. Whitney, executive director of the Scenic Roads Assn., in his annual report to memebrs, which was sent out this week.

Terming county supervisors' Nov. 12 approval of the Marincello master plan a "disgraceful. . .capitulation to hungry money and political shenanigans," Whitney predicted its opponents could still do a great deal to block its completion, particularly under the density proposed in the plan.

"The grant of density . . . is no more binding than that of any other master plan," said Whitney. "The board of supervisors . . . may still decide that each individual development plan is excessive in these and other respects.

"The high-rise apartments and the industrial zone could still be eliminated or curbed.

"It is important, therefore, that all of us be prepared to make the necessary appearance at the Civic Center in the next, precedent-setting year."

Meanwhile, added Whitney, association members "should let our supervisors know by letters, phone calls and—most important of all—by our votes, how we feel" about approval of the Marincello plan.

"Marin was betrayed that day, in a big way," wrote Whitney. "We suffered not the usual small nibbles that are taken by puny developers but a great, raw, bleeding shark-bite."

In another section of the report, Whitney told members they should be prepared to support a legitimate proposal for a true "new town," with a self-sustaining economy, few commuters and which "perhaps will even make a real contribution to the tax base—that issue which seems to blind everybody's vision."

"Such a new town," he said, "should have two absolutely essential characteristics:

"A. It should be remote from San Francisco.

"B. It should be surrounded by an inviolable greenbelt."

Whitney's report wound up by discussing the proposed West Marin Plan and the newly adopted county parks and recreation plan, and how each affects the Shoreline Highway.

He lamented that the West Marin Plan, after review by the county planning commission, had "a much heightened emphasis on four-laning of the road," but noted that "some very badly written language" dealing with the highway had been deleted from the parks plan, leaving it "in a form that protects Route One."

"Both these plans," Whitney concluded, "underline the obvious fact that the county's next big highway fracas is going to be precipitated by the freewayizing of Route 17—Sir Francis Drake, plus Miracle Mile—from San Rafael to Point Reyes Station."

"San Anselmo and Fairfax are up in arms—rightly, we believe.

"Some day we are going to have to make up our minds to say 'no' to the automobile, particularly the use of the automobile for commuting."

Skunk Shot By Rancher Was Rabid

Marin County has encountered its first rabid animal of the year.

Tests by the Marin County Health Department yesterday proved that a skunk shot last week by a Chileno Valley rancher in his dog pen was rabid.

Dan R. Pelz, health education director for the health department, said two of three dogs in the pen have been destroyed because they were not vaccinated. A third dog will be placed under quarantine.

County firemen picked up the dead skunk Jan. 6 from the home of George Eggers, 5772 Chileno Valley Road.

Pelz also released the final statistics on last year's rabid animals in Marin: seven rabid skunks, a rabid bat and a rabid cow.

Man To Be Arraigned In Lewd Film Charge

Dr. Charles Frederick Tobin, 41, arrested yesterday for alleged distribution of lewd movie film, was scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

He is free on $1,100 bail.

Dr. Tobin, a dentist practicing in San Francisco and residing at 101 San Gabriel Drive, Fairfax, is also charged with dispensing dangerous drugs without a proper label. Both counts are misdemeanors.

He was arrested by a district attorney's investigator and San Anselmo and Fairfax police after allegedly attempting to sell a can of 16-millimeter film to a 22-year-old woman in a San Anselmo bar.

Officers said he first approached her about posing in the nude for photographs, then suggested she buy the movie film for $32. Officers said the woman, a Corte Madera divorcee, took the film without paying, saying she would check with her "brother-in-law," then notified police.

They said Dr. Tobin also gave her 38 pills, including pep pills and barbituates and in an unlabeled container.

When arrested, officers said, Tobin had 18 more cans of movie film in his car trunk, along with 15 still photographs of females in suggestive poses.

Source of the film was reportedly from an unidentified East Bay dentist, the woman told officers. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Dr. Tobin, married and the father of five children, has no known police record.

He also said there is no indication of other films having been sold by the suspect, or any organized ring dealing in their distribution.

Narcotics Case Girl Released

Count of possession of marijuana and narcotics were dismissed against Karen Lee Ames, 19, in Marin Municipal Court yesterday following a preliminary hearing.

Her companion, Marc Torvend Ford, 18, of Sausalito, was bound over to Marin Superior Court on both counts, however, and also for concealing stolen property.

Both were accused of having marijuana and traces of methadone hydrochloride, morphine and atrophine in a saddle bag of Ford's at Miss Ames's apartment in Hilarita Housing in Tiburon on Dec. 29. Officers making the search said Ford also had stolen credit cards among his belongings. He is held in lieu of $5,500 bail.

4-H Youngsters In Guide Dog Show

Marin 4-H Club members raising puppies for Guide Dogs for the Blind will present a show at the annual meeting of the Guide Dogs organization Monday at the national headquarters, 350 Los Ranchitos Road, near San Rafael.

The meeting will start at 11 a.m. and more than 150 advisory board members and blind graduates of the school, with their guide dogs, are expected. Reports will be given on research, breeding, testing, training and student applications.

The 4-H Club group, known as the Marin Vips (for Very Important Puppies) will show the puppies they are raising as an accredited 4-H project.

Chamber Sets Date For Dinner

The annual Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce dinner and installation of officers will be held at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 9, at Sabella's Restaurant, directors agreed Wednesday.

Guido Todaro, Jerry D. Carver and chamber president Charles F. Francis were named to the committee on arrangements and program.

Francis appointed Samuel Schneider, chairman, Lawrence A. Mayer and Jayne Camp, to the new merchants advisory committee.

Viet War Debate Set In Sausalito

"Is the Viet Nam War Justified?" will be the topic of a debate at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito, sponsored by the Sausalito Democratic Club.

Richard K. Lynn, San Francisco businessman billed as an expert on southeast Asia, will speak in favor of the U.S. administration's policy toward Viet Nam. Asst. Professor Mark Mancall of tSanford University, will speak in opposition.

Tiburon Planners Agreed On Layout

After a two-hour study session on the proposed Tiburon downtown plan Wednesday, planning commissioners seemed to be in general agreement that they like it, Chairman Stephen H. Nash reported.

Nash said there will probably be two more study sessions on the plan being prepared by the planning consultant firm of Callister and Payne, the first on Jan. 31, before the next public presentation of the plan. Warren Callister, president of the firm, said he would provide a text of the plan at the next study session, Nash reported. When the plan was first presented to the planners on Dec. 20 only maps were shown.

Mosher Elected Memorial Aide

Francis W. Mosher Jr. of Mill Valley, past commander of Mill Valley Post 284, American Legion, has been elected chairman of the Marin County Memorial Day Observance Committee. He succeeds Roy Partridge of Larkspur.

Aubrey Mahaney of San Rafael was named co-chairman; Irving Blabon, Santa Venetia, re-elected secretary; and James V. Burdick, Novato, reelected finance officer.

Program plans to observe memorial day May 30 on the courthouse steps in San Rafael will be made by the committee at a meeting Feb. 8 in room 306 in the courthouse, Mosher reported.

Novato Bartender Awarded Damages

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday awarded a Novato bartender, George Johnsen, $8,500 for injuries suffered in a traffic accident in Mill Valley on Oct. 30, 1962.

Defendant was Sullivan's Pet Supply Co., San Francisco. Johnsen, of Kaehler Street, charged negligence in driving the supply company's vehicle caused the wreck on East Blithedale Avenue near Sycamore Avenue and resulting in his suffering a ruptured disk of the lower vertebra.

He asked $100,000 damages. The suit, filed June 14, 1963, was heard before Judge Thomas F. Keating.

THEY GIVE THEIR ALL FOR DEAR OLD TROY

This is "Basketball Spirit Week" at Terra Linda High School, and a highlight yesterday was the pie-eating contest—a hallowed ritual which is supposed to somehow inspire the students to greater spirit on behalf of the Trojan waxed court artists. Waiting to pitch into the pies (above) are contestants (seated, from left) Al Lundmark, Brian Perron, Jim Phillips, Bill Cuneo, and John Dohn, backed by their fair sponsors, Diane Herrera, Kathy Epidendio, Paula Brink, Kathy McKee, and Shirley McClain. In second picture, Cuneo is really down to business, eating the pie the only way possible since contestants had to keep their hands behind them. In bottom photo, winner Phillips, his pie all eaten except what remains on his face, smiles in triumph. On to glory. Troy! (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

Tiburon Approves Duplex Proposal

The Tiburon City Council last night unanimously granted Harold Youngman permission to build a duplex on a 7,500-square foot lot at 1851 Mar West Street, although an ordinance is before the planning commission to raise the minimum duplex lot to 10,000 square feet.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs questioned the action but decided to "go along with it."

The ordinance to raise the minimum lot size was protested by about 50 citizens at a planning commission meeting on Nov. 16. It is on the planning agenda again Monday night.

In a meeting dealing mostly with planning matters, the council also granted permission to the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church for a nursery school for 3 and 4-year-olds at the church at 9 Shepherd Way.

A letters from Beverly-Bastian, director of the Belvedere Nursery School, objected to the permit. There are enough such schools in the Tiburon-Belvedere area, she contended.

"We have no right to tell people what kinds of businesses they can go into," said Councilman Jacqueline A. Parnell. "We're only concerned with zoning."

The Tiburon City Council Also:

1. Referred to City Atty. Robert I. Conn a proposed ordinance to prohibit firearms in the city.
2. Approved annexing Mercury Road in Belveron Gardens to the Tiburon Fire Protection District.
3. Approved a three-lot subdivision on 1.7 acres at the end of Round Hill Road above Reed School, requested by Barbara Norwitt.
4. Granted Alan Regan permission to build a single-family dwelling in a duplex zone at 2343 Mar East Street.
5. Referred to a committee of Councilmen John S. Hoffmire Jr. and Parnell a proposed community antenna systems ordinance prepared by the League of California Cities.
6. Gave first reading to an ordinance to prohibit real estate advertisement signs on public thoroughfares.
7. Approved a 118-square foot parallel parking lot for Fred Zelinsky on Tiburon Boulevard between Beach Road and the Tiburon Lodge Motel.
8. Approved a stop sign on the northeast corner of Gelbert Drive and Rowley Circle in the Del Mar Estates area.
9. Authorized City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose to enter an agreement with De Long Chevrolet Co. to lease a pick-up truck with option to purchase at $79 per month. The truck will be used by the maintenance department. There were three other bidders.
10. Considered a request from the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce for Christmas decoration funds and instructed Rose to meet with chamber representatives to discuss the matter further.
11. Appointed Rose as representative to the county urban thoroughfare committee.
12. Authorized Rose to seek bids for public liability insurance for the city.
13. Approved a 38-foot pier for a duplex Fred Jukich is building in Lyford Cove on Paradise Drive, next to the stone Tower Apartments.
14. Granted permit for the new post office building to be built on Beach Road between Juanita Lane and Main Street by Belvedere Land Co.
15. Changed the name of Vistazo West Street to Matschek Drive.

$246,000 School Bonds Due Vote

The West Marin School District board last night called for an April 19 election in which voters will be asked to approve a $246,000 bond issue for an addition to West Marin School.

Four board members agreed on this during a special meeting with representatives of Haines, Tatarian and Associates of San Francisco, chosen as architects for the work. Board member Donald J. McIsaac was absent due to illness.

The board also authorized the architects to begin preliminary drawings on the addition, which Supt. Howard F. Brose said probably will house a library and three classrooms.

Brose predicted construction could begin by June, if plans are approved by the state without delay — and if the voters approve the bond issue.

Sons Of Norway

Marinites of Norwegian descent who wish to become charter members of a new chapter of the Sons of Norway may attend an organizational meeting to be held Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. at Odd Fellows Hall, 1522 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Attorney Makes Citizen's Arrest Of Marin Dentist

A Sausalito attorney yesterday made a citizen's arrest of his former landlord, a San Rafael dentist, on a charge the dentist broke into his apartment and stole his belongings.

San Rafael police said they accompanied John William Kaup III of 12 Platte Avenue, Sausalito, to the office of Dr. Robert Earl Smith at 908 E Street, San Rafael, so Kaup could make the arrest.

Smith insisted he had moved Kaup's clothes and other belongings because Kaup failed to pay his rent for a month. He said they were in storage and available to Kaup.

Smith was released on his own recognizance.

Installation Date

Installation of officers of Mount Tamalpais Parlor 64, Naive Sons of the Golden West, will be at 8 p.m. Monday at the Portuguese-American Hall, San Rafael, not Sunday as erroneously reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Moyers Likes Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers says he likes his job and expects to keep it for the foreseeable future. The Washington Post reported yesterday Moyers is seeking a successor but he said he isn't seeking a successor, expects to keep the job.

Cohen Sets Study Of U.S. Funds

Larkspur School District Supt. Milton S. Cohen told district trustees last night that he will try to set up a research project with nearby school districts to use funds available under Title Three of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Funds are available for research to help teachers do a better job, Cohen said. But allocations to a single district are too small—Larkspur is allocated only $1,400—for that district to make a comprehensive study on its own, Cohen said.

Cohen said he will attempt to set up a research center in one school where library materials for both teachers and students may be studied. He said he has not yet consulted with other districts.

Larkspur school district board also:

1. Approved the calendar for 1966-67 school year, with classes beginning Sept. 12 and ending June 16.
2. Heard a report on the role of the teaching vice principal in district schools. His job is that of master teacher, Cohen said.
3. Hired Thomas Ellerbee to replace J. H. Thrailkill as district custodian. Thrailkill resigned.

Another Gallinas Services District Director Resigns

Another director of the Gallinas Villiage Communiity Services District resigned last night.

Mrs. Alys Durenberger, whose term runs until April of 1968, quit the board. At last month's meeting, Harry Thomas resigned.

"I'm a little sick of it," Mrs. Durenberger said today.

The directors have been under fire over park plans and continuing sewer problems.

Directors last night named David Banfield of 308 Vendola Drive to fill Thomas's seat. That position and those of Eugene Campbell and John Miller will be up for election in June.

The board last night settled this by consolidating the district election, which would otherwise be in April, with the June 7 primary, with the hope of getting more interest then, Mrs. Durenberger said.

Miller was named chairman of the board, replacing Herbert C. Belben Jr.

Directors changed the status of maintenance man Fran Reis from part to full time, raising his salary from $350 to $600 a month.

Novatan Faces Old Complaint

San Rafael police yesterday arrested a Novato man on a burglary charge dating back to 1963 in Santa Clara County.

Michael William Rice, 22, of 95 Mistletoe Lane, Novato, was to be arraigned today in Palo Alto Municipal Court on the charge of stealing a hand power saw while he was a student of Foothill Junior College, Los Altos.

The theft came to San Rafael police attention when Rice pawned the saw in San Rafael. It was traced through the serial number.

Today is Friday, Jan. 14, the 14th day of 1966 with 351 to follow.

The moon is approaching the new stage. No morning stars. The evening stars are Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Philippine statesman Carlos Romulo was born on this day in 1899.

In 1914, Henry Ford began making automobiles by the assembly line method.

In 1943 President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill began a 10-day meeting in Morocco to plan allied offensives aimed as the "unconditional surrender" of the Axis powers.

In 1959, the firing squads of Cuban Premier Castro executed 220 persons in two weeks.

In 1964, more than 140 persons died before a driving snowstorm finally ended in the East.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Most Hands Begin With Little Indication How Suits To Break

You must begin most hands with only a rough idea of how the key suits are going to break.

For example, you may not know how the trumps are going to break, but you should know which opponent will be short if the suit does break badly.

Opening lead — ♣ K

Three experts played today's hand at four spades during the team trials in San Francisco last November. In each case dummy's ace of clubs won the first trick.

SINGLETON

It should have been clear that if the trumps broke 4-1, West would have the singleton.

West probably had eight cards in clubs and hearts combined, and East only five cards in those two suits.

There was more room for spades in the East than in the West hand.

One declarer failed by leading dummy's low trump to the king. He continued with the ace and ten of trumps, driving out East's queen.

RETURNS DIAMOND

East returned a diamond to dummy's ace, and West led another diamond when he got in with the queen of clubs.

This forced South to ruff, and he had to use up his last trump to draw East's eight.

South ran the clubs, but West took the last two tricks with the ace of hearts and a diamond.

Down one.

TWO EXPERTS

The other two experts, Ivan Erdos and Edgar Kaplan, guarded against the bad trump break by leading dummy's ace of trumps first.

Dummy's ten came next, covered by the queen and king.

South drew one more trump with the nine and then knocked out the queen of clubs.

West could not make declarer ruff because the ace of diamonds was still in the dummy.

South could run the clubs and lead a heart to make sure of a trick with dummy's king, thus fulfilling the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner doubles, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K 9 5 3 2
♥ 10 4
♦ J
♣ J 9 6 4 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs.

Do not pass the double for penalties merely because you have length in spades.

You can afford to pass only when your trumps are solid enough to draw trumps as though you were declarer.

A Distinct Departure
From the prosaic view of the mill home. Presenting a residence warm & inviting at first glance. In a setting of giant redwoods, a level site with the entire grounds professionally landscaped. In the home, of clerestory design, plank flooring with walnut finish, exposed beams, 3 bdrms. & 2 baths. Close to all conveniences.

Discount Sale
4 PERSONAL COMPANY CARS

We are now offering four of our company owned, almost-new 1965 Buicks that have been used during part of 1965 as personal, family cars by our department heads.

They have never been licensed thus carry the full 2-year new car General Motors guarantee. All have low mileage and you can't tell they have ever been on the road. The prices below are Kelly Blue Book average prices for used models without any guarantee. But we offer the full 2-year or 24,000 mile new car guarantee.

RIVIERA $4095
Here's the most luxurious car on the American road today. Driven by our company president for approximately 7,000 miles. Fully equipped including factory air conditioning, power steering, brakes, seat and windows. New car window price was $5861.

WILDCAT 4-DR. HDTP. $3295
Our sales manager drove this car 6,500 miles. Can't tell from brand new. All white with black leather seats. Full power including steering, brakes, seat and windows. New car window price was $4800.

SPECIAL 4-DR. SEDAN $2395
Forest Green with matching upholstery, 6,000 miles. Our used car manager's personal car. Power steering, automatic trans., radio, heater, W W tires, V-8 and lots of other factory extras. New car window price was $3272.

SPECIAL 4-DR. SEDAN $2195
A real economy buy here in this little V-6 Special 4-dr. Automatic trans., radio, heater and lots of Buick luxury items. You should get over 20 miles to the gallon on this little car. New car window price was $2945.

CITY OF SAN ANSELMO
RESOLUTION NO. 1083
RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO CITY OF SAN ANSELMO OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED "SUNNY HILLS LANDS" AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN ANSELMO:

1. That pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, a petition signed by owners of not less than one-fourth of the land in the hereinafter described territory, by area and by assessed value as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Marin, was filed with the Council of the City of San Anselmo on October 27, 1965, requesting annexation of the hereinafter described territory to said City.

2. That the territory which the petitioners request be annexed to the City of San Anselmo and which said City and its Council propose to annex, is situate in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated "Sunny Hills Lands", and described as follows:

EXHIBIT "A"
10/20/65

Description of proposed annexation area, prepared from Record data, of Northerly portion of Sunny Hills Lands to be annexed.

Lying within the County of Marin and being the Northerly portion of the Lands of the San Francisco Presbyterian Orphanage, as was conveyed by deed recorded in Liber 211, Book of Deeds, Page 177, Marin County Records, said lands more particularly delineated on that certain map entitled "Amended Record of Survey Map of the Sunny Hills Orphanage School", recorded in Book 3 of Maps, Page 132, Marin County Records; said Northerly portion more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at the intersection of the present Northerly City Limit Line of the City of San Anselmo, with the Easterly boundary of said Sunny Hills Lands, said line being the Easterly line of Rancho Canada De Herrera, at a point lying S11° 35' 26"W, 824.08 feet more or less from the 1½" iron pipe and tag marking the most Northerly corner of said Sunny Hills Lands; thence along said City Limit Line, Northwesterly 633.75 feet more or less, to its intersection of a portion of the Northwesterly boundary of said Sunny Hills lands, on a course delineated as N27° 44'E, 421.10 feet, on said Record Map, said intersection lies N27° 44'E, 321.1 feet more or less from a 1½" iron pipe and tag, marking the Southerly terminus of said course; thence along said Sunny Hills line, N27° 44'E, 100.0 feet to a 1½" iron pipe and tag; thence N80° 59'E, 250.80 feet to a 1½" iron pipe and tag; thence N58° 12'E, 304.0 feet to a 1½" iron pipe and tag; thence, N52° 12'E, 168.00 feet to a 1½" iron pipe and tag, at the most Northerly corner of said Sunny Hills lands; thence S11° 35' 26"W, 824.08 feet more or less to the Point of beginning; Bearings TRUE, based on said Record of Survey, all tags referred to bear the inscription, "R. S. HOGAN, L.S. 2798".

3. That the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, did in session duly assembled on January 8, 1966, consider the proposed annexation boundaries of said "Sunny Hills Lands", as above described, and as submitted to said Commission by the proponents of said annexation.

4. That Tuesday, February 8, 1966, at the hour of 8:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in the City of San Anselmo, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of San Anselmo, having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the City of San Anselmo and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to the City of San Anselmo. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the description and area of such property, in general terms.

5. The City Clerk of the City of San Anselmo is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published outside the City of San Anselmo, but in the County of Marin, California, the county in which is located the territory proposed to be annexed to the City of San Anselmo, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.

6. The said City Clerk is further authorized and directed to cause written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to each person to whom land within the territory proposed to be annexed was assessed in the last equalized county assessment roll available on the date the above said proceedings were initiated, at the addresses shown on said assessment roll or known to said Clerk, and to any person who has filed his name and address and the designation of the lands in which he has an interest, either legal or equitable, with said Clerk, such notice to be given not less than twenty (20) days before the first public hearing on the proposed annexation.

7. In the event any land within the territory proposed to be annexed is owned by a county, the City Clerk is directed to cause written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to the Board of Supervisors of such county, such notice to be given not less than twenty (20) days before the first public hearing on the proposed annexation.

8. In the event there is, upon the land proposed to be annexed to said City, a structural improvement owned, being acquired or leased by a county fire protection district, the City is directed to cause written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to the governing body of such district, such notice to be sent not less than ten (10) days before the first public hearing upon such proposed annexation.

9. The City Clerk is directed to cause written notice to be given to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

ADOPTED THIS 11TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1966, by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen Clute, Reichmuth, Franchini, Smith, Caputro

Physical Fitness Session To Open

Signups for the youth physical fitness program of the San Rafael Recreation Department will be taken from 9 a.m. to noon tomorrow at San Rafael High School.

The spring session will continue previous circuit training programs but will add new classes in self-defense and combatives. The first four Saturdays will have sessions on judo, followed by four classes on wrestling and two weeks on other forms of self-defense.

The program is open to boys and girls, 7 to 12 years old. A demonstration of judo and wrestling will be given at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Coin-Toss Election Results Corrected

It was Henry J. Alvernaz of 1048 Eighth Street, Novato, who tied with Joseph Silveira for the Novato Fire District board last April, and not Robert Busher as incorrectly stated in last night's Independent - Journal. Silveira won the election by a toss of a coin over Alvernaz. Busher was recommended by commissioners Wednesday night for appointment to fill a vacancy on the board.

Reports from 223 religious bodies in the United States show an enrollment of 45,805,074 in 281,593 Sunday or Sabbath schools, according to the Yearbook of American Churches.

TELEVISION REVIEW

New Red Buttons Show Needs Work

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) J Secret agents are generally a miserable bunch of creeps, and in all my years of spying I never met one that I could have felt comfortable with in the billard rooms of my baronial estate hidden away in Perth Amboy, N.J.

Time and again my services were sought, and money and women and Rolls-Royces were thrown at me, but I wanted to get out of the secret agent business because, in addition to the bad company, the future had limited possibilities.

I tell you this highly personal and heretofore unrevealed information so that you will understand my sympathy for the basic notion of the premiere of last night's new ABC-TV series, "The Double Life of Henry Phyfe," which is a half-hour comedy about a man who doesn't want to be a secret agent.

The man in question is portrayed by Red Buttons, and the reason that he doesn't want to be a secret agent is that he is happy with his present job, which is that of an accountant. Unfortunately, this mild-mannered fellow, who is also a big bit of a schnook—no, make that a whole lot of a schnook—has the ill luck to look almost exactly like a famous foreign agent who has been killed in a traffic accident, unknown to the government that employs him.

A Mr. Hannahan, regional director of a counterintelligence agency —portrayed by the slow-burn artist Fred Clark—pursues and finally recruits Buttons to impersonate the dead agent for the good of 194 million Americans. And therein lies the series.

Now I told you that my sympathy is with the notion of the show. For here is this meek little nothing, wearing an everyman hat and puffing a cigar right in the middle of his mouth—and suddenly people want him to start risking his life. He sympathizes with the 194 million Americans, but in truth, he wants no part of heroism or the secret agent nonsense.

I spend all this time telling you the set up because I hope you can visualize all the possibilities that last night's premiere generally failed to pull off. That doesn't mean we should give up too quickly on 'The Double Life of Henry Phyfe" because it has good people and a good basic idea and the absurd situations could well serve as an antidote to the secret agent craze now pummeling us.

Last night's debut was struggling and too weak in its rather inane section that found Clark pursuing Buttons. Once he was hooked, though, there were moments that smacked of promise. To see Buttons go continuously into a burlesque, sag under the weight of a 15-pound bullet-proof vest was funny, if not very new. And he even got some laughs out of the ancient ploy of having trouble mounting a horse (en route to meeting another agent on a bridle path).

This genuine sense of absurdity, of an average man—or schnook, if you please—reacting to the unreality of Secret Agentsville, could even allow for legitimate social comment in coming weeks (but don't hold your breath). In any case, as we used to teach in Perth Amboy, secret agents never fade away, they just die—and ABC-TV will have to work very hard to prevent the same from happening to Henry Phyfe.

GOP Given TV Time To Discuss LBJ Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—All three television networks will give Republicans a half-hour next Monday night to discuss President Johnson's State of the Union message.

The President's address to Congress will be assessed by Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., and Rep. Gerald B. Ford, R-Mich., in a program taped for telecast by the Columbia Broadcasting System at 10:30 p.m. and by the National and American Broadcasting companies at 11:30 p.m.

Novato, Lagunitas Get Federal Cash

The state Board of Education has approved more than $81,000 in federally financed projects for disadvantaged children in two Marin County school districts.

Bulk of the money will go to the Novato Unified School District, which will use its $75,549 grant to set up a language program, hire two teachers and buy a 79-passenger bus.

The rest, $5,600, will go to the Lagunitas School District to hire a teacher for remedial reading and mathematics.

State board members approved the Marin projects as part of 95 from district throughout the state. More than $6 million was involved.

177,000 Visit National Seashore

Point Reyes National Seashore attracted 177,000 visitors during 1965, Park Supt. Leslie P. Arnberger reported today.

The first access road to Point Reyes Beach opened last February, and more than 93,000 people visited that area, he said. Bear Valley back country opened in April and more than 26,000 visitors walked the upland trails that lead to the sea.

Arnberger predicted a new access road to Point Reyes Beach will be completed this year. Drake's Beach will be the focal point of new development with the building of a new access road from Sir Francis Drake Highway, visitor use buildings, picnic facilities, and life guard towers, all scheduled to be completed during the year. These areas are presently closed while construction is in progress.

Expansion of the trail system at Bear Valley will include an additional 25 miles of trail for hikers and horseback riders. This will bring the system to a total of some 40 miles of trails.

Visits to Point Reyes in 1965 greatly exceeded the year before and 1966 is expected to show a corresponding increase, Arnberger completed.

West Marin Master Plan On Commissioners' Agenda

Once again the Marin County Planning Commission will discuss Monday the West Marin Master Plan, probably centering talk on the housing density issue.

The commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The hearing on the master plan will be soon after 2 p.m.

Scheduled at 2 p.m. is the master plan for the 170-acre Dias Ranch west of Mill Valley, where developer Alfred J. Stern has proposed 3.5 dwelling units per acre.

Early in the morning session the commission is to consider again light industrial zoning around the county airport at Novato. Two weeks ago, the commission was concerned about putting tideland along the Petaluma River in industrial zone. It is now zoned for agriculture.

Item eight on the agenda is the request of Charles Tijerina for medical and dental offices on the second floor of the Alto branch of the Tiburon National Bank.

Item 10 is the application of Loyal Davis for approval of an eight-unit apartment development at 548 Miller Avenue, outside Mill Valley.

Item 16 is the request of Hidden Harbor Corp. for an exception to the underground utility requirement in a proposed Black Point subdivision.

Computer Flunks At Grading Tests

AUBURN (AP) — G. A. LaPlante, schools superintendent, told district trustees yesterday he was doing away with computer-grading of pupils' tests.

In the future, teachers will do the grading, he said.

The machine, he explained, made too many mistakes.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Independent - Journal Historian Florence Donnelly continues her Marin Magazine series tomorrow on the early-day Marinites who started the county on its way to greatness. Her subjects this time are the members of the Sais family, granted the Canada de Herrera in which lay roughly the areas that are now San Anselmo and Fairfax. Their roles were important ones in the growth and development of Marin.

Timm Williams is a fullblooded Yurok Indian. And as such, he has taken a keen interest in the perpetuation of the traditions of his tribe. One method he has adopted is to make his own authentic ceremonial dancing costumes. The I-J supplement tomorrow shows you some of that dress, rich in tradition and meaning, and tells you how Williams and his fellow tribesmen make the garments and ornaments.

Durocher Exudes Boyish Enthusiasm

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Leo Durocher, as enthusiastic as a school boy with a hot rod, has left little doubt that he will be the rudder that guides the Chicago Cubs out of the depths of the National League.

The new Cub skipper was starred yesterday in a big press-radio-television gathering and pumped out these ideas:

"The Cubs don't belong in eighth place and my job is to get them out. I am as enthusiastic as if I were in my first year as a player or a manager. I'll press the buttons, but the players really make the manager.

"Give me players making $8,000 $10,000 or $15,000 — players who are hungry and want to make more — then you'll have hustle. I don't want a bunch of $40,000-$50,000 players.

"I've heard the Cubs have been complacent or self satisfied. I don't know if that's true, but if it is, I'll change it. They are going to hustle. If they don't, we'll just back up the truck.

"I know we won't finish eighth or worse. If we do, you can come get me with a net, but Mr. Wrigley probably will be ahead of you.

"I'll be in charge. When I give a bunt sign, my player won't step out of the box as if to challenge it. When I give the hit and run, it will go unchallenged.

"My job is to get the 25 players thinking as one — that we can win. We are going to do something — bunt, drag, run. I want daring players — we aren't going to play scared.

"We'll have four leg men in the line-up — Ty Cline, Billy Williams, Don Kessinger and Glenn Beckert. No team in the league has more than four real speed boys. Who do the Dodgers have back of Maury Wills, Willie Davis and Wes Parker? Well, maybe you could include Lou Johnson."

Owner P.K. Wrigley remained in his country place at Lake Geneva, Wis., but his son Bill, was on hand for the Durocher doings.

Bill said:

"I talked to dad and he said that it would just be a waste of time for him to come in for the press luncheon because in Leo Durocher we have the greatest news source now on the sports scene. Dad's been delighted with the way Leo has taken over, and so am I. I don't believe there's any doubt that he's going to lead us upward in the standings.

"Leo has confidence, and that's about the greatest thing you can have going for you. And it's already beginning to reflect in the players. He's going to make the players believe in themselves, and that's one thing that has been lacking."

JOIN GUESSING GAME: HOW MUCH FOR MAYS?

The annual guessing game has started: How much will Willie Mays earn this season?

The San Francisco Giants center fielder already tops all active baseball players at $105,000 and after his Most Valuable Player heroics last season when he hit 52 home runs it's a cinch he'll get a raise. But how much?

Some experts guess anywhere between $115,000 and $150,000. Club vice president Chub Feeney admits, "Willie will probably top all past figures," referring to the $125,000 reportedly earned by Ted Williams in his hey-day.

Giant president Horace Stoneham isn't revealing any figures, so guess again.

Pros Rip Par At San Diego

By BOB MYERS

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tommy Aaron, who led in the first round in 11 PGA golf tournaments last year, but never won one, and husky Chris Blocker, whose name may ring a bell with television fans, led the way into the second round today of the $40,000 San Diego Open.

The pair shot 6-under-par 65s in the first round, but a small army of rival professionals was too close for comfort as play resumed today over the par 35-36—71 Stardust Country Club course.

Blocker, a 195-pounder from Jal, N.M., is the cousin of Dan Blocker, "Hoss" of the Bonanza TV series.

Chris is starting his second year on the circuit. He won $1,400 in the Los Angeles Open last year.

Aaron, 28, is rated one of the most consistent pros in the business, although he has never won a national title.

Thirty-nine players bettered par in yesterday's first round. But the carnage wasn't as bad as a year ago when 51 shattered regulation figures in the initial round.

Unheralded Lou Graham from Nashville, Tenn., started today's round one shot back of the co-leaders and tied at 67 were Mason Rudolph, Paul Bondeson, Harold Kneece and Bob Zimmerman.

Better known name players trailed.

Wes Ellis Jr., the 1965 San Diego winner, rested in the 68 bracket in company with six fellow pros, including Mike Souchak and Don January.

Battling to snap out of the doldrums, Souchak shot a 32-36—68 and January a 34-34—68.

Bill Casper Jr., the local favorite, had a 70 and Doug Sanders a 72. Another San Diegan, Gene Littler, also had a 72.

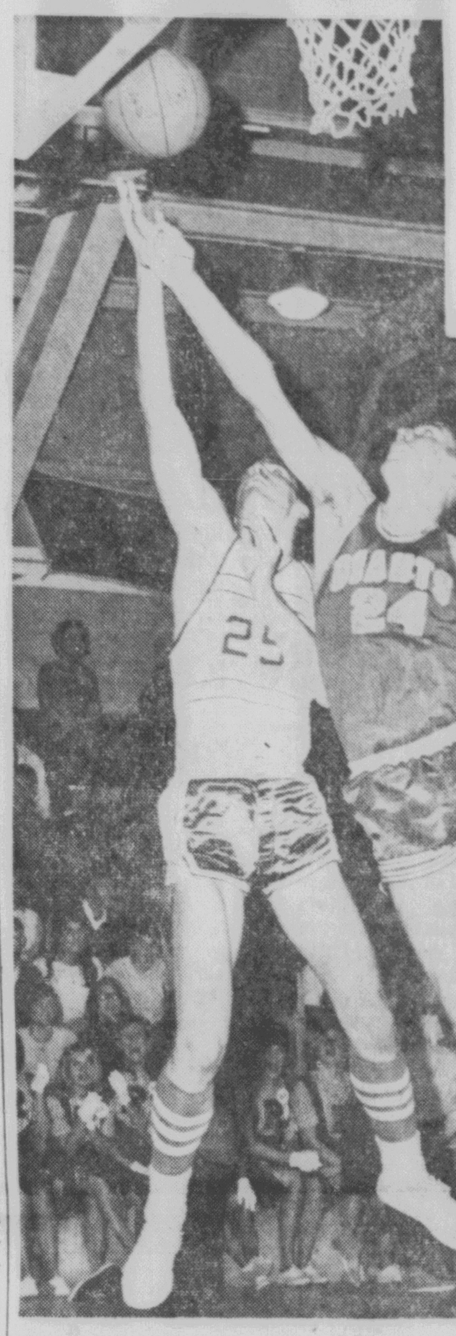
Further back — far back, in fact — was Champagne Tony Lema. It wasn't easy, but he managed to shoot 37-39—76.

Al Geiberger continued to play with a charm token pinned to his cap. It was a plastic blue-and-white bird, a gift from his 2-year-old daughter, Lee Ann.

The bird, according to Geiberger, was responsible for his $500-winning score of 65 in the pro-am Wednesday. And, it may be conjectured, it was responsible for Al keeping in contention in the first round with a 35-35—70.

Probalby the unhappiest golfer around was John Josephson of Westfield, N.J. He had two eagles on the back nine but came up with a 36—and a final score of 72.

Blocker, whose father, George Blocker, is a state representative in New Mexico, had the most spectacular round yesterday. He knocked in birdie putts of 40 and 25 feet and capped the round with a chip shot from 50 feet out on the 18th hole.



PREPS IN ACTION

Chet Carlisle (left) of Drake and Jack Fitzhenry (24) of Redwood, shown scrambling for rebound in their game last week, will be back on the firing line tonight, but against different opposition . . . Drake against Terra Linda and Redwood against Novato.

N.L. Schedule Maker Goofed: Opener Is Three Months Late

The National League schedule maker goofed by 90 days. He should have scheduled the Giants-Chicago Cubs season opener for Jan. 12 instead of April 12.

En route to Candlestick Wednesday for Manager Herman Franks' press conference I couldn't help but admire the perfect conditions for baseball: Hardly a cloud in the sky; barely a whisper of wind; and a good nip in the air—just like Candlestick in August.

NO TRAFFIC problems, either. Why, I drove right up to Horace Stoneham's front door and had my choice of 42,000 seats.

The only things missing were peanuts, soda pop, four umps, 18 players and a game, but what the heck, you can't have everything. So I settled for the next best thing—Franks and stew in the press room. Franks greeted the free-loaders warmly and with relish, but the stew was pretty cold and flat. (Listen to the typical freeloader, will you!)

JUST ABOUT everything Herman said Wednesday appeared in yesterday's garbage can liners (plus the I-J), so I haven't much to add except one story he told about his meeting in Las Vegas the other day with Leo Durocher, baseball's answer to Cassius Clay.

Herman zippered the new Chicago manager's lip with: "Listen, Leo: I played ball for you and I coached for you, so I know everything you know, plus what I know myself. That means I know more than you, right?"

The Lip flipped, chuckled Herman.

AT THE Wednesday press conference I also noticed author Charles Einstein of Mill Valley, who is Willie May's ghost writer, huddled in conversation with Franks and I wondered if they were collaborating on a new book, "The Ghost of Frankenstein." (Sorry about that.)

MUCH OF the Marin Country Club's golf business meetings may be conducted over the back fence: New club prexy Doug Henderson resides at 20 Fairway Drive, which borders the course, and vice-president Sil DeMaestri lives at 50 Fairway.

LOCAL ANGLE, con't.: UCLA's Tommy Prothro and U.C. Santa Barbara's Jack Curtice, named yesterday as the large and small college coaches of the year, will attend the Coach of the Year grid clinic at San Francisco's Hilton Hotel Feb. 12-13, along with such other big names as Duffy Daugherty, Bud Wilkinson, Jack Christiansen, Pappy Waldorf, John Ralston and Ray Willsey.

I'll bet you're asking how in the world I can dig a local angle out of such a hatful of big names. Easy: Corte Madera's Bob Troppmann is clinic manager.

J.C. Crucial At Kentfield: Tars Vs. Tough Santa Rosa

College of Marin's basketball team opens a key weekend tonight in its quest for a Golden Valley Conference championship.

The Mariners host conference favorite Santa Rosa Bear Cubs tonight in Kentfield at 8 o'clock, and then move to Rocklin tomorrow night for a game against Sierra College.

Tonight's game will be aired on Radio Station KTIM, as will all the remaining home games, with Verle Sorgen handling the play-by-play.

Between them, Marin and Santa Rosa have won three games without a defeat in GVC action. Marin whipped Yuba 85-61 last Saturday in its Conference opener and Santa Rosa won a pair on the weekend, 88-62 over the Shasta Knights and 60-54 over Siskiyous College.

LARRY WOLFE
Defensive ace

Marin coach Cal Riemcke, because of Santa Rosa's hot scoring attack, made a change in his starting lineup for tonight's game, bolstering the team's defense. Larry Wolfe will replace Rod Minti at one of the forward spots because of Larry's defensive ability. The 6-3 cager will have a tough task, being assigned to guard Santa Rosa's top scorer John Karlin, a 6-5 all-conference forward.

Fred Arnold and Jim Halm, both 6-7, will be the boys in Riemcke's double post setup. Backcourt men for the Mariners tonight will be Don Hanson, 6-1, and Lorry Galassi, 5-11. Little Bill Pandiani (5-6) is the third guard for the Tars and Bill Brody and Monti will be spelling the front line starters.

"We're ready to go," said Riemcke. "We've been working hard on our defense for this game. This season it's up to our defense and rebounding to carry us."

And Arnold is quite a rebounder for the Tars. The former Novato High School star plucked off 27 rebounds against Yuba last week to crack his own single-game rebounding mark.

Hanson has been Marin's leading scored so far this season and tallied 20 points against Yuba. Arnold had 16 points in that game and Monti had 17. Riemcke concedes he's taking away points by not having Monti in the starting five but emphasizes Wolfe's importance on defense.

Adding scoring punch on the Santa Rosa quint is Bob Butler, a guard who was a Northern California prep standout when he was at Montgomery High in Santa Rosa. He scored 12 points against Shasta and 10 against Siskiyous.

Santa Rosa's season record is 9-4, compared to Marin's 9-5. But Marin is working on a seven-game victory streak and has won 9 of its last 10 games.

Leaders Rest As Marin League Challengers Fire Away Tonight

While six of the Marin Athletic League basketball teams are waging war upon one another tonight, league-leading Tamalpais will sit back and watch.

The surprising Indians have won two close games in league play so far, over Novato and San Rafael, and stand 2-0 in league standings. The Tam boys draw a bye tonight.

Hoping to match Tam's record tonight, the Drake Pirates play at Terra Linda. Redwood is at Novato and San Rafael is at Marin Catholic. Class B games in all three gyms start the action at 7 o'clock, followed by the varsity teams.

Drake won its opening game against Redwood last Friday, 66-54, and then drew a bye last Tuesday. The Trojans of Terra Linda will be trying to bounce back after dropping their first two league games.

That Redwood-Novato game shapes up as a biggie. Each team split its first two games and another loss this early will hurt, as the Giants and Hornets were picked as two of the top three teams in the league. But that was before the start of MCAL play.

Marin Catholic, 1-1, will be trying to redeem itself after a dismal showing against Novato last Tuesday. The Wildcats hit only 18 per cent from the field in losing to Novato, 46-27. San Rafael opened its league slate last Tuesday on the left foot, losing to Tam 44-38.

In the Class B division, Redwood and Tamalpais lightweights are tied for the top with 2-0 records. Since Tam is idle, a Redwood triumph over the Novato Bees would vault the little Giants into the league lead all by themselves.

Our 49ers Dominate West Starting Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two teams — Baltimore and San Francisco — will dominate the West All-Star squad's starting line-up on offense in the 16th annual Pro Bowl game Sunday.

All but two offensive starters for the West in the National Football League finale will be Colts or 49ers.

The exceptions are rookie halfback Gale Sayers of Chicago and guard John Gordy of Detroit.

San Francisco will furnish five starters, including quarterback John Brodie and fullback Ken Willard, also a rookie.

The Green Bay Packers, NFL champions, won't have a man on the starting offensive unit. But there may not be much squawking about that — because Packer coach Vince Lombardi is directing the West.

Lombardi says he has enough worries without listening to complaints from players.

"The main problem in getting ready for a game like this is terminology," Lombardi says. "Take pass routes.

'What we (Green Bay) call a 'fly' (meaning the receiver scoots downfield), San Francisco calls a 'streak.' What we call a 'post' (the receiver heads for the goal post) somebody else calls a 'pole'."

Rounding out Lombardi's starting offense will be end Dave Parks, tackle Walt Rock and center Bruce Bosley, all 49ers; flanker Jimmy Orr, tackle Bob Vogel, guard Jim Parker and end John Mackey, all Colts.

East Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns released this starting line-up:

Chandler Resigns Grid Post

NEW YORK (AP) — A .B. (Happy) Chandler, former commissioner of baseball, resigned as commissioner of the Continental Football League today because of a fight with club owners over the use of optioned players.

Chandler, who was commissioner of the year-old circuit, warned the club owners at the Thursday opening of the two-day midwinter meeting that if they changed the bylaws to permit the use of optioned players he would resign.

"I'll just go back to Kentucky and Mamma," he said.

The former baseball leader, who also has been Kentucky's governor and was in the U.S. Senate when picked for the baseball job, said he took the football post because "the Continental League will be the third major league."

He said use of optioned players by his league was a sure sign that the Continental was a minor league.

His contract had four more years to go at an estimated salary of $30,000 annually.

CAREER IS PERILED

Mantle Plagued Again By Mysterious Ailment

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A mysterious shoulder injury that could curtail his baseball career is a matter of serious concern to New York Yankee baseball star Mickey Mantle.

Contacted at his Dallas, Tex., home, Mantle said he would go to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., early next week for a three-day check-up which will determine his baseball future.

Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk revealed the new injury to the baseball great yesterday, announcing at the same time that southpaw Whitey Ford, ace of the New York pitching staff, had signed his contract for next season.

Ford reportedly signed for $60,000, the same money he received last year when his season record was 16-13. Mantle said he is taking the injury seriously, but indicated he would not actually know what it means to him until the check-up is completed.

"If I am physically able to play and won't embarrass the fans, I desperately want to play another year," Mantle said.

Mantle's legs and a knee injury have troubled him for several seasons, but he said his legs are in "good shape." He said he has been playing golf and running to get into condition for the approaching season.

Mantle said he did not know what caused the injury, but said that he "aggravated" it while playing touch football with his children on Christmas, 1964.

Mantle said the shoulder injury bothered him some during the 1965 season. He only played in 122 games last year, batted .256, hit 19 homers and had only 46 RBI.

He said that he had not been doing any throwing in his pre-season conditioning. The brilliant but brittle outfielder said he would have to wait about throwing until the check-up allows the physicians to determine the extent of the injury.

Ace Tournament At Injun Valley

Novato High School Boosters Club will sponsor a hole-in-one golf contest at the Indian Valley course, Novato, on the next three Saturdays, starting tomorrow.

To help raise funds for the high school's athletic program, the contest will be held at the fourth hole of the course with members of the Novato High golf team officiating. Hours will be 9 a.m. to noon each Saturday and entry fee is 50 cents per shot. Numerous merchandise prizes will be offered.

Rose Is Running Out Of 'Cousins'

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A sportswriter asked Pete Rose, the second baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, whether he thought he'd hit .300 again next season.

Rose, who hit .312 last year, replied:

"Well, I read in the papers that Warren Spahn has retired. I hit 11 for 14 against him. Then Bob Friend was traded to the Yankees. I was 9 for 14 against him. I'm down to .290 already."

Austrian Skiers Sweep Downhill

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP) — The Austrian Women's ski team made a clean sweep of the downhill race of the International Grindelwald ski series today by taking the first four places.

Christl Haas, Olympic downhill medalist, Edith Zimmerman, Erika Schinegger, and Traudl Hecher finished ahead in the field of nearly 80 of the world's best skiers.

AFL Shows New All-Star Format On TV Tomorrow

Champs To Have Their Hands Full

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The two-time champion Buffalo Bills meet a one-week old All-Star team tomorrow in the American Football League's All-Star Bowl — an old game with a new name that closes the season and opens a new chapter in football.

The game, which will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 11 a.m., PST, is a radical departure from the usual post-season All-Star game matching teams from the East and West and thus presents some intriguing situations.

"You've got a highly coordinated team like Buffalo playing against one that's only been together a week," said All-Star Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego in putting his finger on one of the situations created by the new format.

"Agreed," admitted Buffalo Coach Joel Collier, but:

"You've got a team like the All-Stars with highly qualified personnel — more qualified than any other All-Star team the league has ever had.

"There is no place you can let up on them."

And those are some of the ingredients which made the AFL decide in favor of the new set-up after four years of East-West battles. Now it will be the champions' pride and coordination against a vast amount of talent from the league's seven other teams.

Collier will have the same offensive weapons that were available to Saban as the Bills won the AFL championship — quarterback Jack Kemp, the league's most valuable player, running backs Wray Carlton and Billy Joe and receivers such as Bo Roberson, Paul Costa and either Ernie Warlick or Ed Rutkowski.

But Collier will have problems Saban probably never imagined — such as an All-Star offensive front four made up of Earl Faison and Ernie Ladd of San Diego and Kansas City's Buck Buchanan and Jerry Mays a quartet that averages 6-foot-6 and 278 pounds.

The Bills also will have to contend with an All-Star offense that includes the league's No. 1 and 3 passers, San Diego's John Hadl and New York's Joe Namath, and the league's top three rushers, San Diego's Paul Lowe, Denver's Cookie Gilchrist and Oakland's Clem Daniels. In addition, Gillman has the other half of his San Diego running back combination, Keith Lincoln.

Hadl and Namath, who was the only rookie named to the All-Star squad, will have top receivers in Fred Arbanas and Frank Jackson of Kansas City, Willie Frazier of Houston, Gino Cappelletti of Boston and Don Maynard of New York.

However, San Diego's Lance Alworth, the No. 1 threat, likely will see little or no action because of an ankle injury.

Mighty Bruins Invade Berkeley Tonight And Stanford Tomorrow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After just one weekend of Pacific Athletic Conference basketball play, one team remains undefeated and one guess names the club—defending collegiate champion UCLA.

The Bruins whipped Oregon State and Oregon to go 2-0. Oregon lost a pair and each of the other six schools stand 1-1.

This weekend the job of trying to stop the Bruins in their bid for a fifth straight conference title falls first to California at Berkeley tonight and then to Stanford in a Saturday afternoon regionally televised game.

Southern California also invades the Bay Area to first play at Stanford and then at California. Washington goes at Oregon and Washington State at Oregon State tonight and the two Washington schools change Oregon partners for Saturday night.

Stanford perhaps poses the biggest threat to the Uclans. Senior Ray Kosanke scored 47 points as the Indians beat Washington 83-78 and lost to Washington State 61-58.

California's hopes of upsetting the defending champions were lowered when the Bears lost Robby Olson who suffered a fractured ankle. Center Bruce Steckel was ailing at the start of the week, but could see action against the Bruins.

UCLA goes into action with a 9-3 record but hasn't been defeated since Freddie Goss returned to the lineup. Goss missed early games with a stomach ailment.

The Trojans of USC count heavily on center John Block, a 6-9 pivotman who scored 40 points in the Trojans' first two confeernce games as they beat Oregon 92-66 and then fell to Oregon State 59-56.

Washington's center Gordon Harris also has 40 for his first two games.

Looks Like Easy Week For USF '5'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If you like your chances slim and odds long, try giving either Loyola or Pepperdine a chance this weekend when they travel north to meet the University of San Francisco as the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball season goes into its second week.

The USF Dons haven't lost on their home court in 27 straight contests and haven't lost a WCAC game there in four years.

Loyola hasn't beaten the Dons in five years. Although the Lions are improving behind 6-foot-5 forward Bob Burns, they will have to improve considerably more to beat the Dons tonight.

Pepperdine, with only a two-point victory over little Pasadena College standing bare against nine losses, has given opponents 100 or more points a game five times this season.

Before meeting USF Saturday Pepperdine faces Santa Clara tonight. San Jose State is at the University of the Pacific and UC Santa Barbara travels to Moraga to meet St. Mary's in the Gaels' first home court game this season.

PLAY ADJOURNS

After the weekend's action, each WCAC squad will have played three games. Conference play adjourns for the remainder of the month with 11 games to go starting in February.

USF still rates the overwhelming choice to take a fourth straight championship despite the gloomy outlook of coach Pete Peletta.

"I think the conference winner this year will lose two games," says Peletta, whose Dons lost one WCAC game last season. "The conference has much better balance."

Stu Miller Honored By S.F. Scribes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Reliever Stu Miller of the Baltimore Orioles, who posted a 14-7 won-lost record in 1965 along with a sparkling 1.87 earned run average, has been named to receive the "Comeback of the Year Award" from the San Francisco chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

The award will be presented on Feb. 13 at the Mark Hopkins Hotel during the chapter's annual banquet. Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, the National League's Most Valuable Player, also will be honored as "Baseball's Man of the Year."

The 38-year-old Miller, who saw previous major league service with the Giants and Cardinals, was the American League's second best relief pitcher last year behind Eddie Fisher of the Chicago White Sox.

Tickets for the banquet are $15 per person and are available on a limited basis. They may be purchased through the Baseball Writers, Candlestick Park, San Francisco.

Seals Host Seattle Tonight At Palace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Larry Lund leads the Seattle Totems tonight at the Cow Palace against San Francisco in their attempt to stay ahead of the Seals in the battle for the last Western Hockey League playoff spot.

The Totems currently occupy fourth place because of their 4-2 victory yesterday over last-place Los Angeles. Seattle has 29 points and fifth-place San Francisco 28.

Lund was scoreless when traded earlier in the season by San Francisco to Seattle. Since then he's paced a Seattle comeback by putting 10 goals into the nets, four against the Seals.

"So I made a bad deal," Seals' general manager Bud Poile says about the trade of the center to Seattle. "But that is the rub of the game."

The most recent Seal is Stan Gilbertson, a 21-year-old wing from Clinton, N. Y., of the Eastern Amateur League. The Duluth, Minn., native signed a pro contract with Poile yesterday.

Gilbertson is a rarity in United States hockey—he's from the United States. Only three U. S. natives play pro hockey—Gilbertson, the Seals' goalie Jack McCartan and Tom Williams who plays for Boston of the National Hockey League.

Mack Jones Signs

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Mack Jones, who hit 31 home runs in 1965, has signed his 1966 contract with the Braves of the National Baseball League.

TESTIMONY IN COURT

Atlanta Braves Expect Nearly 2 Million Gate

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Braves' baseball team says it expects nearly two million fans to buy tickets to National League games in Atlanta next season.

William C. Bartholomay, chairman of the board, told a federal court here a total of 2,200,000 tickets already have been printed for the 1966 season.

Advance ticket sales already are underway, and Atlanta sports fans have exceeded expectations.

Bartholomay made the remark in the state of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against the baseball team's transfer to Atlanta from Milwaukee.

Bartholomay was scheduled to be called as a witness again today. He was to be followed by Manager Bobby Bragan, President John McHale and Dick Cecil, Braves' business manager.

Bartholomay testified yesterday that the decision to move the National League team to Atlanta was prompted by financial losses and lack of interest in Wisconsin.

He said, "There apparently was no interest in the state of Wisconsin in buying shares of stock." He also said "commitments made to us in September of 1963 by representatives of the power structure of Milwaukee were not carried out."

In 1963, he said, the team lost in excess of $700,000. Losses in 1964 were in excess of $800,000 and last year the team lost "substantially in excess of $1 million."

The chairman of the board said an investment firm in Milwaukee gave the Braves a list of 40 or 50 Wisconsin residents who might be interested in buying amounts "equal to the investments we had made."

He said no one bought more than 500 shares. Stock was then offered to Wisconsin residents, Bartholomay said, but only 13,000 or 14,000 of the 115,000 shares offered were sold.

Six 49ers Get Good Chance To Shine In Star Game On Sunday

RANDOL

Six San Francisco 49ers will be appearing in pro football's last gasp performance this Sunday in Los Angeles. That would be the Pro Bowl game of the National Football League, the annual orgy that puts the best players of the league on display.

Now don't get the idea that a bunch of all stars are a cinch to produce the best game of the year. That would be sheer naivete. These laddies are all through with their regular season and they are not about to go out there and die for dear old coach and the home folks.

Honor comes first, and it IS an honor to be named to this squad. Second comes a matter of pride; in other words, each player must present a good showing to justify his choice for the game. Third is a matter of money, the extra change picked up for appearing being in the nature of a bonus.

FINALLY COMES the game itself, with a responsibility to the league and the fans who shoot off a few fireworks. In the end, this comes down to a passing show featuring the quarterbacks, the flankers and the ends. The lines bump up a storm and the backs carry a few times, but the big show is the aerial circus.

With offense the key for the day, our 49ers will have a chance to shine brightly as all sixe men chosen are on the offensive squad. They are quarterback John Brodie, backs Ken Willard and John David Crow, linemen Walt Rock and Bruce Bosley, and the league's leading pass receiver, end Dave Parks.

THE 49ERS choices are pretty much an indication of both the success and the failure of the local club during the past season. The offense did its job above and beyond the call of duty but the usually strong defense folded in the middle and blocked the 49ers from any playoff spots.

JUST A year ago only three 49ers were chosen for the Pro Bowl. They were defense men Matt Hazeltine and Charlie Krueger along with Parks. Had Hazeltine and Krueger stayed healthy this year they might have been repeaters on the West squad—and the 49ers might have figured in the championship in some way.

To show how far the 49ers have come since their low ebb of two years ago, consider that in that year only two men were selected and both were specialists: Abe Woodson and Tommy Davis. Good men both, but when no others are selected that's about as low as you can go and still stay in the league.

WE CAN hope for an entertaining game in the season closer, especially if Parks and Brodie get a real chance to shine. Most of all we can hope that no player gets hurt; this one is for fun.

Plenty Of Sturgeons In Bay; Striped Bass Few, But Big

STEVENS

About the good news anent sturgeon mentioned in yesterday's column: Dick Payne of San Lorenzo called to report he had found sturgeon populating the San Pablo Bay at several areas he fished and observed. "I only landed one striper," he said, "but I believe I could have landed a half dozen or more sturgeons. I released several and had runs on both tides in several different spots in the bay, from off China Camp to the Rock Wall across from Rodeo. I thought you would like to tell your readers that almost anyone using grass shrimp for bait can get himself a sturgeon."

We thank Dick for the news, and my readers have been put wise.

POOR PAYNE, he has been trying for months to land a striped bass that will weigh 30 or more pounds. The last trip the one bass he landed was fairly close — 27 pounds, 10 ounces. He has caught many stripers—gets 'em just about every trip, and has boated many weighing close to 30 pounds, but not quite.

Speaking of chances for a big bass, they look fairly good, and the ones that have been coming in to the Rodeo Marina have been big ones, but hear this: The average bass per rod has been low; Carl Bennett of the Marina called to report weekend results and admitted the average was not much better.

I ASKED Carl about the supply of bullheads at his place. "It's good, Ralph," he said, "but I have had to limit the number to four to a party. Some of the customers have gotten as many as 10 bullheads, so that they would have 'em for another trip or two."

Good for Carl. We all know that as many as three, even four fish may be caught on one bullhead.

HE CONTINUED: "Some nice catches of good-sized flounders came in over the weekend. On Sunday, 11 sturgeons were unloaded from skiffs. Dick and Audrey Payne each had a nice sturgeon. Earl Hastings took home a big bass; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rill had a successful trip for the third successive time out."

Carl paused in his report, then added: "I was out on Thursday. Between 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. I limited with my three bass almost of identical size—19, 20 and 21 pounds. Yes, I used bullheads for bait, but didn't use a double hook harness. Only a single hook run from the gills to the tail, a half hitch around the tail. Just as you said, that way is more sporting and works as well."

BULLY FOR Carl Bennett. He proved my contention. With the single hook method it becomes a matter of "timing"—how long to allow a bass to run before setting the hook (just long enough until the bass is unreeling line in a steady pull) a small bass will jerk the line, a lunker will have a steady, power pull).

THE ANSWER to a question: Yes, it is possible to hook a steelhead when the stream is very muddy. But not often, and only by fishing at the mouth of a tributary stream emptying into the main stream, and the water is clear for a few feet.

AND THAT is it for today. Pack up your gear and drive to San Pablo Bay with a mess of grass shrimps—get yourself a swell eating sturgeon.

Pacific Hires New Grid Aide

STOCKTON (AP) — Former University of the Pacific football player Don McCormick will become an assistant coach at his alma mater starting Feb. 1.

The announcement was made yesterday by UOP athletic director Paul Stagg that McCormick will assist new head football coach Doug Scovil.

McCormick, an offensive and defensive back from 1947 through 1949, now is athletic director at Encina High School in Sacramento. He coached football there and also at Sacramento's Grant High School.

IN MARIN

49ers Stars To Support Cancer Fund

The irresistible force of San Francisco 49ers Clark Miller and Gary Lewis will be added to "Project Victory" sponsored by the Marin Branch of the American Cancer Society and if pure determination can defeat the dreaded killer, these men will do the job.

Guests at the benefit dinner next Monday at Sabella's of Marin, defensive end Miller, a Walnut Creek boy who played for Utah State, and Gary Lewis of San Francisco and Arizona State will be part of a celebrity panel headed by film star Dennis Morgan, a former tackle at Carroll College and a resident of Hollywood.

Miller distinguished himself, in addition to his sterling end play, on a 68-yard gallop with a fumble for a touchdown against the Detroit Lions to chalk up the longest run with a fumble of the 1965 NFL season. The word gallop is used with forethought as the memory of classy Clark at 6-foot-5 and 250 pounds being pursued by a Detroit lineman of equal proportions, with neither gaining a step on the other, is one that will linger in company with last year's wrong way run by a Minnesota behemoth.

Lewis, a 230-pound and 6-3 fullback and a second year pro, executed the longest run from scrimmage this year, a 60-yarder against Chicago, due to desire and a great second effort. The second effort was on the part of tackle Len Rhode who, after an initial block, banged into Lewis's posterior with such force as to knock him loose from two defensive men who felt they had him safely contained. Big Gary popped clear and was in the end zone before he could gain enough control to fall down.

The Cancer Fund dinner is a donation from the Sabellas, their employees and suppliers to the Society and all money for tickets at $10 per person goes directly to the charity. Reservations may be made at the Marin Branch, American Cancer Society, 18 Mary Street, San Rafael.

Injury-Riddled Lakers Invade Warriors' Lair

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors basketball team places its hopes on rookie Rick Barry and veteran guard Guy Rodgers tonight in a civic auditorium home game with the injury-plagued Los Angeles Lakers, 8:30 o'clock.

Barry and Rodgers have been the standouts so far in a season of rebuilding after last year's 17-63 record, the worst in National Basketball Assn. history.

And the pair seems to have shown its effectiveness in terms of the standings. San Francisco, with three rookies on its 11-man roster, presently is in third place in the Western Division with a much improved 21-26 record.

"I told the players we are starting over," said Coach Alex Hannum, "Everybody has a chance to prove himself to me."

Hannum said he is reasonably satisfied with his top six men but is paying close attention to his reserves. Several of the Warrior bench men have asked for progress reports on their playing, Hannum said. They have been promised a good look.

Los Angeles, the Western Division leader, has the league's top scorer in Jerry West. West, who has been troubled by an eye injury, missed a game Wedneday in which the Lakers lost to Boston 114-102. But he is scheduled to play against San Francisco.

The Lakers also have profited lately from strong performances by injured Elgin Baylor.

BLOOD BANK AIDE HONORED

Mrs. Mrs. C. Kenneth Denman of 19 Pine Street, San Rafael, outgoing chairman of the Marin Community Blood Reserve Fund, was presented the plaque seen at right yesterday by Mrs. Bernice M. Hemphill, managing director of San Francisco's Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, in honor of Mrs. Denman's 15 years of volunteer work with the Marin Blood Center. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Isabelle Lankanau of 43 Bretano Way, Greenbrae.

Charts Given Jurors In Silverthorne Trial

Two weeks of testimony about staggering loan fees and related "high finance" at the ill-fated San Francisco National Bank were boiled down to a series of charts presented to jurors yesterday in the federal conspiracy trial of ex-banker Don C. Silverthorne and developer William S. Bennett.

Asst. U.S. Atty. James Brosnahan introduced the charts, providing a separate copy for each of the seven women and five men on the jury.

Defense attorneys tried to block admission of the charts, but were overruled by Judge Charles L. Powell, who was brought in from the state of Washington to preside over the trial.

Brosnahan then called bank examiner Alan R. Miller of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. to the stand so he could instruct jurors in how to read such charts.

The charts were brought into the trial after Mrs. Nancy Hester Priola, former chief teller at the bank, stepped down from the stand.

She wound up her testimony by conceding she had erred Wednesday in describing how she cashed a $50,000 check for Bennett and former San Rafael contractor William R. Atkinson. Mrs. Priola said she became confused after an entire day of testifying.

The $50,000 in question was the money which Atkinson last week testified had been carried from the bank in two paper lunch bags. Mrs. Priola said she had been wrong when she said it was necessary to get cash from the Federal Reserve Bank to cash the check. Instead, she testified yesterday, she drew the currency from the bank's vault.

Rather than putting the money in paper sacks, however, Mrs. Priola recalled seeing Bennett put it in a brief case.

Bennett's lawyer, James Martin McInnis, followed through on his promise to bring two secretly recorded tapes of conversations between Bennett and Mrs. Priola to court. Their content was not brought out in yesterday's proceedings, however.

Queried by Brosnahan, Mrs. Priola said she had been unaware that Bennett recorded the October and December conversations. She commented that "what I said to Mr. Bennett was not necessarily the truth as I say it under oath."

This led MacInnis to ask whether Mrs. Priola was "telling him untruths" during the conversations.

"It was an uncomfortable situation," she replied, "and I wanted him to leave. Possibly I answered lightly."

Families Can Send Talking Cards

Through Project Heart to Heart, immediate families of Marin servicemen serving in Southeast Asia will be able to send a 15-minute recorded message this month to their men as a "talking Valentine."

Sponsored by the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross, the project, to be carried out from Jan. 24 to Jan. 28, will provide tapes, recording facilities and mailing to the Marin families.

Appointments may be made through the Red Cross chapter office at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Reds Down Private Plane, Kill Pilots, Take Crewman

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — Communist guerrillas today shot down a privately operated U.S. transport plane, killed its civilian pilot and co-pilot and led a third crew member away with a rope around his neck, a company spokesman said.

The Viet Cong atrocities occurred near the Mekong Delta town of Vi Thanh, about 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

The plane, a C-47 operated by Air America, was shot down while making a landing in the Communist-dominated delta and crashed into a small canal. A rescue helicopter managed to land near the crash scene but was unable to aid the victims because of intensive fire from the Communists.

A spokesman for Air America, a civilian-operated charter line under contract to the U.S. Operations Mission (USOM), said villagers told of the incident. He said the two slain crewmen both were shot and then mutilated and the third captured by the Communists. The bodies of the dead were recovered later.

American and Australian troops meanwhile today terminated the most massive U.S. operation of the war and flew by helicopter out of landing zones under heavy Communist fire. The U.S. and Aussie forces left behind gas-filled tunnels as gigantic booby traps to be touched off later by the bombs of U.S. planes.

More than 8,000 Americans and a battalion of Australian troops were involved in the search and clear operation 25 to 35 miles northwest of Saigon in the "iron triangle" Communist zone. The mission had been dubbed "Operation Crimp."

While the lull in the air war over Communist North Viet Nam completed its 21st day, U.S. Marine jet planes flew 131 combat sorties in the South, dropping 32 tons of bombs and firing 456 rockets.

U.S. Air Force B-52s today pounded a suspected Viet Cong target in Quang Nam Province but as usual no details of the raid were disclosed.

Government militiamen killed 40 Communists in beating off an attack on an outpost near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, scene of repeated Communist thrusts.

Casualties among the 100 defenders were reported light.

Two U.S. planes — a two-engine C-123 flare ship and an Air Force single-seat Skyraider — collided in the air on an operation in support of Korean ground troops 15 miles northwest of Qui Nhon on the central coast. All seven men on board were killed.

The Skyraider crashed into the bigger plane from underneath after pulling out of a strike, a spokesman said.

Other mishaps plagued the U.S. Marines in the Da Nang area, resulting in U.S. and Vietnamese casualties.

In the Da Nang area, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, two U.S. Marine jets called in by a forward air controller sank four sampans manned by government militiamen in the Thin Yen River, 20 miles southwest of Da Nang after being told they were carrying Viet Cong.

Four civilians on the river bank were killed and 16 civilians and five militiamen were wounded. The Marines accepted full responsibility for the mistake, a spokesman said.

Johnson Picks First Negro For Cabinet

Weaver, Aide's Names Submitted For Senate Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. Weaver appears likely to have an easier task winning Senate approval as the first Negro member of the Cabinet than he did in 1961 as housing administrator.

President Johnson announced yesterday he would nominate Weaver as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Weaver, 58, has been acting head of the new department since its formal creation in November. As administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, he has directed the agencies now under the new Cabinet department.

Johnson said he would name Robert C. Wood, 42, chairman of the political science department at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as undersecretary of the new department. Wood headed a task force that advised Johnson on its organization and functions.

The nomination of both Weaver and Wood were sent to the Senate.

The new department — the 11th in the Cabinet — has under its wing the Federal Housing Administration, the Public Housing Administration, the Urban Renewal Administration and the Community Facilities Administration.

Johnson said no decision has been made on a reported proposal by Wood's task force to move the community action part of the administration's antipoverty program from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the new department.

Senators, including some Southerners, generally expressed approval of Weaver's appointment. And two Negro leaders promptly applauded Johnson's announcement.

Trusted Convict Flees Over San Quentin Wall

Killer Deserts Post To Vanish Into Mist

A 36-year-old killer, placed on trust by San Quentin officials not to escape, scaled the 20-foot high north wall before dawn today and disappeared into the fog. He was still at large this afternoon.

William Joseph Dellinger, who had been considered a model prisoner, dragged a ladder from the nearby textile mill and climbed to the top of the wall, left unguarded at that point after midnight.

He let himself down the outside with a rope, then sprinted the half mile to the perimeter fence through fog-shrouded prison outbuildings.

The 4 a.m. escape was in almost exactly the same spot where two convicted robbers went over the wall in daylight last August, using a piece of pipe from the mill. These escapees were later caught.

Dellinger had access to both the ladder and rope in his job as textile factory night watchman, Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today.

His job was to tour the mill at set times and inspect for fire outbreaks. It was a position of trust for which Dellinger had been carefully selected, said Park.

"Things seemed to be going for him lately," Park said. "He was a key man in our industrial setup here and was doing a good job. In his spare time he was studying for his high school diploma."

AREA DESERTED

Park said that when the night shift comes off at the mill, the factory area is deserted except for Dellinger so the wall towers are left unmanned.

"Normally no one can escape unless he is already in the factory area and Dellinger was considered the best man for this job," said Park.

The escape was discovered at 7:25 today. The time clock Dellinger has to punch on his rounds indicated he made his getaway about 4 a.m.

USES FOG

"We put our escape procedure into operation immediately," said Park, "but it's likely he made use of the fog and got clean out of the area. At the perimeter fence all he had to watch for was the patrol car."

Dellinger was sentenced to life for the 1958 slaying of his stepfather in Kern County.

According to the records, said Park, Dellinger and his stepfather, Sterling Miller, were working a mine called the Golden Nugget and got into an argument. Dellinger shot Miller because he became "fearful" of his stepfather's actions and dumped the body in another mine.

BEFORE AUTHORITY

Dellinger appeared before the Adult Authority last August when his request for parole was denied for three years.

He has brown hair, bue eyes, is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 158 pounds and escaped dressed in the prison uniform of blue denim. He has a number of tatoos on his arm, including the Marine Corps motto, "Death Before Dishonor."

He had earlier spent time at San Quentin before the murder conviction. In 1949 he served two years for burglary and in 1953 was returned for grand theft, being paroled in 1956.

Unit Two Brings Reported $9 Million To Meet Draper Company Obligations

Sale by the Draper Companies of Unit Two of the Northgate Shopping Center to M and T, Inc., a holding company of San Francisco investors, was announced late yesterday.

The price was unofficially reported as in the neighborhood of nine million dollars.

The sale is the third of major Marin County holdings of the Draper Companies in less than two months.

Unit Two, largest and principal division of the shopping center, comprises approximately 45 acres and contains 27 stores and business, among whom are such tenants as the Emporium, City of Paris, Roos-Atkins, Hastings, H. Liebes, Milen's Jewelers, Modern Eve, Bank of America, Sommer and Kaufman, and other merchants. Present building area is 383,432 square feet.

The sale was the largest in dollar volume of the three recent Draper Companies sales. Northgate Unit One, 9.7 acres, was sold to Howard Properties, San Francisco in mid-November, for approximately 2.6 million dollars. Peacock Gap Country Club was sold Nov. 30 to New York-Cal, headed by Chinn Ho of Honolulu, reportedly for 7.8 million dollars.

The last sale has enabled the company to pay off its outstanding debts, president Jerome C. Draper said.

Dohemann and Co., San Rafael real estate firm, acted for the Draper Companies in the transaction. Coldwell, Banker and Co. represented M and T, Inc.

Coldwell, Banker and Co. will act as exclusive managing agent for the new owner.

Harold Valceschini, manager of the San Rafael office, said the acquisition includes an undeveloped 15 acres which will be used for future expansion. He said

Ross Resident Asks Publicity Of Burglaries

Council Says News Of Crime Is Up To Chief

"We're having a great increase in the number of burglaries here in Ross and I think the people would appreciate being warned," John H. Chase of 101 Camino Bueno, Ross, told the Ross Town Council last night.

Chase asked if there is a policy of suppression in Ross of crime news.

"It's up to the chief of police. If he thinks it might lessen his chances of apprehending a criminal, he shouldn't release information," answered Councilman Roy Farrington Jones.

'MAKE IT PUBLIC'

"I'm not talking about apprehension, I'm talking about education," said Chase. "We've had burglaries down on Ames Avenue. If the police chief is withholding this information, he should make it public."

"We haven't any policy of suppression, but we've found word of mouth is our best newspaper here," said Police Chief John Harris.

"The figures for the rising crime rate in California are well known. There's no reason why people should think that Ross is different," said Harris. "But there are people in this town who don't even have locks on their doors."

NO REPORT

No report of recent burglaries on Ames Avenue has ever been made public by Ross police. A series of thefts of valuable saddles came to light recently only because the owner of one of them called the Independent-Journal. Chief Harris at that time said it was his policy not to report crimes until they are solved.

There has been no arrest for any burglary by Ross police in recent months.

D.C. Watches Hanoi Move Of Reduction

COMBINED AP & UPI

The recent reduction in Communist activity in South Viet Nam brought some hope in Washington today the Hanoi government might be getting ready to cut back military operations as a prelude to possible peace talks.

Administration officials from President Johnson down declined to express an opinion, however.

Johnson told newsmen "the number of incidents has dropped off some." He would not say whether he thought there was "any connection between that and our peace moves—but that it is a fact."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, meanwhile, was due to return to the capital today from his trip to New Delhi for the funeral of Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Humphrey was prepared to report to Johnson on a lengthy talk he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk had yesterday with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin.

The vice president also met in New Delhi with Vice

Grand Jury Gathers Records On Hiring

A committee of the Marin County Grand Jury yesterday picked up copies of records and correspondence at the Civic Center concerning the hiring of a county director of economic development.

George R. Scott, grand jury foreman, would not comment on the action today. The 1965 grand jury which he heads has turned in its reports, but has not yet been discharged so could still make supplemental reports.

John Martin Douglas was hired by the board of supervisors for the economic development post at $15,600 a year. The job had been set up at $13,200, and a screening committee had interviewed candidates and recommended three, Douglas, a neighbor of Supervisors Chairman Byron W. Leydecker, was not among the three.

Early Morning Fog Stalls Marin Air Transportation

Marin temperatures warmed slightly today, but fog slowed traffic and closed airports. The fog in the bay was expected to return tomorrow.

The Marin County Airport in Novato was closed, as was the Marin County Heliport at Waldo Point. SFO Helicopter flights from the heliport were resumed at 10:30 a.m., and the airport was expected to be open by noon.

The landing strip at Hamilton Air Force Base was also closed to all but instrument landings while the fog stayed in North Marin.

The Weather Bureau predicted that a high pressure area would keep rain away from California for the next few days. The lowest temperature reported in Marin today was 32 degrees at Woodacre and the Chevy Chase area at Larkspur. Elsewhere low temperatures ranged as high as 42, recorded at Mill Valley.

Other low temperatures were 35 at Novato and Hamilton Air Force Base, 36 at Inverness, 38 at Sausalito, 39 at Bolinas, San Anselmo and San Rafael and 40 at Fairfax and Ross.

Yesterday's low at Woodacre was 28, four degrees lower than today.

Trouble Puts Papers Out Late

Nearly all Independent-Journal subscribers received their papers much later than usual last evening.

The clutch went out on one unit of the I-J's big press. This resulted in a series of paper tears, and delayed completion of the press run by about two hours. Last papers did not roll off the press until 5:45 p.m.

Only about 4,000 copies had been printed before the breakdown, of the total run of about 42,000.

LBJ Sees Little Fuss Over Revival Of Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he detects "a minimum of opposition" to his proposal to restore excise tax cuts on cars and phone bills.

"I think most of the legislators would prefer receiving revenues in this form than revenues in new taxes on corporations and individuals," Johnson told a news conference at the White House yesterday.

Amid a burst of criticism from congressmen over his tax proposals announced in Wednesday night's State of the Union message, Johnson said he had sounded out sentiment in advance and "I did not detect overwhelming resistance to it."

He said he believed that "most of the people are patriotic" and would be willing to give up reductions in the taxes, which took effect Jan. 1, to finance additional military costs stemming from the Viet Nam war.

In other major topics covered at the news conference, Johnson said:

He will appoint Robert C. Weaver as secretary of the new Department of Housing and Urban Development and Robert C. Wood as undersecretary. Weaver would be the first Negro member of the Cabinet.

"The number of incidents" in Viet Nam has "dropped off some." But he added: "I don't

Police Kill Two Attempting To Kidnap Firestone Heir

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Pistols raised, two men crashed into the home of Leonard K. Firestone last night in an apparent attempt to kidnap the wealthy industrialist. Staked-out police killed both with shotgun blasts.

Cal Bailey, 40, was killed instantly as he attempted to rush into the living room of the palatial home. George Scalla, 28, fell wounded on the threshhold and died three hours later in a hospital.

Police said the men may have planned to ask $2 million in ransom.

The deaths ended three weeks of police undercover work, during which the proposed kidnaping was tipped by an undisclosed source. Firestone, 53, was warned to leave the city.

He hid out at Pebble Beach in Monterey County.

Capt. John E. Hankins, chief of Beverly Hills detectives, told this sequence of events:

First hint of the kidnap came three weeks ago in connection with a burglary that took place in the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles police. Ten days ago, the tipster disclosed that the intended victim was Firestone.

Hankins advised Firestone to leave his home on Alpine Drive, a tree-shaded street where millionaires live amid movie stars. Police officers moved in, along with a policewoman who posed as a domestic.

Days passed uneventfully. No unusual phone calls came, no suspicious cars drove by. The identity of the two suspects was known, and they were known to have long records of burglary, robbery and robbery with violence. All attempts to locate them for surveillance failed.

At 6 o'clock yesterday the telephone rang. The policewoman, Barbara Ezell, told the male caller that Mr. Firestone could not come to the telephone. The caller hung up.

HARVEY FIRESTONE
Kidnapers' target

At 6:20 a black 1965 Ford drove into the semicircular driveway and stopped in front of the door. Policewoman Ezell gazed through the peephole and saw two large men emerge from the car. One wore a Halloween mask over his face and carried a gun in one hand and a sack containing adhesive tape in the other. He was later identified as Bailey.

Scalla wore a hat pulled down on his face and carried a gun in each hand. Both men wore surgical gloves.

The doorbell rang and Miss Ezell asked, "Who's there?"

"Parcel post, ma'am," came the reply.

Behind Miss Ezell stood three veteran Beverly Hills policemen: Lt. B. L. Cork, Sgt. Jack Egger and Det. Jack Mourning. They were armed with two shotguns and a pistol.

Egger motioned Miss Ezell out of the room. Then he reached for the knob and jerked open the door.

"They moved in fast and saw us," Cork said later. "Bailey raised his gun and pointed it at us. In my opinion, they were prepared to shoot us. We shot first."

The case did not necessarily end with the deaths of the two men. Hankins said police were still investigating the possibility that others were involved in the kidnap attempt.

Firestone, a personable man who has been active in civic affairs since moving here in 1943, lived alone in the modern, white-stucco house. His wife Polly died a year ago.

Firestone was one of five sons born to the pioneer of the rubber industry.

Ex-Nazi, Two Aides Ready To Pay Penalty

MUNICH (UPI)—The Nazi general blamed for the death of Anne Frank, the young Jewish girl whose diary became world famous, is ready to accept any punishment due him, a West German prosecutor said today.

Ex-SS (elite guard) Maj.-Gen. Wilhelm Harster and two wartime aides are accused of complicity in mass murder after launching the Nazi roundup of Dutch Jews that netted Anne Frank.

READY FOR IT

"My impression is they have the guts to face what is coming to them," Prosecutor Benedikt Huber told UPI.

"They seem to agree with me that it's no use making things more difficult than they are already — it would do them no good anyway," the prosecutor said.

West German authorities announced the arrest yesterday of the 62-year-old Harster along with Mrs. Gertrud Slottke, 63, and Dr. Wilhelm Zoepf, 57. Harster is accused of 83,000 cases of complicity in murder and 317 cases of attempted murder as boss of Nazi security police and espionage in occupied Holland.

WOMAN JAILED

Mrs. Slottke, a Stuttgart saleswoman, was arrested for her role in running Harster's Dutch Jewish Affairs Office, which carried out Adolf Eichmann's orders to hunt down and dispatch all Jews to death camps. Called a "secretary of death" she is accused of complicity in 93,328 murder cases.

Zoepf, a Munich lawyer, was arrested along with Harster and accused of complicity in 94,328 cases of murder while serving as the general's legal expert in Holland.

The arrests climaxed a six-year investigation by Dutch and West German authorities.

Unruh Still Coy About Plans

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, came close last night to saying he wouldn't seek re-election to the lower house, but declined to spell out his future plans.

Unruh

"I want to chart the future, not just log the present," he told a testimonial dinner.

Referring to the bitter legislative debate has accompanied some of his legislative proposals, Unruh said:

"I want the freedom to propose a tax reform plan which is two years ahead of its time, a health plan which is 10 years ahead, without having them crippled and delayed simply because they are advanced by the man who is supposed to have the muscle to get them passed."

To the more than 2,000 persons attending the dinner, it appeared to be a tip off on the political plan.

But Unruh said "I am afraid that I cannot tell you anything very specific tonight about my personal plans for the future, and for that I apologize."

Guests contributed an estimated $200,000 to Unruh's political war chest.

Admiral Keeps Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara yesterday approved a two-year extension of Adm. Ulysses S. Grant Sharp's tour as commander in chief for the Pacific. The action extended the 59-year-old Sharp's term in the post to June 30, 1968. He took it June 30, 1964.

MOTORCYCLES ROAR

Hell's Angels Attend Funeral Of A Friend

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— The simple, gray casket was flanked with gawdy gang jackets as well as flowers.

Outside the funeral chapel, motorcyclists revved their waiting bikes. Police were jittery.

And that's the way James (Mother) Miles wanted it. His fellow Hell's Angels said so.

Some 350 members of the notorious motorcycle club converged on the California capital yesterday for the funeral of the 30-year-old Miles, who was fatally injured when his bike collided with a car in Oakland, on Jan. 2.

The A.J. Nicoletti Funeral home chapel had only about 100 mourners inside, while outside the club members, along with their girl friends, rumbled their motorcycles. The noise could be clearly heard in the chapel.

Flowers were on top of the casket. At each end were Hell's Angels' jackets on stands. The jackets belonged to Miles and his brother.

Strategically stationed around the chapel and from along the short route to the cemetery were police patrolmen, some on motorcycles.

Miles' casket was carried out of the funeral home by six club members clad in sleeveless denim work jackets with such emblems as the Hell's Angels' grinning skull and swastika. One of the pall bearers was identified as Ralph "Sonny" Barger, who led the Angels in their confrontation with anti-war demonstrators in Berkeley last year.

The mourners clustered around in the silence around the canopied grave for three minutes, their eyes on the casket. Two women wept. The crowd broke up and they headed for their motorcycles.

The cyclists then lined up two abreast and rode slowly out of the city, with police cars following closely behind.

Miles leaves a widow and two small children. He had been the chairman of the Sacramento chapter of the Angels before it folded last May and the members moved to other cities.

Miles himself moved to Richmond after complaining to city officials that his club had been harassed by law-enforcement officials when it held its "social functions."

New Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harley O. Staggers has stepped up to the chairmanship of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. The West Virginia Democrat succeeds Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., who resigned yesterday to become a U.S. district judge in Arkansas.

Johnson Expected To Back Redwood Park In California

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson is expected to endorse creation of a Redwood National Park in California despite his failure to include it in his State of the Union Message.

Supporters of the proposal to establish the park in Northern California were hopeful almost to the end that the hoped-for recommendation would be included in the message.

The park proposal was among recommendations submitted by the Interior Department for inclusion in the message but dropped from the speech.

Johnson, who was irritated by a report it had been dropped at almost the last minute, was expected to include a recommendation for the park in a later conservation message.

At least some funds for the park also are expected to be included in the budget, in anticipation of Congressional authorization of the park this year.

The budget bureau has placed a $55 million ceiling on spending for the park which would be created around a nucleus of existing state parks.

The Budget Bureau figure is about $10 million more than the cost of the most modest of three alternate plans drawn up by the National Park Service for the proposed park.

Legislation introduced by Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., and by about 10 other members of Congress calls for a 90,000-acre park estimated to cost some $150 million.

However, spokesmen for California's redwood lumber industry say such a park would cost more than $200 million and contend it would seriously injure the economy of the area.

Cause Sought In Killer Explosion

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Aerojet General Corp. officials were probing today for the cause of an explosion which killed two of the firm's technicians.

Killed yesterday afternoon in the company's solid rocket operations area were Joseph K. Roberts, 33, of Citrus Heights; and Clifford J. Shaffer, 34, of Elk Grove.

A spokesman said the men were mixing chemicals in a small preparation building when the explosion occurred. The building was only slightly damaged.

Roberts, with the company eight years, is survived by a wife and 7-year-old daughter; Shaffer, a six - year veteran, leaves a wife, two daughters and a son, aged 5, 6 and 9.

National Anthem Action Protested

DOVER, Del. (AP) — The Governor's Committee on Protocol has complained about high school drum majorettes and cheerleaders wiggling during the playing of the National Anthem.

The committee was created by the General Assembly to study all aspects of protocol in Delaware and suggest ways to improve it.

The committee suggested yesterday to school officials "that drum majorettes and cheerleaders are perhaps not aware of the respect due to the playing of the National Anthem." It said it found cheerleaders doing cartwheels to "the rocket's red glare," and majorettes keeping time to "the bombs burst in air."

Secret Desert Flights Tied To Sonic Booms

Sonic booms heard in Marin and other parts of the Bay Area Wednesday and yesterday probably were caused by an SR-71, an experimental aircraft which is capable of going three times the speed of sound.

Officials at Hamilton Air Force Base today would not say for sure that the booms were caused by the unusual craft, but admitted the plane had been making test flights out of Edwards Air Force Base both days.

Such flights are usually flown at high altitudes over desert areas, officials said, but unusual atmospheric conditions sometimes cause the shock waves to travel long distances.

Purpose of the flight, as well as any technical data about the Lockheed-manufactured airplane, are "classified," according to the Air Force.

Claims for any damages believed caused by a sonic boom should be made to the claims office of the nearest Air Force base, officials said, whether the offending aircraft is from that base or not.

Yesterday's boom shook plaster from the ceiling of a Kentfield home. That on Tuesday shook crockery and glassware from shelves in San Rafael and Belvedere.

plans are also under way for the immediate finishing of seven retail areas for new tenants with whom leases have already been completed. Included will be stores for McKenzie's Children's Wear, Lore Jan's women's wear, Franz Design of San Anselmo, the Music Box (a record store), and a motion picture theater for Blumenfeld Enterprises. Two other lessees have not been identified.

Draper said his company still retains seven acres of the shopping center designated as Unit Three, which will be developed within the next year. Leases have been signed for occupancy there by Lucky Stores and Long's Drug Stores, he reported. Total retail area of 70,000 square feet will be divided among 20 stores.

The Draper Companies also holds about 85 acres of undeveloped lands in the Northgate Industrial Park, which has been scheduled for work this year. In addition, the company retains 200 acres of residential properties at Peacock Gap not included in the 720-acre sale to Chinn Ho.

say there is any connection with that and our peace moves."

He is "disturbed" that the New York City transit strike lasted so long and "I am equally concerned by the cost of the settlement," which "violates our national guideposts for non-inflationary wage increases."

Reaction to the State of the Union message was "very good" and "I was very pleased with it."

He feels "fine" three months after his gall bladder operation.

He has no foreign travel plans now.

Besides rescinding the two excise tax reductions, the administration's tax package includes a speed-up in corporate tax collections and a graduated withholding plan under which taxpayers in higher brackets would pay more as they go along and less at the end of the year.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler formally submitted the tax package to Congress last night and estimated additional revenues from it at $4.8 billion in the fiscal year which starts July 1. Hearings on it will begin next week before the House Ways and Means Committee with Fowler as the first witness.

Radio Station Gives Award

Radio station KTIM yesterday made the first awards in its $2,500 Community Club awards program.

First place winner was Chapter 266 of B'nai B'rith, receiving a $30 award. Second prize of $25 went to the San Rafael Improvement Club and third prize of $20 went to the San Rafael Lions Club. Fourth place winner was the Pythian Sisters, with $15, and fifth place of $10 went to the San Rafael Kiwanis Club.

The awards were the first of a series to be made by the station over a 17-week period.

thanks for your history-making appointment," wired Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Whitney Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, said of the appointment: "It will become a model to inspire and motivate the Negro youth in today's society."

Early Senate approval of the two nominees seemed likely. Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said the Senate Banking Committee which he heads will hold confirmation hearings Monday. He described Weaver as an able man. He said "I don't anticipate any trouble."

Robertson was one of the four senators voting against Weaver in the committee in 1961. The full Senate confirmed Weaver by voice vote.

When nominated to head the housing agency, Weaver ran into more opposition than any other nominee of President John F. Kennedy. And when Kennedy proposed creation of an urban affairs department and indicated Weaver would head it, there was strong Southern opposition and the move was defeated.

Reminded of his opposition, Robertson said, "I know. I thought he was going to be prejudiced." He said he had seen "no evidence of any prejudice" in Weaver's operation of HHFA.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah, ranking Republican member of the committee who also opposed Weaver in 1961 said it was the President's prerogative to select his own Cabinet members, adding, "I don't know of any effort to block Weaver."

The other two negative votes in 1961 came from Sens. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., and William A. Blakley, D-Tex.

In Huntsville, Ala., Sparkman said Weaver has done "a good job" in his present post but that he would await the appointee's testimony before deciding whether he will vote to confirm him.

Blakley was defeated later by Republican John G. Kower, who also is a member of the Banking Committee. Tower promptly said he supported Weaver.

Bruce Favors Rejecting All Bids On Center

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce today recommended that all bids on the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center be rejected and that new bids be asked in 30 days.

Meanwhile, Bruce said, $472,000 should be taken out of the project, mainly by deferring the health department offices and laboratory that were to go in the top west floor.

The low bid of Haas and Haynie of South San Francisco, which has been under fire from other contractors because of a short list of subcontractors, was $9,529,000. The architect's estimate was $9,011,500. The county figures to have $8,953,000 for the project — if the courthouse square can be sold for $1,400,000.

Bruce recommended deletions which he said would reduce the total project cost — which runs over 11 million dollars with site work, furnishings, etc. — by $1,246,750.

Bruce also recommended rejecting site development bids, with deferral on rebidding for one year and deletion of $90,000 from the specifications.

Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick and Burrows and Williams of San Francisco, bid low on site development at $485,568. Estimate was $500,000.

In detail, Bruce's recommendation calls for elimination of miscellaneous items, $233,700; interior finishing of one courtroom, $20,000; interior furnishing of top west floor, $220,500.

Reductions outside the prime construction bid would be movable partition allowance down by $20,000, health department equipment down by $42,550, court furnishing reduced by $200,000, and landscaping, sprinkler and fountain allowance down by $400,000.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, and Public Works Director Donald R. Frost concurred in Bruce's recommendation.

Spraying Slated To Halt Skeeters

The days are numbered for mosquitoes now breeding busily in marshes around Novato and in other areas of the county, G. Paul Jones, manager of Marin County Mosquito Abatement District, reported to the board last night.

He said spraying of the areas will start at the end of this month. Recent heavy rains started hatching of eggs which had been laid last fall, Jones added.

Frank V. Baccaglio of Novato, was elected president of the board; Harold Henry of Mill Valley, vice president, and Clifton C. Cordes of Fairfax, secretary.

Trustees reappointed were Harold Henry of Mill Valley, Paul Di Pietro of San Rafael, Evan T. Pugh of Belvedere, and Baccaglio.

Massachusetts Fixing Hazards

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Public Works Department has launched a million-dollar program to identify hazardous highway spots to combat accidents.

Commissioner Francis W. Sargent said the work will involve such items as widening narrow traffic lanes and bridges; flattening side slopes and removal of roadside curbs and fixed obstructions; and installation of traffic control and protective devices.

President Hussein Shafei of the United Arab Republic, who was said to have reported on talks his government has had with the North Vietnamese in Hanoi.

Rusk was joining roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman in Bangkok to accompany him to Saigon, where they are scheduled to meet with high South Vietnamese officials.

Communist China today accused the Soviet Union of working hand in glove with President Johnson to peddle his Viet Nam peace "hoax." The attack came while a high Soviet delegation headed by Alexander Shelepin was visiting Peking.

Shelepin stopped off in Peking for 24 hours en route home from Hanoi where he reaffirmed full Soviet support for the North Vietnamese in their war against "American imperialism." It was obvious Peking did not take his statements at face value.

There have been reports in the West that Shelepin actually was trying to talk the Communist leaders of North Viet Nam into agreeing to discuss peace. Moscow sources have denied this but Peking's statements showed they distrusted the Shelepin mission completely.

Shelepin left today for home with his arms and rocket experts but there were unconfirmed reports he might fly to Outer Mongolia to join party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev in talks with Mongolian leader Yumzhagin Tsedenbal. Outer Mongolia is a buffer state between China and Russia.

The U.S. military buildup in South Viet Nam will continue to gain speed and the hourglass may be running out on the bombing pause in the North.

Defense observers today regarded these as solid inferences that could be drawn from further study of President Johnson's State of the Union speech Wednesday night.

There were increasing indications the American troop commitment to the Viet Nam war could equal the peak strength deployed during the Korean War.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese are using the bombing lull to rebuild railroad lines and bridges over which war gear has flowed from Red China, it was learned today.

Aerial reconnaissance indicates that the Reds are giving priority in reconstruction to rail links reaching northwest and northeast from Hanoi into Communist China.

These rail lines and bridges were pounded heavily by U.S. fighter bombers for about three or four months before the strikes were halted three weeks ago.

There has been no indication as yet that the Communists are taking advantage of the lull to regroup or intensify their anti-aircraft defenses.

Police Discover Auto On Fire

Fairfax police today were checking registration on a Ford Mustang automobile found burning and abandoned on San Geronimo Valley Drive.

Police Chief James Orr said license plates of the car may have been stolen in San Francisco.

The car, gutted by fire and still burning, was seen parked off the San Geronimo road at 1 a.m. by Sheriff's Deputy Russell E. Hunt. The officer, who summoned Marin County Fire Department, said a metal cap, apparently from an oil or gas can, was found on the hood.

Canals On Mars Believed Cracks

By GENE BYLINSKY
Advance News Service

BERKELEY—The astronomer who discovered the planet Pluto says Mariner 4 photographs contain evidence of "canals" on Mars.

But Dr. Clyde W. Tombaugh says these and other "canals" observed by Telescope are cracks in the planet's surface and not the work of intelligent beings.

When space agency scientists released the Mariner 4 pictures after the spacecraft's historic flight past Mars last July, they said they could see no "canals." But Tombaugh, who sighted Pluto in 1930, notes that none of the Mariner scientists were planetary astronomers.

Early astronomers, in charts of Mars, drew the "canals" as straight lines running for hundreds of miles. They called the points where several canals intersected "oases."

Tombaugh, in a report to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science annual meeting, said the markings would not appear as straight lines on close observation. Sometimes they appear to be irregular patches even when viewed through a telescope.

Some scientists have claimed the "canals" to be an optical illusion. But Tombaugh, who has been observing Mars for 35 years, said he has seen them through a five-inch telescope, although only fleetingly. The earth's shimmering, distorting atmosphere seldom allows a clear view of Mars.

The New Mexico State University astronomer identified what he believes are portions of "canals" by superimposing Mariner pictures on a map of Mars and by sifting thousands of telescopic photographs of the same area.

If Tombaugh's plotting is correct, the Martian strip photographed by Mariner 4 is located a few hundred miles to the east of the spot originally estimated by the space agency.

He found that most features that appear in Mariner pictures coincide with previously plotted features.

For instance, one Mariner picture showed a crater 100 miles across. Tombaugh said its position coincides with an "oasis" drawn in that approximate area by an early observer of Mars.

In another picture, alignment of dark patches "crudely coincides with the juncture of three canals," the scientist said.

The red planet's cratered look was no surprise to Tombaugh. He predicted in a scientific journal 15 years ago that Mars would look like the moon. He still thinks, however, that some kind of vegetation, perhaps lichens, is the only plausible explanation for observed seasonal color changes on Mars.

Final Subcommittee Report Due On Otepka Next Month

By EDWARD J. MOWERY
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—In late February, the Senate internal security subcommittee will issue its final report on the longest and most acrimonious series of hearings in its history.

The subject is Otto F. Otepka, the State Department's top-level security officer, ordered dismissed in 1963 for assertedly supplying "classified" information to an "outsider" — the Senate judiciary subcommittee.

Consuming 69 sessions and millions of words, the case featured a parade of nearly 50 witnesses, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The hearings have ended.

Under State Department fire was Otepka's "institutional loyalty," stemming from his disclosures to Julien G. Sourwine, subcommittee chief counsel.

In all, the Senate group will have issued from 30 to 35 volumes of testimony on State Department security by early spring. Half of the reports will deal with the Otepka case. All will unlock the "secrecy" door on testimony given in executive session.

Knifing through mounds of verbiage in the charges against Otepka, a 27-year veteran in government service, the issue boils down to this:

Is reprisal the reward for a federal employee who testifies—with his agency's permission—before a congressional committee which ordered his appearance? Do his disclosures obliquely violate the 1948 presidential directive which barred "classified" data to "unauthorized" persons?

Is a Senate committee, under Congressional mandate to root out security risks in government, "unauthorized" to receive so-called "classified" information pertinent to its inquiry?

Otepka, who received persona non-grata treatment after his testimony, has been awaiting a hearing on his appeal from the ouster since Oct. 14, 1963. He has been demoted, humiliated and harassed.

His State Department hearing isn't expected until the committee issues its last prined repor. Rusk has said that State's decision on Otepka will be reviewed by the president.

It's interesting to note that Sourwine appears in the State Department's charges against Otepka as a quasi-defendant—the recipient of "classified" information dealing with Otepka's security evaluations of State Department personnel.

Sourwine, the stocky 57-year-old chief counsel and jealous guardian of the committee's mandated rights, seemingly isn't perturbed by the incident.

A native of Reno whose grandfather sat on the Nevada Supreme Court, Sourwine is widely known as an expert on constitutional law and an astute interrogator. A former newspaperman and correspondent for scores of papers, he has been a lawyer for 30 years and subcommittee chief counsel since 1955. His legal legislative service dates from 1943.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Bertucci's Services Set

Funeral for Mrs. Margaret Louise Bertucci of 641 Plum Street, Novato, who was found dead Wednesday, will be at 1 p.m. Monday at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home ni Novato.

A native of Texas, Mrs. Bertucci had lived in Marin County for the past 21 years. She was 37 years old.

She is survived by her husband, Charles, of the home; two daughters, Judy Bertucci of the home, and Mrs. John Whitney of Petaluma; a son, A/3C Robert Bertucci of Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.; her mother, Mrs. L. B. Rachels of Olivehurst, Sacramento County, and a brother, James Hughes of Olivehurst.

Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Stolen Goods Hearing Set

Preliminary hearing for Charles James Stephens, 20, charged with possession of goods stolen from a Forest Knolls home reportedly burgled several times in the past two years, was scheduled in Marin Municipal Court today for Jan. 25.

Stephens, of Railroad Avenue, Woodacre, allegedly had items taken in the Dec. 4 burglary of the home of Peter R. Hansen. Sheriff's officers said $486 worth of household articles and liquor were taken. Part of this loot was found in a clothes hamper in Stephen's home, they added.

Mrs. Hansen said yesterday her home has been burglarized nine times within the past two years.

Stephens is free on his own recognizance.

Commute Train Kills Teen-Ager

BELMONT (AP) — A schoolboy running to meet friends dashed in front of a San Francisco-bound express commuter train this morning and was killed instantly.

Police said the boy, Gregory Oliver, 16, Belmont, had been talking to buddies on the west side of the Southern Pacific track when he spotted a friend in a automobile on the track's other side.

Apparently the youth, a sophomore at Carlmont High School in Belmont, decided to hitch a ride.

He made his dash and the train ran over him.

Fanfani Tells Why He Quit Cabinet

ROME (AP)—Amintore Fanfani told Parliament today he resigned as Italy's foreign minister to prove his sincerity in transmitting to Washington a later-disavowed Hanoi peace feeler.

Fanfani, U.N. Assembly president, said that only by quitting as foreign minister could he demonstrate that he did not share the anti-American and pro-Communist statements attributed to his friend Prof. Giorgio La Pira, former mayor of Florence.

Charles and Anne Lindbergh in 1933 blazed a northern aerial trail across the Atlantic via Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, Labrador, Greenland and Iceland. Their flight pioneered the great circle route as the shortest distance to Europe.

Ross Council Agrees To Boulevard Design

The Ross Town Council last night agreed to go ahead with design work for widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the San Anselmo line past the intersection with Bolinas and Winship avenues, after considerable urging by the town engineer.

Councilmen were doubtful of the possibility of getting $9,000 in county urban thoroughfare funds which were allocated originally to San Anselmo and Fairfax. And one councilman questioned whether Ross residents want the road widened, anyhow.

A request from Ross that San Anselmo release the money from its share of urban thoroughfare funds, which are allocated by the county from its gasoline tax money, was rebuffed by the San Anselmo City Council last month.

"If we're going to try to get this money, couldn't we have the county contact San Anselmo?" asked Ross Councilman William P. McAndrew last night. "I don't want to have to be subjected to that kind of abuse again."

Town Engineer Philip Lygren argued that the county urban thoroughfare committee will release the money to Ross because neither San Anselmo nor Fairfax will be able to use it this year. Both have unused surpluses in the fund, he said.

San Anselmo is preparing to widen Drake Boulevard to four lanes from Tunstead Avenue to the Ross line. When that happens, said Lygren, "the traffic coming from the west will likely turn off at Shady Lane to avoid the Ross bottleneck." This would put additional traffic through Ross residential streets.

McAndrew expressed doubt this would happen.

"I wonder whether the majority of the townspeople are in favor of this idea," said Councilman Natalie G. Lewis. "I know I'm against it."

Lygren, pointing out that Ross has budgeted $49,500 toward the project—$9,000 short of half of the estimated cost—urged that the council apply to the state for gasoline tax money for the other half, available under a state program. He urged also that an engineer be hired to design the project at the same time as the San Anselmo end is designed.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen, however, said Ross first should ask San Anselmo and Fairfax whether they will make the $9,000 available from their share of urban thoroughfare funds.

"If they don't, we know we're finished right there," he said.

Finally, however, the council voted unanimously to negotiate for design of the project and apply to the state for funds, as urged by Lygren—and to write San Anselmo and Fairfax, as suggested by the mayor.

The Ross Town Council Also:

1. Adopted an ordinance establishing a slope policy for the town corresponding to those of Marin County and San Anselmo.
2. Adopted an ordinance expanding the title of town building inspector to include plumbing officer, and a resolution making him also electrical inspector.
3. Introduced and adopted an emergency ordinance prohibiting parking on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between the driveways of lots 88 and 94.
4. Accepted a health and disability insurance policy for town employees, with the town to pay the full cost "in lieu of raises in the near future."
5. Appointed Dr. Arnold Nutting as town health officer for matters not handled by the chief of police or the county health department.
6. Voted to have the mayor appoint a board of appeals for the building inspection department at the next meeting.
7. Decided to call a special meeting for discussion of a master plan outlining future activities and development of the Marin Art and Garden Center. No date was set.
8. Voted thanks to Van Logen and Webb Otis for assistance given the council in supervising the Ross Common project.
9. Awarded Marin Chrysler-Plymouth Inc. a contract for a new Plymouth police car at $2,358.

Volunteer Fire Leader Installed

James Vice was installed last night as president of the Mill Valley Assn. of Volunteer Firemen at dinner ceremonies at the municipal golf clubhouse. He will serve one year.

Vice succeeds Robert Hackney, who was presented a key to the Playboy Club, San Francisco, by the volunteers.

Student Destroys Data Punch Card

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — Protesting what he termed "mass culture," a Stetson University junior mutilated, stapled, then burned his data processing card.

Castillo's card admitted him to a 600-student lecture.

Demo Senator To Be Marin Guest

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., will be in Marin tonight to meet the public over coffee and drinks.

The senator will appear at a fund-raising gathering at the home of Leigh Athearn, 146 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, about 9:30 p.m.

Nancy Swadesh, member of the First Congressional District Committee, said the proceeds will go to the First Congressional District campaign.

Robert D. Carrow, chairman of the Marin Democratic Central Committee, will introduce Senator McCarthy.

McCarthy introduced Adlai Stevenson at the 1960 Democratic national convention and was himself mentioned for the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1964.

Mt. Vesuvius erupted in 79 A.D. and buried an estimated 20,000 residents of Pompeii under hot ash.

Sanitary Areas Combine Asked

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer of Mill Valley, today urged the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to consider ways of combining functions of the four sanitary districts which use the city of Mill Valley's treatment plant.

Such action would result in lower operation cost and lower tax rates, he said.

Balmer suggested three possibilities to combine the four districts' functions:

1. Merger into one district which would have one elected board and one contract with the city of Mill Valley.

2. The four districts could contract with Mill Valley to operate their systems, with the function of their boards reduced to adopting a budget and levying necessary taxes.

3. The districts could dissolve their respective boards and allow the city to become the governing body.

"Any of the above solutions would be preferable to the situation which now exists," said Balmer.

Almonte, Homestead and Alto sanitary districts each has its own boards. Kay Park Sanitary District is operated by the county. Mill Valley is currently negotiating with all for changes in contracts.

Mill Valley's sewer tax rate is 16 and one-half cents. Other tax rates are: Homestead, 31 cents; Almonte, 25 cents; Alto, 45 cents, and Kay Park, 49 cents.

"I think you would agree that the problems and needs of urban living have become too complicated to be solved at the level of small districts," said Balmer in a letter to John F. Barrows, local agency formation executive, proposing the changes.

Corte Maderans Seeking Cleanup

Two members of the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission met informally with five citizens last night to begin planning a town beautification drive.

Commission Chairman Robert W. Riboli said he, Commissioner Charles Garrison and the residents decided the drive should coincide with Corte Madera's 50th anniversary celebration in June.

"We want to have the town all cleaned up by June 10," he said.

Riboli said they talked only in general terms about problem areas in town and spent most of the time composing a letter to service groups, asking them to a meeting set tentatively for Feb. 16 at 8 p.m. in Granada School.

BERKELEY (AP) — A power line failure blacked out electric service for about 2,000 homes and businesses at 6:11 a.m. today in Albany and West Berkeley.

Gate Bridge Traffic Tops All Records

Traffic over the Golden Gate Bridge in 1965 hit an all-time high of more than 26 million vehicles, Mgr. James Adam of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District reported today.

He told bridge directors the 1965 traffic was 1,240,000 more than in 1964. The increase in traffic was 5 per cent over 1964 and 64 per cent over the 10-year period since 1956. In 1956 vehicles totaled 15,403,850, last year, 26,001,203.

The directors voted to call for bids on a $10,000 alteration of the Roundhouse Restaurant on the east side of the Toll Plaza. Adam said new covering is needed in the booths and on chairs and the soda fountain area needs renovation.

Director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco voted against the renovation. He said, "I thought we were going to look into a full-scale first class restaurant." He said the repairs would be "just sticking another prop under a very tired horse."

Radiation-Proof Studio Is Built

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—Radio station WBRK here has completed a radiation-proof broadcasting studio. It's built like a cocoon of concrete, with an eight-foot-high room inside, 12 feet square.

The roof is a 10-inch slab of concrete covered by four feet of earth. Underground lines connect the studio with its network and local police, fire and civil defense.

TRIO BEFOGGED

Bay Dinner Date Just Floats Away

A man and two women returning by boat from dinner Wednesday in Sausalito, were lost in the fog, ran out of gas and finally ended up early today in Monterey. They had been headed for Redwood City.

Michael Vogelgesang, 29, a flight engineer, and Judy Vroom, 20, and Pamela Warren, 23, both airline stewardesses, all from Burlingame, were trying out a new 18-foot speedboat for its maiden voyage.

They left Redwood City Yacht Harbor with 15 gallons of gasoline. The boat has a 150-horsepower motor and is capable of about 40 knots.

After eating and strolling in Sausalito, the trio started back, but the craft ran out of gas in mid-channel as the tide was running out the Golden Gate. The boat was swept into the Pacific Ocean and drifted in the fog.

About 1 a.m. yesterday, the Coast Guard started a search of the bay, at first confining operations to the southern part of the bay, then extending north to San Pablo Bay. Harbor checks were made as far north as Sacramento.

All that time the boat was not even in the bay. The search was stopped at dusk. At 10:30 p.m. a fishing boat captained by Joe Fernandez of Monterey found the boat adrift, and towed it into Monterey Harbor.

Deadly Rainstorm Leaves At Least 333 Known Dead

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—The summer rain storm which has soaked Rio for four days moved out to sea today.

By midday, 333 bodies had been recovered from rain-triggered landslides in the city and its suburbs. Rio, with 190 known victims, was hardest hit. In Petropolis, there were 70 bodies waiting for burial, 36 in Niteroi, 20 in Itagai, 16 in Sao Goncalvo, and 1 in Campos.

There were reports of further mud avalanches as the rains ended in mid-morning.

Police said casualties among the hundreds of persons still reported missing could raise the death toll sharply. An estimated 30,000 persons were left homeless by the storm.

Missing Beagles Just Too Hard To Replace

A San Rafael woman offered to give him a poodle pup, but croppled Frank S. Smith III, 53, of Stinson Beach, said yesterday that it wouldn't be the same as having his pet beagles back.

Smith, who lives with his 73-year-old mother at Panoramic and Shoreline Highways, is a victim of cerebral palsy. His dogs dashed out of the house Jan. 5 and haven't been seen since.

Novato Fire Official Will Ask Reelection

Peter J. Ferrarese, chairman of the board of the Novato Fire District, today announced that he would seek re-election in April.

Ferrarese, who has served on the fire district board since November, 1955, is a native of Marin County. He attended San Rafael High School and College of Marin and is a graduate of the Pacific Coast Banking School at University of Washington in Seattle.

He worked for the Bank of America for five years prior to going to work with the First National Bank in Novato. It is now Crocker-Citizens Bank, where he is branch manager.

He has served on the Novato School District board and as a director of the Redwood Empire Assn.

He and his wife Margaret have three children, Peter, Paul and Patty. They live at 10 Los Alondros Court, Novato.

"I believe in keeping the fire equipment in the district up to the growth of the district," said Ferrarese. The district recently received a lower fire insurance rating.

Weather Observer

Jose Silva of Bolinas has been designated as an official weather observer for the Army Corps of Engineers. Silva, who lives on Overlook Drive, said he was setting up his rain gauge today.

Inverness Improvers Face Eviction In Rent Squabble

The Inverness Improvement Assn. has no place to meet.

For years, the association has met each month at the Inverness Firehouse, which is owned by the Inverness Public Utility District. But district directors took away the key when the association refused to pay $10 per month rent.

The squabble started when utility district directors accused the association board of leaving a wall heater turned on and a window open after a meeting. The district then asked for rent, which it had never charged before.

Director Jack Mason reported to the association last Friday—at what may well be its last meeting in the firehouse—that he met with district directors to try to get the rent reduced to $5, but without success.

Association members said $10 is too much.

Directors are looking for someplace else to meet.

Witness Is Mute On Klan Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A witness at a Ku Klux Klan hearing was questioned today about the dynamite bombing of the newspaper offices of a Pulitzer Prize-winning woman editor.

The witness, James Nolan Fortenberry, 33, declined to answer questions about the incident as the House Committee on Un-American Activities continued its probe of Mississippi Klan activities.

Committee investigator Donald T. Appell asked Fortenberry about the incident. He said a stick of dynamite was tossed into the offices of the Northside Reporter in Jackson, Miss., Aug. 27, 1964. Fortenberry refused to answer.

The explosion caused an estimated $1,000 damage. No one was injured.

The Reporter was one of four weekly newspapers edited by Mrs. Hazel Brannon Smith, who was in Atlantic City, N. J., for the Democratic National Convention at the time of the explosion.

She had received the Pulitzer Prize in May 1964 for her editorial writing. She has called for moderation and reason in facing up to social changes in Mississippi.

Fortenberry said he worked as a city construction inspector in Jackson, Miss., until 1964 and now works for a private construction company.

Like other Mississippi witnesses, Fortenberry said he was unable to turn over Klan records to the committee because he did not have any. He pleaded the Fifth Amendment and other constitutional privileges in refusing to answer all questions about Klan activities.

Schemes of violence and money were the prime targets of committee questioning yesterday including a suggestion that klansmen bomb the train carrying Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on a campaign swing through the South in 1964.

An investigator said this idea, attributed to Louis Di Salvo, a Waveland, Miss., barber, and a proposal to set up a firing squad to eliminate Klan informers were too scary even for klansmen.

Di Salvo, 38, a New Orleans native, invoked the protection of the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination when asked if he sponsored the schemes.

Collision On Snowy Road Kills Five

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (UPI)—A California car moved to pass a truck kicking up a blinding cloud of powder snow and collided head-on with a West Yellowstone car, killing five persons and critically injuring another.

Killed in the crash yesterday were William Orluck, 65; his son, Mark, 37, and their wives, Mary, 61, and Elgie, 32, all of Hayward, and Frank Conner, 43, West Yellowstone.

Critically injured and hospitalized in Idaho was Conner's wife, Marjorie, 36. Gary Orluck, 3, the younger couple's son, and Mrs. Conner's son, Mark, 15, were reported less seriously hurt.

Although the road was "extremely slippery," Highway Patrolman Al Miller said the accident probably would have occurred on a dry roadway. Both drivers apparently were blinded by the flying powder snow.

The accident was on U.S. 191 west of Yellowstone National Park and in Montana.

The collision apparently occurred in the Conner traffic lane. The Orluck car, driven by Mark Orluck, apparently was passing the truck when the autos collided, Miller said.

The Orlucks were bound for the funeral of the younger Mrs. Orluck's father in Minot, N.D.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Name Of Bacillary Dysentery Changed But Effect Is Same

VAN DELLEN

Most adults recognize bacillary dysentary as a serious bowel disorder. It was a ravager of armies for centuries and continues to be a problem in this country and abroad. The name of the causative organism was changed to Shigella (Sh.); the four types are called after their discovers. The Sh. flexneri type, for example, is named for the late Dr. Simon Flexner, a famous bacteriologist at the turn of the century.

The Sh. sonnei type is one of the most prevalent infectious diseases in England and Wales. They refer to the condition as Sonne disentery, and an average of 30,000 cases are reported annually.

Authorities believe that this is only a fraction of those involved because most cases are not recognized. Bacillary dysentery usually is transmitted via contaminated food and water, and food-borne outbreaks are now rare in that country.

The disease is spread mainly by contact with those suffering an accute diarrheal attack. Youngsters probably are the main spreaders of the malady. This is why Sonne dysentery is a common problem in nurseries and schools. When introduced into the home it spreads rapidly to other family members.

Outbreaks of dysentery are not easily controled. We lack an efficient vaccine even though good remedies are available.

The best prophylaxis is keeping the hands clean and paying strict attention to good hygiene in the lavatory.

The main problem is that many are not sick enough to be concerned about spreading the disease.

In addition, the causative Shigella bacilli are expelled in the stool for weeks after diarrhea subsides. Some persons become carriers. The problem is 10 times as great when the individual is a food handler.

Bacillary dysentery is best treated with certain sulfonamides and streptomycin. Rest is important along with intake of fluids to combat dehydration and acidosis. Barley or rice water, gruels, poached eggs, custard, weak fruit juices, and toast should be eaten until diarrhea subsides.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

JITTERY LEGS

J. R. writes: During his sleep, my husband's arms and legs jerk quite violently at times, which wakes him up. What causes this?

REPLY

These movements may stem from the release of emotional tension, in which the individual acts out a dream. Another factor is myoclonic jerking, a spontaneous stimulation of muscles that occurs during relaxation.

WELL ROUNDED

Mrs. T. W. writes: When a doctor suggests a balanced diet does he mean an equal amount of protein, roughage, and starchy foods?

REPLY

No. He means a diet that will supply all the needs of the body. Menus of this kind contain the right combination of the different food elements: carbohydrates, fats, proteins, minerals, and vitamins.

SCHOOL REDISTRICT STILL DEADLOCKED

Tam-Tomales Votes Mean State Gains Say Over Long-Standing Marin County Issue

By FRANK FARRARA

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization started out with 14 unification proposals last night, but failed to recommend any of them.

Committee members debated only one proposal, a two-part plan affecting both Tamalpais and Tomales high school districts, voted on only four and rejected them all.

The outcome seemed inevitable when the only apparent contender was defeated by a 6-5 vote.

This was a proposal to unify the Tamalpais and Redwood High School attendance areas, less the Bolinas-Stinson Beach School District. It was linked to a second proposal to unify the Tomales High School District with the Drake High School attendance area and the Bolinas-Stinson School District.

After the "first half" of the proposal was defeated and two other proposals went down to defeat, chairman Rachel Conner made a last-ditch effort to break the deadlock.

She asked members to vote on the "second half" proposal, the Tomales half. It, too, was defeated 6-5.

Since the committe failed to come up with a new recommendation for the Tomales High School District area, it lost jurisdiction of unification in that area of the state, Mrs. Conner reported.

David D. Ring, who proposed the unification of the Tamalpais and Redwood High School attendance areas, described the plan as a compromise he felt the state might approve.

The state has approved overall unification of the Tamalpais High School District area, but has rejected a three-way division which would unify the Redwood, Tamalpais and Drake High School attendance areas separately. The voters turned down the Tamalpais High School District unification.

After Ring's motion, Mrs. Conner opened the meeting for comments from the audience, though it was not a scheduled public hearing.

Mrs. Doris Harnsberger of the San Anselmo School District Board noted that the "recommendations were contused" at the public hearing Jan. 5.

Mrs. Harnsberger said Drake High School "would suffer if it were cut away from the opportunities and potential a large district (Tamalpais High School District) offers."

J. R. B. Ellis of the Kentfield School District Board said he was disturbed about having the mechanics of unification "dictated from Sacramento where they have the least idea of the problems of educating children."

Mrs. Alyce Thompson of the Bolinas-Stinson School District Board objected to placing Bolinas-Stinson with Drake and Tomales, as did James R. Hassall Jr., a teacher at Bolinas School.

Mrs. Jean E. Adams of Inverness and committee member Roy Parks of Tomales, both members of the Tomales High School District Board, said most of the district residents prefer unification with Petaluma.

Mrs. Conner described the proposal to link Drake High to Tomales as "a step from" the overall Tomales proposal and the three-day Tamalpais unification proposal, both of which have been rejected by the state.

Then came the vote on unification of the Tamalpais and Redwood High School attendance areas excluding Bolinas-Stinson.

Voting in favor were Mrs. Dorothy Brown, Floyd D. Fisher, Dr. John Hamren, Ring, and Mrs. Conner. Voting against were Jack L. Mengel, Mrs. Binckley, Mrs. Larsen, Parks, Dr. Walter Way and Galen H. Williams Jr.

At this point Ring said, "I see we might as well pack up and go home."

Mengel then proposed unification of the Tamalpais High School District area plus Point Reyes and West Marin elementary school districts. This was defeated 8-3 without discussion. Mengel, Binckley and Larsen voted for it.

Parks then moved that the Tomales High School District area be unified with the Petaluma High School District area. This also was defeated 8-3. Parks, Fisher and Williams voted for it.

Then Mrs. Conner asked the committee to consider the "second half" of the Redwood-Tamalpais unification proposal, which failed earlier.

This proposal's 6-5 defeat involved two vote switches. Fisher who had voted yes on the "first half," voted "no" on the "second half," and Parks, who voted "no" earlier, voted "yes" on the "second half." Other votes remained unchanged.

Mrs. Conner said that the committee's recommendation for overall unification of the Tomales High School District area and its recommendation for separate unification of the Redwood, Tamalpais and Drake high school attendance areas will be before the State Board of Education Feb. 10 or 11 in San Francisco.

Mrs. Conner announced the committee has cancelled its regularly scheduled meeting on Jan. 19, and will next meet Feb. 16 at the Civic Center.

Indecent Exposure Charge Is Lodged

Derward M. Cranfill, 24, of 72 Kensington Road, San Anselmo, was arrested on a charge in indecent exposure by San Anselmo police yesterday. After two girls, aged 6 and 8, pointed him out as the man who exposed himself to them the day before at Kensington and Ross avenues.

Police said Cranfill lived in a trailer in a lot behind the First Presbyterian Church, where he worked as custodian.

Rights Group Defies Court In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—About 20 shouting young Negroes defied a federal court order today and marched into Ullman High School to recruit students for demonstrations.

Two of the invaders were arrested on disorderly conduct charges, a police spokesman said.

Only about 10 students joined the ranks of the demonstrators.

The chanting and shouting group obeyed police orders to leave the school, regrouped outside, and then set out to enlist more recruits.

Yesterday police used billy clubs to disperse about 450 Negro marchers who turned the downtown sections of Birmingham and suburban Bessemer into nerve-rending traffic jams of screaming, milling demonstrators and angry, horn-blowing motorists.

At least three demonstrators suffered slight injuries and several others claimed to have been struck by officers. Also during the melees about 13 miles apart, a policeman fainted, another got his hand cut and a woman collapsed.

Three civil rights workers were arrested in Bessemer and one in Birmingham.

Later, a three-judge federal court issued an injunction prohibiting demonstrators in Jefferson County from "obstructing the public streets in any manner so as to prevent or delay the orderly flow of traffic."

Police Kill Deer

Police shot a deer in Mill Valley last night after it reportedly had been attacked and badly injured by a pack of dogs at 49 Cornelia Avenue. The deer was taken to the corporation yard by Ross J. Benson, superintendent of public works.

Super Atom Smasher Plan May Be Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission may scrap its plan to build a $348-million atom smasher.

A source outside the commission said yesterday that three alternative proposals are under consideration.

He said each would be cheaper, and each would be for a machine of lesser intensity than the proposed 200-billion electron volt (BEV) accelerator which would be used for basic research.

Some 85 communities in 43 states have been scrambling to win the $348 million project for their area.

Rep. Craig Hosmer R-Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Committee, was told of the report.

"To me, it looks like possibly the beginning of the end for the 200-BEV, $348-billion machine," he said. "When you start talking about alternatives it adds up to that."

The source said the AEC has scheduled a late January meeting to get the views of some of the nation's leading high-energy physicists.

He described the alternatives as:

A suggestion by Prof. S. Devons, chairman of Columbia University's Department of Physics, that the AEC's existing 33-billion electron volt atom smashers at Brookhaven National Laboratory, Long Island, N.Y., be scaled up to the 120-150 BEV range. This could cost about $150 million.

A suggestion from the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California that the existing 200 BEV plan be scaled down to a lower intensity. This would cost about $260 million.

—A suggestion by Prof. R. R. Wilson of Cornell that a 150-million machine of lower intensity be built with provisions to increase its intensity over a period of years.

Selection of either of the latter two proposals still would require the AEC to choose a site.

St. Columba's Parish Annual Dinner Slated

Annual parish dinner of St. Columba's Episcopal Church of Inverness will be at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the church's Frick Hall.

Following the dinner, two members of the bishop's committee, two delegates to the diocesan convention, and delegates to the Marin deanery will be elected.

Rare Jade, Safe Taken In Home

Expensive pieces of jade and a small safe were stolen in burglary of the home of Arne E. Ingels, 3825 Paradise Drive, Paradise Cove, sheriff's officers reported today.

Ingels told deputies he returned home from work to find the 20 by 20-inch safe containing papers but no money, missing from his bedroom.

Taken from the living room, officers said, were two jade goldfish valued at $200 total, and silver pieces worth $300. No forced entry was evident, deputies said.

After 43 Years, Sausalito Police Changing Address

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito's cramped and divided police station, located 43 years in a portion of the City Hall at 727 Bridgeway, will move to new quarters at Caledonia and Johnson streets, starting tomorrow.

The new office is on the main floor of the former antique store, Heritage House, being leased at $200 per month from Mrs. Marie Silva of San Rafael and her daughter, Mrs. Amelia Boone of Mendocino County.

"We will have about five times as much space in the new location, said Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck.

The new office will contain a complaint-communications desk, watch commander's office, squad room, detective bureau, booking desk and chief's office. It will have a temporary holding facility for prisoners, interrogation room and storage areas, said Chief Huck.

Parking, now difficult in busy downtown Sausalito, will be provided for citizens in front of the station, which is across Caledonia Street from the main fire station.

Huck said heavy equipment will be moved tomorrow and the communications system on Monday, with assistance of the public works department. Besides the Chief, manning the office on the three shifts will be 13 officers, three clerk - dispatchers, and two cadets.

The City Hall was acquired in 1923, the building having formerly been the Bank of Sausalito. Jack Hannon was town marshal then, according to former Fire Chief Matthew J Perry.

An addition was built at the rear of the building for the police station, and offices for the two officers were built in front. Sandwiched between was the police court, now the city council chambers.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, who was a policeman and later chief in the '50s, recalled how an officer would site a man while on patrol, point out the direction of the police station, then hurry back to it himself, turn on the lights in the police court and wait for the man to come in.

"You look familiar," the arrested man would often remark; and the officer would reply, "I'm the fellow who gave you the ticket." The officer would post bail and the judge would take up the case in the morning, said Mountanos.

The police court was eliminated in 1953 when the statewide municipal court system came into being.

There were five steel cells with five bunks, and a young officer did a great many fundamental things, even to going out for a sandwich and coffee to bring the prisoners, said Mountanos.

Gone from the new station will be the light outside the door and the noisy bell which signalled the man on foot patrol that the telephone was ringing.

Gone will be the "dungeon" under the council chamber where police stored such things as stolen bikes.

And gone will be the frequent episode, breaking into the serious city council agenda, when a patrolman leads a weaving citizen down the aisle of the chambers toward the station to book him for drunkenness.

SPEAKER—Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, president of Planned Parenthood-World Population, will be guest speaker Monday at 12:15 p.m. at a uncheon meeting of the Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael. Guttmacher will tell the purpose and need of local planned parenthood associations in limiting world population.

Sanitarian Declares Need For Los Ranchitos Sewer

Directors of Las Gallinas Sanitary District last night heard county sanitarian William A. Desmond declare that the Los Ranchitos area must soon be sewered.

Desmond said he has been investigating the situation since the application of T. W. Schlich of 135 Ranchitos Road for sewer service from Las Gallinas.

Mrs. Helen Foulkes, recording secretary for the district, said it would be extremely expensive to run a line to the Schlich home. Los Ranchitos is not part of the district.

Desmond told directors he will meet with property owners and hopes to have a report next month. The Schlichs, meanwhile, have withdrawn their application and will try to solve their septic tank problem until some action is taken for the entire area. Mrs. Foulkes said.

There are about 100 homes, all on septic tanks, in Los Ranchitos. The area borders the sanitary district.

Las Gallinas Sanitary District directors also:

1. Decided not to consolidate their election with the June 7 primary. The district election will be Sept. 13. The terms of Arthur B. Carpenter, Fred J. Mahr Jr. and Annie M. Reagan expire at that time.

2. Authorized six-month extension for Draper Co. to install an interceptor to serve a new Richfield gas station at Northgate Shopping Center, and allowed occupancy of the station with a temporary holding tank for sewage.

3. Requested approval of the Marin County Local Agency Formation commission to annex the Auréguy parcel on the east side of the Terra Linda overpass.

4. Hired Mitton Wixson of Novato as maintenance man at $500 to fill a new position.

5. Agreed to cooperate with the city of San Rafael's stand that no new building permit will be issued until sewer connection permits are assured.

6. Learned from contractor Kirkwood-Bly Co. of Santa Rosa that another bank cave-in yesterday will further postpone connection of Gallinas Village to the Las Gallinas system. Completion was originally expected Nov. 15.

7. Adjourned until Jan. 26 to accept completion papers on a year-long system expansion project.

Border Traffic Up

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Traffic passing California's 17 border quarantine stations during December was up 12.5 per cent over that month a year ago.

During the month 608,917 automobiles, 39,548 trucks and 4,534 buses passed the border for a total of 652,999. This compared to 580,382 a year ago.

Doctor Robinson Ready For Surgery

Dr. Louis Luster Robinson of 116 Locust Avenue, San Rafael, entered Marin General Hospital today for surgery.

He is expected to be in the hospital several days, followed by several weeks convalescence at home, his wife reported. He is under care of Doctors William R. Smart and Donald Barbour.

Air Force Assn. Installs Officers In Novato Rites

Lt. Col. (ret.) Noel Turner was installed as president of the Novato chapter of the Air Force Assn. last night at the officers' club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Andrew Bretz and Irving Chapman Jr., were installed as vice presidents, and Jack Kinney as secretary-treasurer.

Jack Withers, state president of the Air Force Assn., described a plane of the future, called a "scramjet," which would be powered by jets taking hold at supersonic speeds and utilize centrifugal force to increase its speed to 17,000 miles per hour.

He said such a plane, the size of a B-52, could orbit the earth in 80 minutes. Unlike a rocket, it could return to earth, landing in conventional fashion.

"This fantastic aerospace plane will in turn become the Model T of its time," Withers predicted.

Island Children Learning Crafts

VINA HAVEN, Maine (UPI)— The youngsters who help dad by carving initials on lobster pots have begun getting a little fancier art education on this island off the Maine coast.

A plumber who on the side is a photographer, a lobsterman who is a sculptor, and a housewife teamed up to start a volunteer arts and crafts school.

Fifty boys and girls are learning how to model baby seals, whittle carvings of Maine seagulls, and sketch the waterfront that has made Vinalhaven one of Maine's most famous resorts.

Viet Nam War's Drama Has Widely Varied Cast

COMBAT SPECTATORS — While an American paratrooper, grenade launcher ready, grimly scans for a Viet Cong sniper, two South Vietnamese mothers and their children hide from the sniper fire in waist-deep water in the Bao Trai area 20 miles west of Saigon. Jan. 1 was the opening of large-scale sweeps of the area, previously a Red stronghold.

THE GENERAL'S THERE — Lt. Gen. John A. Heintges, chief of staff of the Military Assistance Command in Viet Nam checks on a wounded paratrooper during the first allied invasion of the Viet Cong-riddled Mekong Delta west of Saigon, in a battle that began on New Year's Day.

DAILY Independent Journal Est. 1861
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
Friday, Jan. 14, 1966 10

ALWAYS, THE CHILDREN — Paratrooper Sgt. Frederick C. Faucett holds and reassures a South Vietnamese youngster he rescued from a well at Duc Lap Jan. 5, after the girl became panicky at the rumble of approaching U.S. armor and dived into the pit. Fawcett leaped from his vehicle, jumped in after her and held her safe until his fellows could lower a rope harness. The child's mother is Mrs. Ly Thi Lanh (right). Another recipient of warmth is the child with whom Marine Gunner Sgt. Walter F. Childs Jr. shares a can of ginger ale during a lull in the fighting (right photo).

UNFAMILIAR TASK — After a hard day in the jungle, there's still the laundry to do, grimaces Marine Lance Cpl. Russell Wing. But not many homemakers have such an unusual way of keeping clothespins handy.

FOOT-SLOGGING WAR — Heavy-burdened with weapons, paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade take to the muddy grounds of the Mekong Delta (left) in an assault launched New Year's Day. During the advance, some were killed by misplaced fire from their allies' artillery. Then, encountering sniper fire from a distant line of trees, paratroopers lay down a light-weapons barrage as they advance (above).

SOLDIER'S PET — Paratroopers Sp/4 Charles Rector chats with mascot "Pfc Bufford L. Monk" at Bien Hoa. The monkey doesn't go on operations, but is a qualified jumper, Rector says, and he's thinking of promoting his pet to the same rank he holds.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Your Social Security Is Up, But So Are The Benefits Due

Your social security tax went up to 4.2 per cent of the first $6,600 you earn in 1966. This means you will pay $277.20 instead of $174 an increase of $103.20. Your employer also pays the same for you.

P. J. Wikel

What do you get for this?

You get a broad program of health insurance called "medicare" for people 65 or older.

This is important if you are now working as you will have this protection in later years. If you are already 65, or will reach that age soon, you will want these health insurance programs when they start in July 1966.

There are two kinds of health insurance:

1. Hospital insurance — to help you pay the bills when you are hospitalized. The program also provides payments for skilled nursing care and other services in an extended care facility after hospitalization, outpatient hospital diagnostic services, and home health services. You and your employer pay for this out of your social security taxes.

2. Medical insurance — to help you pay the bills for doctor's services and for a number of other medical items and services not covered under the hospital insurance program.

The medical insurance program is voluntary. You can have this added protection at a low cost ($3 monthly).

How people 65 and over qualify: most people will not have to go to the social security office to qualify for protection under the hospital and medical insurance programs.

You will not need to go to your social security office if —

1. You are getting social security or railroad retirement benefits. You qualify automatically for hospital insurance and an application card for medical insurance benefits was mailed to you in September or October of 1965, with a leaflet explaining both of these programs.

2. You are receiving a federal civil service retirement annuity. You will get information and the necessary applications by mail. You will be told if it is necessary to go to the social security office later.

3. You are receiving public assistance payments. In most cases, the public assistance agency will assist you in applying for hospital insurance and will advise you about enrolling for medical insurance.

You should go to your social security office if you are not receiving any of the above payments and if —

A. You have worked under social security but have never applied for benefits.

B. You have never worked under social security.

Be sure to get in touch with your social security office before March 31, 1966.

Shop Features Artists' Work

The Spanish Door, a shop featuring handmade gifts created by artists and artisans in the Mill Valley area, has opened in Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Jean Marie Secchitano of Mill Valley operates the shop, which is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Miss Secchitano sews and makes necklaces from wool and leather. Other gifts include paintings, sculpture, batik clothing, candles, pin cushions and jewelry, she said.

The AMX, a prototype of a design experiment by American Motors Corp., is being shown for the first time at the national convention of the Society of Automotive Engineers in Detroit this week. The two-door hardtop features a cantilever-type roof supported by inner structural members which also serve as a roll bar. It is 72 inches wide, 48 inches high and has a wheelbase of 98 inches.

Sardinia, 120 miles west of the Italian mainland, is losing its reputation as Italy's wild and woolly frontier. Marinas, villas and luxury hotels have transformed Sardinia's bleakly beautiful northeast shoreline into the "Emerald Coast."

Profit Taking Trims Market's Early Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit taking trimmed many gains in a turbulent stock market at the close today.

The list moved higher at the start but reached its peak in the first hour or so. Thereafter the general price level receded although many individual stocks showed great strength.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.3 million shares compared with 8.87 million Thursday.

The large volume occurred despite the fact that it was another abbreviated session, with the close at 2 p.m. EST — instead of the usual 3:30 p.m., a change initiated by the New York transit strike, now over.

Analysts called it an "emotional" market fed by inflation fears caused by a number of factors.

Here was the picture near the close:

Low-priced Chemway looked like the most active issue as it posted a fractional gain.

Xerox and Polaroid rose about 4 each. Du Pont more than 2.

Spurred by its sulphur price increase, Pan American Sulphur was active and up nearly 2. Texas Gulf Sulphur advanced more than 2.

Most steels were slightly lower, but Crucible held a small gain in heavy trading. Big Three motors were all narrowly higher.

Anken Chemical and Boeing were off about 2 apiece on profit taking. Aerospace issues and electronics were generally higher but most gains were moderate. An exception was Fairchild Camera, up 3.

General Electric, Kennecott and Storer Broadcasting were up about a point each.

Prices rose in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Od Town slipped more than 3 points. Gulf Sulphur rose nearly 3. Pneumodynamics and Lundy Electronics about 2 each.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds declined.

Savings-Loan Rates Made Competitive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government has moved to help savings and loan associations compete more evenly with banks for deposits.

Action was required after the Federal Reserve Board, in raising the discount rate, also told banks they could pay up to 5½ per cent interest on time deposits. The old maximum was 4½ per cent.

The Federal move threatened to bring about a big shift of funds from S-and-L's and other non-bank financial institutions to banks. But now the federal Home Loan Bank Board—overseer of federal S-and-L's has done two things to put associations back in the ball game:

Associations may now pay depositors up to 4½ per cent without incurring any penalty. The old maximum was 4¼ per cent.

They may now pay as high as 4¾ per cent for deposits of $1,000 or multiples of $1,000 that are left on deposit for at least a year.

In giving S-and-L's the right to pay a higher rate, the bank board cautioned them against being forced into unsound lending practices.

Nation's Fire Losses Grim For Last Year

BOSTON (AP) — The National Fire Protection Assn. says fire killed some 12,000 persons in the United States and destroyed property estimated at more than $1.7 billion last year.

The death toll was up about 100 over 1964 and close to the record of 12,100 in 1963. The property damage estimate was more than $100 million higher than in 1964.

Griddle Is Being Sold Again; Chinese New Year's Coming Up

Most recent restaurant sale in the county to come to light is that of the Griddle at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, which will change hands on Jan. 24.

New owners are John Limniatis and Zaharias Michopoulos of San Francisco, who are purchasing from Mr. and Mrs. Haddon Salt. The Salts have had it about 14 months. The transaction involved a listing by Harry Abras of William Timmer Realty and sale by Larry Klinefelter of Marin Town and Country Realty.

Limniatis is a former painter by trade, but Michopoulos has been in the restaurant business before, in Ohio.

For the time being the name is expected to remain the same. It may be changed after the new owners have a chance to get acquainted with the operation.

The Salts intend to to spend all their time on their fish and chips ventures. They'll keep the Griddle open until the transfer, then Mrs. Salt will manage the fish and chips shop in Sausalito, while husband Haddon sets up another one in Berkeley. Their objective is to establish a number of franchised shops in various locations throughout the Bay Area and perhaps even more extensively.

THE CHINESE observe their New Year's festivities a little later in the western year than on the first of January. Their new cycle, beginning this year on Jan. 21, marks the "Year of the Horse," which according to manager Ed Leong of Confucius Restaurant in Greenbrae, signifies a period "for forging ahead." I believe it will also be something like the year 4243 in the Chinese calendar.

The Confucius contribution to "Gung Hay Choy" this year is champagne supplied with all regular dinners from Jan. 19 through the 25th, and included in the price of the meal.

NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT, Jan. 18, is the "hello and goodbye party of Connie and Bill Jackson at the Office in Mill Valley.

"Hello" to new owners John P. Ebner and Claude T. Ross of Larkspur, whom they will introduce to all comers—and "goodbye" to wellwishers on their own part. This should be quite an affair and you are welcome to look in and participate.

Connie and Bill intend to get behind the steering wheel and set a course south so they can take in the Mardi Gras in New Orleans next month. It's their first vacation in many years and they'll take off as soon as the transaction is closed. Says Connie: "If we go into business again—perhaps in Sonoma County—after this holiday, it may turn out to be our last for a good many years more." (Last holiday, she means).

COMMENCING NEXT FRIDAY, Jan. 21, the Ark at Waldo Point will open its upstairs deck to the public as a "Discodeck a-go-go," featuring the Townsmen on Friday and Saturday nights. Dancing, of course, and there's a separate room here for minors to do their own frugging and swimming.

On the same date — also for Fridays and Saturdays, the downstairs will begin serving 2 to 4 a.m. breakfasts from $1.25. Music and dancing program on the lower deck still features Gil Cardona Friday and Saturday nights, and Chris Ibanez on Sundays. Chris, by the way, has a new vocalist with his group starting this Sunday —Gwen Jordan.

Remember—all entertainment tax is abolished now, so there's no extra charge on food and drinks by reason of the dancing.

FOLLOWING a brief vacation, Rubini's in Fairfax opens next Wednesday, Jan. 19. I understand that on display this month are the works of award winning artist Edna Van Kaughnet.

NEW OFFERING at Bobs' of Marin in Corte Madera (in the coffee shop only) is chef Art Hill's potluck dinner for $2.25 Tuesday through Friday nights. There's a different choice of three entrees each day. And if the first serving doesn't fill your internal gap—go back and ask for a second helping. It's on the house. Served from 4 to 9 p.m. Also a child's dinner at $1.65.

JUDY CLOUD
At the Cellars

AT DI PIETRO'S cocktail lounge in San Rafael, which co-owner Ron Hennig still claims as having the largest dance floor in the county, there is a new swinging group Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. — the Zackman Quartet.

Novelty numbers and good entertainment (no rock and roll) —with Daryl Hutchinson at the piano and organ. Jim Luttrell on the guitar, along with his wife, Rose, also on the guitar and as the featured vocalist—and "Little Al," who can turn out a terrific beat on the drums.

STEAKS MUST BE GOOD these days at McKees (where you broil your own)—when a big outdoor TV star like Dan Blocker comes all the way from the Ponderosa to prepare and eat one. And apparently the steak was big enough, too—he didn't look for seconds. He's supposed to be a talented amateur chef, I've heard.

Marin Dining And Wining

SPEAKING OF TALENT, cocktail waitress Judy Cloud at the Cellars has turned out to be quite a performer with maracas, supplementing the rhythm of Dick Saltzman's orchestra Friday and Saturday nights. And, says Dick, "toplessness isn't needed here—with Judy's other attributes."

EL BORRO opened again in Tiburon this week after a short holiday and you'll find it nicely redecorated — among other things, with a new red carpet. New on the menu are empanadas—chicken or pork turnovers (sometimes chicken livers), mild in flavor. And El Borro makes these in small sizes if you want to order them to take home for party hors d'oeuvres.

ALSO IN TIBURON—Kappie's House of Sandwiches will open again Saturday after a holiday in the southland for Ernie and Rose Kaplan—who found Palm Springs "too cold," Hermosa Beach "just right" — and Las Vegas "profitable."

AT THE COUNTRY BOY restaurant in the Bermuda Palms, San Rafael, Joe Satterfield has increased his choice of hot dishes for lunches and dinners to six. There are also about 30 different cold items on the smorgasbord table.

HAVING TROUBLE finding the Taverna Yasiou that we wrote about last week?

First—set your sights for the Marin County Civic Center and its broad entranceway from North San Pedro Road which leads to Santa Venetia.

Second—instead of taking this broad entranceway, look directly across North San Pedro Road where there's a gas station and a little commercial cluster next to it. San Pablo Road comes in here.

That's the place. There should be a sign there now. Taverna Yasiou is downstairs in the building in back of the station. Former name was Civic Center Coffee Shop—just ask for that if you get stuck. Offstreet parking.

Skate Board, Girl Go Separate Ways

Carol Fischer, 13, of 227 Jewell Street, San Rafael, has given up skate boards.

She cracked her left hip Saturday riding a board she had borrowed from a friend, according to her mother, Mrs. Kenneth E. Fischer.

She was treated at Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco.

New York Truce Means Pay Hike In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—New York's transit strike won a pay hike for San Francisco's bus and streetcar operators, the secretary of the city's Public Utilities Commission says.

James Finn, the secretary, said yesterday the raises are virtually automatic under the city charter. The charter sets the pay of the Municipal Railway's 1,700 operators at the average between the two highest pay scales in other U.S. cities with a population of at least 500,000.

New York operators have been the highest paid for several years.

Operators here stand to get increases totaling $572,000 between this July and July of 1967. They are to get hikes totaling $1.6 million in 1968.

The hourly wage will rise from $3.22 to $3.73 over the 2½-year period.

THIS IS A CITY STREET?—Sonoma Avenue in San Anselmo is one of many streets in the Hub City which have never been improved, and which drew fire in initial responses to a questionnaire on needed city improvements being circulated by the San Anselmo Congress for Community Progress.

Community Study Deadline Is Monday In San Anselmo

San Anselmo residents have only until Monday to make known their views on city problems and opportunities for use in the city's Congress for Community Progress, Don Perry, project chairman for the congress, said yesterday.

With Monday the deadline for return of some 4,000 questionnaires circulated to town residents, only 127 have been returned so far, Perry said.

Mrs. Anne West of the project committee acknowledged the slow return of questionnaires, but praisded those who have returned the forms.

"The main thing is they have made such thoughtful comments and shown such concern for their city. The variety and thought of the comments is something to see," she said.

Mrs. West said she has been posting all comments sent in with the questionaires on the bulletin board in the San Anselmo Library.

The project committee will consider the returned questionaires at its meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in city hall, Perry said. There the questionaires will be evaluated and the subjects of greatest community interest will be marked for use in panel discussions during the community-wide congress March 5 at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Prison Inmate Given Sentence On Weapon

Kelly Andrews Johnson, San Quentin Prison inmate found guilty Jan. 5 by a Marin Superior Court jury of possession of a sharp instrument in the prison, was sentenced yesterday to not less than three years in prison.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner said the term will run concurrent with one Johnson is already serving. He was convicted Oct. 13, 1961, in San Francisco for petty theft with a prior conviction, and Nov. 27, 1962, in Monterey County for possession of a knife.

Erie canal was opened in 1825.

Sid Braverman Served Quietly, Effectively

If there was ever a man who could serve the community and his fellow man effectively, without fanfare and with the least amount of friction, it was the late Sidney Braverman.

His quiet and soft-spoken manner and gentlemanly conduct belied the tremendous effectiveness with which he served Marin year after year for a quarter century.

His service did not come in spurts. His work with the old Community Chest and later United Crusade, with the Boy Scouts, and other religious and charitable organizations was a sustained drive that came from genuine interest in and compassion for the well-being of his fellow citizens.

He did not seek the limelight. Neither did he deliberately avoid it. If there was a job to be done, he proceeded to do it, oblivious to and totally unaffected by the limelight.

Some civic leaders are able to perform feverishly and effectively for a year or two or three. But those who stand at the helm year after year inevitably develop enemies.

Sid Braverman was one of the rare individuals who was able to render sustained public service with minimum friction. Even those who disagreed with him on minor points developed deep respect and warm admiration for him.

He was one of the founders of the Marin Jewish Community Center and Congregation Rodef Sholom.

As director of the Boy Scout Council of Marin, he received the Silver Beaver award for developing a trust fund for the council.

Other cultural and charitable organizations that received Braverman's helping hand and constant backing include the Babcock Foundation, Sunny Hills, Marin General Hospital Foundation, Marin Symphony Guild, and Marin Music Chest.

These and other fraternal and civic organizations to which he belonged will miss Braverman's quiet presence and support.

Sid Braverman was one of Marin's finest. A description of his many attributes add up to a description of the ideal community-conscious citizen.

Getting Rid Of The Starlings

No one has yet come up with a fool proof method of getting rid of that undisputed emperor of nuisance birds, the starling. Scientists are experimenting with grain soaked in oral contraceptive, as a humane method of control.

One of the most ingenious methods of getting them out of an area, but not harming them, is to record their distress call, then play it back to them, highly amplified. When the starlings hear what sounds like a 40-pound bird crying, "Help! Help!" they don't stay around to find out what the trouble is.

But this just scares them to another area and is no long term solution to the starling menace which is just beginning in California.

Congressional Hopeful Storer Skeptical Of 'Home Town' Poll

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

GEORGE McCABE OF Sonoma State College and state Sen. Frank Petersen of Ukiah, two Democratic hopefuls for Congress, got together and conducted a sample poll last weekend.

According to the poll, Supervisor Tom Storer of Marin "doesn't have a chance" for the Democratic nomination.

But Storer, who "didn't have a chance" in the race for supervisor, isn't about to lie down and play dead in the Congressional race. He discounts the accuracy of the poll, especially since it was conducted by Dr. Frank Siroky, a colleague of McCabe's at Sonoma State College.

The Siroky poll shows McCabe a runaway favorite in Sonoma, Napa and Marin. Public preferences run something like 60 to 75 per cent for McCabe, 25 to 30 per cent for Petersen, and about 5 per cent for Storer in Sonoma and Napa, according to the poll.

In Marin, McCabe got 64 per cent, Storer 26 per cent, and Petersen 10 per cent.

In Petersen's home county of Mendocino, Petersen got about 80 per cent, and McCabe about 15 to 20 per cent.

REMEMBER PROF. John Bodo of the theological seminary in San Anselmo, the one who was once mentioned as a contender for Marin supervisor?

Don't count him out of politics yet. He's using his one year sabbatical leave to do research work in Sacramento for Jesse Unruh and his boys. Dr. Bodo may come bouncing back into politics yet, after he completes his political homework in Sacramento.

RAY PASCHKE of Santa Rosa, field representative for Congressman Don Clausen, got a brand new daughter for Christmas. His wife presented him with a 7-pound, 12-ounce girl, their third child.

CONGRESSMAN CLAUSEN is one of four career life insurance underwriters in Congress who will be honored by the National Assn. of Life Underwriters at a dinner in Washington, D. C. next Thursday. He will get the association's public affairs award.

DON'T FORGET next Tuesday noon. Marin Federated Republican Women will meet at the theological seminary in San Anselmo to hear Laughlin E. Waters, Republican gubernatorial hopeful.

"Lock" Waters will also be the first guest on a new Bay Area TV series that makes its debut Sunday at 2 p.m. The program, titled "Page One," will be on channel 7.

SEN. JACK McCarthy of San Rafael got considerable publicity for the salary, allowances and expenses he drew during 1965.

It should be explained that 1965 was not a typical year for McCarthy, the senate minority leader. You'll recall he was rushing back and forth from here to Washington and even to Hawaii, trying to block the reapportionment of the state legislature.

Travel mileage pushed his total (salary plus expenses) to $18,913. Sen. Randolph Collier of Yreka drew $16,400, and Sen. Hugh Burns of Fresno, president pro-tem of the Senate, $15,192.

ON THE ASSEMBLY side, majority floor leader Jerome Waldie of Antioch put in the biggest claim — $18,041. Three in the $17,000 category were Speaker Jesse Unruh, minority leader Bob Monagan of Tracy, and Pauline Davis of Portola.

Assemblyman Bill Bagley of San Rafael was far down the line—$12,179.

Economic Plan Is Wrong Step

Editor, Independent-Journal:

"Co-ops for Bay Poor—$500,000 experiment by Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington." The reason? — "to organize more than 100,000 poor, uneducated people who don't get their money's worth out of their dollars, because they are prime suckers for shoddy sales tactics."

Looks as though the tax paying public are the suckers. In order to finish with a one cent net profit on each dollar the food chains must run a taut ship. Imagine a political operation paying no taxes, competing with private enterprise—what a gravy train!

This is pure socialism, something the Russians cannot operate successfully. It offers a bloc of 100,000 votes, which is the dream of all politicians, and is one step closer to destroying a system which has produced the greatest prosperity any country has ever enjoyed. Don't shrug and say this won't affect you, as whatever business you are engaged in, you may be the next target in the future.

We are stuck with the "Great Society" for the next few years, but let us show our displeasure by replacing satellite Governor Brown next November.

Marin's Coast Is Marvelous

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a new Marin resident (by choice) and an ardent conservationist (by conviction), I was shocked by your editorial of Jan. 5 urging widening of the Shoreline Highway. My shock arose from the fact that your editorial position is usually so enlightened.

I share your view that a new route must be found between San Francisco and the West Marin recreational areas—but, in the name of all that's beautiful, not at the cost of wrecking our sea coast. (I have no selfish interest, since I happen to live near the Redwood Highway.) I have had the good fortune to know the Atlantic coast from Maine to Virginia, the French and Italian rivieras, the coast of Queensland in Australia, the white cliffs of Dover, and the Izu peninsula in Japan. None of these is more glorious than our own Marin County shoreline.

We have no right to ruin a precious part of our heritage for all time. The Shoreline Highway is for the leisurely contemplation of natural beauty. If we use our imagination, we will find an acceptable route for an east-west highway between Route 101 and West Marin.

West Marin Needs Judicial Service

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Permit me to comment upon your front page story of Jan. 8, entitled "West Marin Court Elimination Asked."

I would estimate that the Northwestern Judicial District covers well over half of Marin physically, less than 10 per cent of her population, and less than 2 per cent of the cost of her total judicial system. It is also an area that commands at least two-thirds of Marin's tourist travel, and most of its population growth potential of the next several decades.

It would be interesting to know if any members of the current Grand Jury live in West Marin and are familiar at first hand with both its needs and problems.

Assuming the Jury's estimate of an annual saving of "almost $7,000 a year" is correct, what would be the cost, both of requiring West Marin citizens to travel to San Rafael with their problems, and of adding to the already overburdened condition of the Municipal Central District.

Considering the astronomic cost of county government today, compared to only five years ago, it would appear there were many areas offering cost saving potentials well in excess of "almost $7,000," and which would not deny West Marin the judicial services it needs.

Railway Plan Not Right One

Editor, Independent-Journal:

During the 20 years my wife and I have lived in beautiful, picturesque Mill Valley, I don't think we have ever been more distressed than by the proposed rape of Mt. Tamalpais. . .All of us ardently hope the water district flatly rejects the proposal to rebuild the old Mount Tamalpais railroad.

Advocates . . . nostalgically sing of "the good old days." But their song, alas, seems a bit off key. They tell you nothing of a few probable results —of the overcrowding of our village with unwanted hordes; of the vastly increased downtown parking problem when our own residents are already often sorely pressed to find parking space; of the mutilation of our mountainside; of the noise nuisance; of the fire danger.

And don't say there is no fire danger. . .No matter how tightly policed a crowd may be, there's always some member of it who will sneak a cigarette. And just one "ciggie flipper" could ignite our whole mountainside. . .

Let the litterbug line snake up the mountainside to a restaurant and bar at the summit, and we'll be opening our door to further commercialism of our lofty sentinel. Let the promoters once get a toehold, and others are bound to follow. . .Why not a gift shop? And then a motel? Not one, but several. And for the kiddies, amusement devices would surely be nice. . .

Do we want to retain the wild, rugged natural beauty of Tamalpais or have it go commercial? Before answering, consider the honky-tonk blight on the shores of once lovely Lake Tahoe or look at what's happened to our own Sausalito. Shall we keep the Indian name and magic of Mount Tamalpais or change it, without a sigh, to a no-nonsense monicker, something like Mt. Tamal-Pay-Us?

DOROTHY Middleton, in a book called "Victorian Lady Travelers," paints an intriguing portrait of Mary Kingsley, who, attired in her "stout Victorian skirt and prim headdress" scared the daylights out of a fierce African cannibal tribe. Not only didn't they eat her; they ended up beseeching her for remedies to cure insect bites and blisters. She also helped them kill a man-eating crocodile, dispersed a herd of wild hippopotami by poking them with her umbrella, and let a leopard out of a cage that obviously was not to its liking. When the leopard stood liberated before her, not knowing whether to lick her hand or attack her, the indomitable Miss Kingsley simply stamped her foot and commanded, "Go home, you fool." The leopard turned tail and crept off meekly into the jungle.

DICK SHAWN, investigating the string of fabulously successful resort hotels in the "Borscht Circuit," reports: "They say in the Catskills that the only truly happy guest is one who every time he opens his mouth is either eating or laughing. It is essential to keep the guests occupied. For example, there even are classes in jewelry making. A girl may not bag a husband, but at least she can return home with a pair of earrings."

Congress Not Likely To Strip Federal Reserve Board Power

WASHINGTON — Thanks to an action President Johnson tried hard to prevent, the nation's booming economy is far more healthy and secure than if the administration had had its own way.

Mr. Johnson ought to be grateful that the Federal Reserve Board did not yield to the pressures of the White House against its recent decision to raise the discount rate.

Events are proving that the Federal Reserve Board was profoundly right and that the President's adviser's were dangerously wrong.

THE MAIN BENEFICIARY is the nation. Going into its sixth year of prosperity-without-recession, it can now surmount a war-heated economy with less danger that the boom will get out of hand.

The administration also benefits. Against its own views, it has been put in a far better position to prevent runaway inflation, which would adversely affect the pocketbook of nearly every person — and nearly every voter — in the country.

As Mr. Johnson begins to send his messages to the Hill, it is premature to predict what Congress is going to do. The mood is a good deal different than it was last year. But it is not premature to predict one thing which Congress is not going to do.

Congress is not going to pay the slightest attention to the pleas of Rep. Wright Patman (D-Texas), chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, and any others who want to take away the independence of the Federal Reserve Board and put it under the direction of the President.

RESPONSIBLE PEOPLE inside and outside the government can now see how right the Federal Reserve Board was in raising the discount rate six weeks ago and how vital its independence was to that action.

That decision could not have been taken and would not have been taken if the Federal Reserve Board were not an independent agency.

There are sound reasons to preserve this independence. It reflects the basic premise of the American government of divided powers.

There is another factor. The administration is subject to massive political pressures to keep the economy expanding at all costs, and the temptation is to put off too long restraints on over-expansion. The Federal Reserve Board is subject to banking pressures, and the temptation is on the side of putting on restraints sooner than the administration would.

The division of power makes for a prudent balance.

THIS WAS WELL illustrated by the recent boost in the discount rate. The administration wanted to put it off. The Reserve Board refused to wait, and its reading of the danger signals in the economy has been completely borne out.

The Commerce Department has now found that the national output has been rising at a $2.5-billion-a-year faster rate than it realized a few months ago. Employment is at an all-time high for December; unemployment is at a 9-year low, and some inflationary labor shortages are appearing. Another rise in consumer prices has just been reported and wholesale prices are advancing.

Even without this knowledge, the independence of the Federal Reserve Board enabled it to act forehandedly.

Congress will have no reason to change the law.

The administration has every reason to feel that an independent Federal Reserve Board has served it well.

Labor Legislation Viet Nam Casualty

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The first major legislative casualty of the intensifying Viet Nam war apparently is labor's demand for repeal of Section 14B permitting states to enact right-to-work laws.

Although the AFL-CIO's priority proposal is still not being rated as "dead" for this session of Congress, its prospects are drastically dimmed by the contemplated high-powered drive to put through President Johnson's $13 billion emergency Viet Nam appropriation.

In conferences here this week, members of the AFL-CIO executive committee are being frankly told their No. 1 legislative proposal will not be the first order of Senate business as originally planned.

Instead, the controversial 14B repealer is being sidetracked to clear the way for immediate consideration of the huge Viet Nam fund bill to avoid delay in winning congressional approval of it.

THIS BACKSTAGE STRATEGY, worked out by White House, Labor and Democratic congressional leaders, calls for cannonballing the emergency money measure through both the House and Senate before the legislators take up the controversial domestic legislation.

According to word congressional leaders are passing to colleagues, AFL-CIO chiefs bowed to this unannounced strategy for two compelling reasons:

The union leaders' fear that a prolonged debate over 14B would block action on war funds and backfire against their repeal efforts; private polls showing that the pro-labor forces in the Senate lack the votes to force an early showdown on this issue.

Labor and administration leaders are privately saying they can muster only 55 votes to cut off Senate debate—11 short of the 66 needed to compel a vote on repealing 14B.

With Democratic congressional leaders hoping to adjourn by August 15 so members up for election can campaign, every delay in bringing up 14B reduces its chances for passage this year.

Freshman Democrats, who helped edge the measure through the House last year, already are urging the White House to shelve the controversial labor issue.

They point out that if a full-scale Senate debate takes place, the bill will become a major issue in their election contests and could cost a number of them, particularly from rural areas, their closely-won seats.

SENATOR EDWARD KENNEDY (D-Mass.) is submitting his own legislative program to the Senate.

He will propose new civil rights, crime, social security, education and refugee legislation that has been prepared for him since last year's session of Congress.

Quietly working behind the scenes with several Kennedy holdovers in the Johnson Administration, the youngest Kennedy plans to seek national prominence by calling for establishment of a Criminal Justice Academy.

Under this proposal, scholarships would be granted by the government to outstanding law graduates to study methods of improving the administration of federal and state judicial procedures and protecting civil liberties.

Kennedy, a member of the Judiciary Committee, plans to urge enactment of legislation to safeguard civil rights workers and to insure Negroes the right to serve on state as well as federal juries.

WHILE SENATOR ROBERT KENNEDY (D-N.Y.), will seek the leadership of youths throughout the country, his brother "Teddy" Kennedy, in proposing new social legislation, will bid to become the leader among the millions of elderly persons in the country.

As a starter he will sopnsor legislation for a guaranteed income for all persons 70 or over regardless of whether they are under social security.

Kennedy also hopes to improve his liberal image by waging a vigorous fight for federal funds for the National Teachers Corps, which he co-sponsored last year. Congress authorized the establishment of this body, but balked at voting funds so teachers could be recruited to work in poverty-stricken areas.

The Fish Are In, Politicians Out, There's Even An Honest Man About

The herring are in. The politicians are out. And we have found an honest man.

Sausalito is the place of the politician and the fish. We met Jane Bias standing barefooted on the sea wall, fishing. Asked why the water was so soapy, she explained it was caused by the herring's egglaying process.

According to Sausalito's Swede Pedersen, who is really Norwegian, the herring rub along the side of a wall or pier and the eggs come out "like a strip of tooth paste." If anyone knows about herring, it must be Swede. He has been a herring-catcher for 42 years, he says.

"IRWIN LOWE'S mother-in-law, a paisano, is one of the best of all Sausalito herring picklers," Pedersen tells. The Italians use wine or garlic vinegar, the Swedes pickle with cream. Swede gives the fish to his friends.

The action is great to watch by night or day. Flora Olson of Tiburon said she, her husband, and son, Don, fished pre-moon Tuesday night about 9 with about 20 others in Sausalito. "My son got so excited fishing he fell in," said she.

Asked at Zack's if he had started campaigning yet, growly, wonderful Matts Perry said: "Campaigning? I started last year!" He handed out a green and black bumper sticker, the first we have seen in the April city council race, and said, "remember, I'm running as an independent. I've had offers of money for backing but the only thing I'm asking for is votes."

THE HONEST MAN, whose face is good but his name a mystery, we met last Sunday while acting as a volunteer interviewer at the Core-sponsored job survey in Marin City.

He was tinkering with a car engine on Cole Drive, talking to friends. Asked if he were interested in on-the-job training, he said, no, "I'm happy with my present job." He is a maintenance man.

Other persons interviewed, just as honest, said yes, they would like to have more training. One was a shirt presser who would like to do nursing or work in business. One was a laborer who wanted to be taught to use machinery. Both man and woman said they would like to improve their English and arithmetic.

MILL VALLEY carpenter Walter Coenders said he has received his back pay as worker in a World War II Nazi slave labor camp.

He related that when he was about 20 he was picked up off the streets in his native Holland and shipped to Germany where he dug ditches and cleaned up bombing damages. He worked until 1946 and then was freed by Americans. "I'm glad I got out alive. Of about 500 sent, one half didn't make it back," said Coenders.

He later emigrated to America and about a year ago got a letter from his sister saying that any one who had been in a labor camp could send in a statement. Coenders did. About three months ago, he was paid, a total of $195 in American money. That meant one guilder an hour in Dutch money, he said. "I was mighty surprised at this," said Coenders, "because the Germans lost the war."

POET DON ADAMS of Mill Valley and artist Gene Beery of Stinson Beach say they depend on gardening to pay for their respective roofs and groceries.

Beery, an anti-surrealist, says he paints flying coffee pots and windmills with rainbows coming out of them as well as portraits and landscapes. He has lived in the East, Midwest and West and prefers the latter.

"Marin stimulates you," he said, "and it lets you alone. New York doesn't let you alone. Whatever we've got here is too good to lose."

IT'S CURIOUS that Beery was the only Beery in the Manhattan directory, according to him, but he says there are three Beerys in Marin. Asked about his card: "So what, Inc.," Beery says "I want to go beyond 'so what.' some things need a so what. Some things don't I'm trying to paint the new faith, hope and charity . . .so what is public relations work that an artist has to do, and incorporation of ideas I have been working under. It's like having the power to say no to things."

Adams, who says he doesn't write poetry for money, permitted the use of his equation-type poem, Korzybski's Maya Scandal:

"One god 20 two rosebuds 18 four buttons 10/(total) 48/ tax 03/(total) 51."

Answers To Peace Overtures Inscrutable But Promising

WASHINGTON—As the Johnson peace offensive goes into its third week, more and more attention is being paid to responses from Hanoi. Everyone is looking for some sort of sign that North Viet Nam is ready to come to the negotiating table, and every reply to our peace overtures is studied by our experts in minute detail.

Therefore, what might sound on the surface as a complete rejection of an offer could very well be the opening we've been looking for.

I went over to the State Department the other day and talked to a U.S. Hanoi-watcher, who was, at that very moment, studying the latest North Viet Nam raido broadcast concerning our peace offensive.

"IT LOOKS PROMISING," he said, as he shoved his magnifying glass to one side.

"How's that?" I asked.

"Well, listen to this," he continued, reading from the report. "The U.S. policy of aggression in Viet Nam remains unchanged and shows the arrogance of President Johnson in pretending he wants peace while American and puppet troops intensify their attacks on innocent women and children."

"That's promising?" I said.

"It's a very mild statement compared to the one they made last week."

"What else did they say?"

"U.S. imperialists will be thrown into the sea long before any peace swindle can be made, and their lackeys in Saigon will be chewed up by the democratic peoples of Viet Nam."

"That sounds bad," I said.

"ON THE CONTRARY, there's a great glimmer of hope here. This is the first time Hanoi has mentioned the sea. It may have great significance. It's quite possible they might want to negotiate on water rather than land."

"That's something I hadn't thought of."

"Now here, in the third paragraph, may be another hint that they're ready to talk. It says, 'North Viet Nam will never be blackmailed into giving away the rights of the National Front for Liberation by a nation who sabotaged the 1954 Geneva agreements, and who have shamelessly launched air attacks on the cities and villages leaving behind wanton destruction and horror.'"

"What kind of hint do you get out of that?" I asked.

"THIS IS THE FIRST time they've mentioned the Geneva agreements in a broadcast, and it's quite possible this is their way of telling us, without the Chinese knowing, of course, that they would be willing to go there."

"By George, you may be right," I said excitedly.

"Now down here in the broadcast they make their usual attacks on our imperialism and credibility. Then they say, 'There is no possible way of ever negotiating peace in Viet Nam until every American soldier leaves this country.'"

"That's a tough statement," I said.

"We've asked them to clarify it. You'll note they don't say when the soldiers should leave. There could be two meanings to it. Possibly three.'

"HERE, AT THE END, they say, 'So long as U.S. imperialists still pursue the war of aggression against Viet Nam and launch attacks against the fatherland, the people in both zones of Viet Nam will fulfill their sacred duty to resist with the aid of their peace-loving friends in China and the Soviet Union. Let them make no mistake about this.'"

"It sounds like a peace feeler to me," I said.

"We're treating it like that, until we get word to the contrary."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

There's Something To Be Said For Way County Hires People

FUSSELMAN

LAST Monday radio station KTIM broadcast an item, which will be repeated shortly. That night in the Independent-Journal there was a strong editorial (which I hope most of you read) with the headline, "County's Hiring Methods Far Less Than The Best." One of the paragraphs: "Another strange aspect of the case (hiring the man for promotion and development) is that the oral review board, which interviewed 13 candidates, did not list Douglas among the top three. There is some indication that he was not among the top five."

Another paragraph: "Unorthodox hiring practices such as this make a mockery of the county's processes . . . "

Still another: "Whenever it suits their fancy, do the supervisors, together with the county administrator's office, ignore the regularly established procedures and substitute their own personal preferences instead?"

THE ITEM heard over the air appeared in the I-J on Tuesday.

"Douglas' Wife Was Campaigner"

"The wife of John M. Douglas, hired by county supervisors as director of economic development for Marin County, was a campaign worker for Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker in 1964.

"Last Tuesday Leydecker answered complaints over the appointment . . . by saying that . . . (Douglas) was no particular friend, even though he is a neighbor . . .

"Mrs. Douglas was one of five area chairmen in the 1964 campaign in which Leydecker defeated John F. McInnis, the Mayor of San Rafael . . .

"DOUGLAS was hired at $15,600 a year, $2400 over the budgeted salary, on recommendation of County Administrator Alan Bruce."

This whole thing ties in with the cost of county government. Let's have a short play-back from last week's column . . . "If I wanted to put people who are friends in county government, I wouldn't do it in this crude fashion". (Said the supervisor from District One.) The column also stated, then, that the records will show that he appointed the lady about December 10, 1964, to the Mosquito Abatement District board. Nice going isn't it?

The banner story across the front page of the I-J Tuesday was: "County Tax Rate Could Rise 21 Cents Next Fiscal Year". This was according to a bland prediction of the administrator to soften you up and prepare you for the shock. And the board was forewarning the department heads that they must hold the line. In effect, to let the board do the spending.

The supervisors said much the same thing to the cities last year, when they urged them to cut their budgets because the board was lowering its tax rate. You will remember they had increased the budget by $3,502,813. Double talk. At the time (July 1965) one supervisor suggested that the board take steps to encourage the formation of a "responsible taxpayers group."

Has it ever been done? Another supervisor suggested that the "Grand Jury be given extra funds to hire a professional to help examine county operations". I asked then, "What goes with the administrator's office?"

I INTEND to review, next week, the whole costly operation that is going on, even though I have touched on it before. You know, you don't have to be pushed around, dollar-wise, as you are.

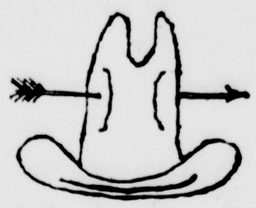
League Show Takes 'Americana' Theme

By MOLLY MARIN

The Junior League's fashion show to be given Feb. 9 at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel is taking an "Americana" theme this year, and as usual, is attracting a number of Marin spectators to the gala. The word is out that although the sponsor tables have been sold out there are still a limited number of tickets at the San Francisco league office. Mrs. Huntley Bennett of Ross is chairman of decorations and Mrs. Warren Outten of Tiburon is also on the committee for the benefit aiding the league's community trust fund.



'AMERICANA'

Juvenile models who will make their first runway appearances are Pierce Buxton, son of Mrs. John W. Buxton of Sausalito, and Jean Lloyd of Mill Valley, whose mother is Mrs. W. James Lloyd. Participating as a junior model is Alison Amonette of Ross, whose mother, Mrs. Clarence O. Amonette Jr. is well-known here for volunteer modeling activity in the summer Marin Art and Garden Center show sponsored by Northgate Group and the Junior League. Mrs. Gerald D. Stratford of Belve-

NEW BRIMS FOR SPRING

One of the highlights of the Millinery Institute's Spring 1966 show is this bright jonquil felt bonnet, left, by Mr. John of New York. The wide brim separates from the crown just above the ear and straps under the chin. A pirate's cap, right, is chicly converted for milady by millinery designer Emme. Imported silk is the foundation of this hat, which is draped around the crown and extended over the shoulder, and topped with a removable upturned breton.

Marin Women

Marinite Writes Guide For Girls

By BETTY FROST

A reluctant author is rare. Rarer still is a reluctant author with a successful book who is not planning another.

Gwen Cummings of Belvedere who has published "It's Up to You Girls!" is this unusual, and still reluctant, writer. Her 195 page guide for girls has been called the answer to Helen Gurley Brown's "Sex and the Single Girl."

"It may not be the answer, but it is an answer," says Gwen, who considers the sophisticated viewpoint of Mrs. Brown's book disastrous for the inexperienced girl on her own for the first time.

Geared to the needs of younger women, who have just left schools and colleges, the Belvedere woman's book gets down to very practical considerations in chapters dealing with jobs, finances, room mates, appearance, dwellings, conduct, use of time, gaining maturity, social life, and — oh yes, men.

WRITTEN AS a series of letters to friends, the format suggests the cheerful tone, but the book is studded with down to earth practical suggestions, listed in an orderly fashion for easy reference.

The writer's knowledge of the needs of young women in the 18-22 year old bracket is far from haphazard. For four years Gwen worked with young girls in what turned out to be a kind of laboratory situation and ideal preparation for the book. While working at a full time job herself, the enterprising Marin girl conducted a training course called "Experiment in Urban Living." She maintained an apartment in San Francisco which she shared with five would-be career girls in the late teens and very early twenties. The same set of girls would stay for a three month period, then others would take their places. Nights and weekends were used for field study and projects in connection with group living and the adjustments to life in a big city. Experts were called in and some lectures were included in the program.

"THEY MANAGED money, managed jobs, managed a household, and managed social life in a new environment," Miss Cummings said. "These were normal girls with normal challenges."

Gwen started the urban living group experimentally during a summer vacation from her duties as a member of the dean of women's staff at Principia College, Elsah, Ill. By the end of the summer she was so interested in the project that she resigned her position with the college and returned to the west permanently.

The editor of the women's page of the Christian Science Monitor, Jessie Arndt, learned of the work Gwen was doing and asked her to write a series of articles about the youth project for the paper. At first Gwen was — there's that word again — reluctant. But, encouraged by family and friends, and knowing that she had the material needed, she submitted several articles. The series continued for 14 months, with one article published each week. For seven months of this time, Gwen was traveling around the world with her mother, Mrs. Harold Cummings of Belvedere. This accounts for some of the exotic datelines — such as London, Lisbon, Bangkok, which head the letters of friendly and practical advice. These articles became the basis for the book which was published by the Smith Co. of California, Inc. of San Francisco.

"The key for young women making a place in the world is to stop and think. Life doesn't have to be 100 per cent trial and 90 per cent error," says Gwen.

ALTHOUGH SHE INSISTS that she has no future writing in mind, and works as the office manager of the family business, the Cummings Stained Glass Studios in San Francisco, the book continues to keep her busy. She handles the production and distribution herself. Just last week she received an order from Dallas for 31 copies, one for each of that city's public libraries.

Some copies of "It's Up to You Girls!" have been sold abroad, but Gwen does not think that foreign editions would serve a useful purpose since the material is geared specifically for the American pattern of life. The writer has also found herself in demand as a lecturer, principally for women's groups, "who are concerned about establishing communications with their growing children," says Miss Cummings.

Raised in Belvedere, the daughter of Mrs. Harold Cummings and the late Mr. Cummings, Gwen attended Belvedere elementary school and Tamalpais High School. She is a graduate of Principia College, and did graduate work at Occidental College, where she qualified for a California teacher's credential. She taught in the Reed Union School District for a short time. She is the sister of John Cummings of Belvedere, Mrs. Robert Shelburne of Albany and Bill Cummings of Philadelphia, Pa.

Teen-Agers' Dating Code From 'It's Up To You Girls'

Here is Gwen Cumming's dating code, which she emphasizes is "a city code for young women on their own for the first time among strangers in an urban environment." It is reprinted from the book by Miss Cummings, "It's Up To You Girls!"

1. Get to know a man a little bit before you accept an invitation to single-date with him . . . through double dates; entertain him in your home with some of your friends or family around, or through work, church, sports or intellectual group where you met him. Ask yourself "Is he someone I'll see again, so his sense of responsibility for me is apt to be alive?"

2. Beware of dating married men who pose as single—on business trips and so forth.

3. Dating older or divorced men is not taboo; just be careful.

4. Beware about accepting dates to beach parties at night.

5. When dating a man whose attitude toward drinking you are not sure about, go in a group of two or three couples.

6. In deciding where you will or will not go on a date, ask yourself, "How would I feel if Dad walked in?"

7. Locate the after-dark "off limits" areas in your city — usually big parks, international settlements, etc., and do your dating there in the daytime!

8. Always take some money with you on a date; you may never need it . . . but then you may, for a taxi or the telephone if you end up alone.

9. Never go into a man's home — not even for a few minutes — unless there's a party there or his family is there. (His roommate won't suffice; a man is never considered a chaperon.)

10. Never ask a man into your home unless housemates or other guests are there too.

11. Men should clear out of your apartment by 12:30 a.m., and girls should likewise be out of men's homes by 12:30.

12. It's up to the women to set the curfew on dates; 2 a.m. is my absolute deadline, except in extraordinary cases.

13. Wether or not you date on week nights depends on your job, stamina, and home responsibilities.

14. Be wise about confiding in dates too readily.

15. Don't lend money to men; long-time friends may be the exceptions.

16. Don't phone men — at their work, club or home — unless on business. (If a man wants to talk yith you, he'll call you. If he doesn't want to, he won't. If you call him just to talk, you make yourself out to be a vampire in pursuit, and you only add to his ego and amusement or exasperation.)

17. Don't accept favors or gifts from men without due deliberation . . . sometimes the gifts are tokens of appreciation but sometimes they have "price tags" attached.

18. Avoid such feminine tricks to get more dates as leaving lipsticks in men's pockets, coats in their cars, or offering to do their laundry.

Marin Branch To Sponsor Get Acquainted Coffees

Three morning coffees to acquaint members of Marin Branch, American Assn. of University Women, with their neighbors who are also members are being held. This large organization is structured on two dozen study and interest groups, meeting separately monthly, so it is quite possible to be an active member of several sections without running across neighbors who are also members. Women in the central Marin area who are interested in learning more about membership in this organization may telephone membership chairman Mrs. Roy C. Enos of San Rafael, or attend one of the gatherings.

Mrs. Robert Ohrenschall is arrangements chairman. Mrs. Robert Flanders, branch president, will speak informally at each gathering. Today members met at the home of Mrs. Fred O. Goodell.

On Monday at 9:30 a.m. the group will meet at the home of Mrs. K. Whitehead in San Anselmo, assisted by Mrs. Martin T. Fredericks. Mrs. Etienne Rolin, entertainment chairman, fellowships committee, will report on the "International Affair."

On Feb. 25 Central and East San Rafael members will meet at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hartmann, with Mrs. R. O. Bolt, co-hostess.

Tamalpais Unit Pythian Sisters Will Install

On Tuesday, Mrs. Herbert Hickman, grand chief of California, will install new officers of Tamalpais Temple 129, Order of Pythian Sisters at 8:30 p.m. in the Odd Fellows Temple, San Rafael.

Installed with Mrs. Robert Cole, past chief, will be Mesdames Anthony Bottini, most excellent chief; Harold Marple, most excellent senior; Leonaro Tibbott, most excellent junior; Edward Kennedy, manager; Charles Heller, protector; Lloyd Brooks, guard; Joe Whiteley, secretary; Harry Simpson, treasurer; and Holgate Thomas, musician.

Officers and members of the temple will meet at 7:30 p.m.

Australian Girl Will Be Speaker

An Australian girl, Perdita Avery, attending Redwood High School as an American Field Service exchange student, will be the speaker at the noon luncheon to be held by the United Presbyterian Women of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Tiburon on Tuesday.

Perdita, who comes from Melbourne, is staying with the Kenneth Merklin family in Tiburon this year. She will discuss her experiences and observations of life in the United States and Marin County.

Luncheon arrangements are being made by Priscilla circle, with Mrs. Gerald Frellson, chairman.

THE TOP-DRAWER DRESSERS—

Among the women named to the 1965 international list of best dressed women of the world last night were, from left, Princess Paola of Belgium, Mrs. Angus Ogilvy, the former Princess Alexandra of Kent; and singer Barbra Streisand, whose song "Second Hand Rose" is a current U.S. favorite . . . Remove With Blade

Remove as much of paint stains as possible with razor blade or plastic scraper. Apply paint and varnish remover to remaining paint and then scrape off loosened paint with scraper. If oil stain remains from the paint, treat as for oil stains.

Miss Dixon Is Contest Winner

Sharon Dixon of San Rafael is the winner of the 1966 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow award at San Rafael High School.

The daughter of the Earl Dixons of San Rafael, Sharon is a senior at San Rafael High, where she has been active in many activities.

Sharon has been a member of the California Scholarship Federation, director of student body elections and Ra Ravas treasurer. She is a member of the school cabinet and also represents San Rafael High in the Marin County Youth Council. At San Rafael High, she has been school historian, student body secretary, sophomore class president and yell leader.

Test papers of all winners in the state are being judged, and a state homemaker of tomorrow and runner-up will be selected. The state homemaker will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, and her school will be awarded a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. The second-ranking girl in the state will receive a $500 grant.

Next spring, the state homemaker of tomorrow, accompanied by a school adviser, will join in an educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D. C. Then, the 1966 all-American homemaker of tomorrow will be announced at a dinner in Washington. Chosen from state winners on the basis of original test score and personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will have her scholarship increased to $5,000.

NOLA In Need Of Volunteers For Eldridge

Novato Oak Lodge Auxiliary is starting out the year in need of volunteers who are willing to go to Oak Lodge, a cottage for 42 girls between the ages of 12 to 20 who are mentally retarded, at Sonoma State Hospital at Eldridge.

NOLA members go to Sonoma Hospital the fourth Thursday of every month at 7:30 p.m.

In 1966 NOLA members plan several parties for the girls. During January and February they plan to work with the girls in making ceramics and will give each girl clay to make small dishes. The finished dishes will be given to the girls.

The NOLA members also plan to take pictures of the girls and present each one two copies; a watermelon feed will be held in July and a barbecue in the fall. A boy-girl party will be sponsored twice this year when each girl can invite a friend from the boys' ward to a dance.

As a Christmas gift the NOLA members purchased a washing machine for Oak Lodge.

Persons interested in working with NOLA for three hours a month may contact Mrs. John Messer, president.

Redwood P-TA Sets Co-ordination Topic

Effort to coordinate instruction in the seventh and eighth grades with the subjects taught in the high schools of the Tamalpais High School District will be described at the Redwood High Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Redwood's Little Theater.

James Pierce, director of instruction for the Tamalpais district, will report on the progress made by the superintendents' study council.

Miles McColm, supervisor of foreign languages for the district, will speak on coordinating language instruction.

AVANT GARDE OUTFIT

This avant garde beach outfit by Tiziani of Rome was displayed in the 1966 spring-summer fashion collection in Florence, Italy. Aimed at hitting the bull's eye of the trend in fantastic designs, the costume has bell-shaped yellow linen "sailor" trousers, topped by a funneled-sleeved bolero type cape, also in yellow. The target designs are done in red, yellow, and blue.

Best Dressed Named

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who headed the annual list of the world's best dressed women for a number of years, was named a permanent member of the fashion hall of fame yesterday.

The wife of the late President was among six women to achieve the honor which elevates them above yearly competition. They were selected by a committee of fashion experts on the basis of votes cast by some 2,500 members and observers of the fashion industry throughout the world.

HEADING THE LIST of the 12 best dressed women of 1965, in Mrs. Kennedy's place was 22-year-old Mrs. Carter Burden of New York, socialite daughter of Mrs. William Paley, another veteran of the list.

Two close relations of Mrs. Kennedy also figured in the voting. Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, her mother-in-law, placed fifth on the annual best dressed list and Princess Lee Radziwill, her sister received a number of votes although she did not make the final 12.

THE FULL LIST of the 12 best dressed women of 1965:

—Mrs. Burden.

—Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt of New York.

—Mrs. Wyatt Cooper, the former Gloria Vanderbilt, of New York.

—Mrs. Giancarol Uzielli and Mme. Stavros Niarchos, the former Anne and Charlotte Ford of New York.

—Mrs. Joseph Kennedy.

—Mrs. Kirk Douglas of Los Angeles, French-born wife of the actor.

—Mrs. Angus Ogilvy Princess Alexandra of Kent of London.

—Actress Barbra Streisand of New York.

—Mrs. Charles Engelhard, wife of the mining magnate, who commutes between homes in New York, New Jersey and South Africa.

—Mrs. William McCormick Blair, wife of the U.S. ambassador to the Philippines.

—Princess Luciana Pignatelli of Rome.

—Princess Paola, Italian-born wife of the Belgian crown prince.

OTHERS NAMED to the fashion hall of fame with Mrs. Kennedy were Mrs. Charles Wrightsman of New York, Queen Sirikit of Thailand, British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, socialite actress Dina Merrill and Mrs. Gilbert Miller of New York and London, wife of the theatrical producer.

Use No Silicone

Satin-gloss finishes require a cleaning polish or a cream wax containing no silicone since that ingredient would increase the gloss. Should the gloss increase from numerous waxings, remove the wax with a cloth dampened in mineral spirits, then apply a thin, fresh coat of polish or cream wax and polish with a soft cloth. Occasionally (between complete waxings) surfaces that get heavy use can be wiped with a soft, wax-moistened cloth and buffed with a dry cloth to give protection to the finish and preserve the satiny sheen.

ANNOUNCEMENT HAS BEEN made of the engagement of Carol Ann Long of San Anselmo and A. Norman Matson Jr. of Great Falls, Mont. (Bennett photo)

Carol Ann Long To Wed A. Norman Matson Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Long of San Anselmo have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to A. Norman Matson Jr. of Great Falls, Mont.

Carol's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Aubuchon of Mill Valley and Mrs. Elsie Long of San Anselmo. She was graduated from Tamalpais High School and College of Marin and is a student nurse at San Francisco State College.

The bride-elect is a past honored queen of Job's Daughters Bethel 119 in Mill Valley.

Norman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Matson of Great Falls, was graduated from Santa Barbara High School. He attended University of Montana where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He is presently a member of the Professional Bowlers' Assn.

There are no immediate wedding plans.

Marin Toasmistress Club Elects Mother Of Seven

A mother of seven youngsters, Mrs. Lloyd Winslow Allen of Corte Madera, is the new president of Marin Toastmistress Club. Marian Allen, and her husband, a consulting electrical engineer, are the parents of Lloyd Jr., 21, David, 18, Barry, 11, Larry, 9, Bob, 8, Eleanor, 7, and George, 3.

During her eight-year membership in the Toastmistress Club, she has held the offices of secretary, treasurer and first and second vice president. She points out that ultimate purpose of the club is to foster poise and self-confidence in individuals.

Marian is also active in the Marin Women's Legislative Council and lists her important concerns as her children, cooking and doing office work for her husband's business.

Marian received a bachelor's degree from San Francisco State College and taught school for two years while her husband worked for his master's degree. The Allens have been Marin residents for eight years.

Her most enjoyable moments are garnered when her family gathers around the table at meal times. However, at present, her husband is in Viet Nam, and their son, Lloyd Jr., is in England.

Other new officers are Mesdames Raymond Robson, first vice president; Paul Satur, second vice president; William Heinemann, recording secretary; Orrin Butler, treasurer; Vera Haven, corresponding secretary; and Miss Marilyn Boehrer, club representative.

MARIN FILM FARE

Tamalpais Playing 'King Rat'; Mastroianni Is At Playhouse

By LES DARD

Here's what's on tap this weekend at Marin area theaters:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

A first-class war drama is now playing: "King Rat."

The story is one of survival—staying alive in a Japanese prison camp during World War II. The hero, if such he can be called, is the man who lives the best while his fellows starve.

George Segal plays King, a completely unscrupulous American. To procure food and other supplies for himself he corrupts everyone around him. Nearly the whole camp, prisoners and guards alike, are on his payroll.

His principal antagonist is Tom Courtenay, playing a British officer who is fighting not so much against King as against the British class system. Then there's James Fox, another Briton, who is enthralled by the individualistic American. Patricia O'Neal, Denholm Eliot, James Donald, Todd Armstrong and John Mills are also featured.

A fine entry.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Moving to this theater is the dashing new sex farce "Casanova '70," with the very talented Marcello Mastroianni taking the title role.

Through a complicated set of circumstances, NATO officer Mastroianni discovers that to make love effectively, imminent annihilation must be present.

So starts his crazy quest—for love spiced with danger. He gets himself into all manner of nutty situations—in a cage with a lady lion tamer, on a museum bed, being chased by the Mafia, undertaking a killing for a beautiful girl . . . and so on.

Virna Lisi co-stars. She is the object of Mastroianni's one chaste love affair—an affair that ends in marriage.

It's all a lark, and will make a great escapist evening for any adult moviegoer.

Co-featured is "Major Barbara."

SEQUOIA THEATER

Now showing in Mill Valley is Doris Day's latest dip into domestic comedy—"Do Not Disturb."

It is lively, professional, and completely enjoyable.

The story is set in London. Rod Taylor, Miss Day's husband, is a newly appointed director of a British woolens firm whose task it is to improve their poor sales.

When Miss Day becomes convinced that Taylor is giving a sales pitch to his beautiful secretary, Maura McGiveney, drastic measures are in order. On the advice of friend Hermione Baddeley, she pretends to be infatuated with handsome antique dealer Sergio Fantoni.

The results spell fun.

LARK THEATER

Michael Caine stars as an unorthodox secret agent in "The Ipcress File," a spy thriller of a new genre.

Sent to locate a kidnapped British scientist, he accidently stumbles onto the secret of the "brain drain," a devious process "They" are using to brainwash Britain's top scientists.

Meanwhile, our hero has managed to get the CIA and a British traitor or two on his trail. Not to mention the enemy. The last few scenes are bloody, but Caine emerges victorious.

Fine portrayals, "arty" photography and an off-beat story make top escapist fare.

NOVATO THEATER

Now showing is "Morituri," which is, to put it bluntly, a very good war picture.

Marlon Brando stars as an anti-Nazi German; a pacifist living in India. He is recruited, with a bit of persuasion by the Allies, for a mission on board a German freighter. The captain, Yul Brynner, has been ordered to scuttle the ship in case of trouble.

The reason is that it is carrying badly needed rubber — as badly needed by the Allies as by the Nazis.

It is Brando's job to de-fuse the scuttling charges so the Allies can salvage the rubber.

A variety of supporting characters include a German-Jewish girl who has been terribly treated by the SS, and a fanatic Nazi first mate.

The film is rife with dramatic import, and at times is food for very genuine thought.

Brando and Brynner perform excellently, as usual.

Co-featured is "The Secret of My Success."

101 DRIVE-IN

The Dave Clark Five is the biggest attraction in "Having a Wild Weekend," a new one aimed at the teen crowd. It is running tonight and tomorrow night only.

Fed up with the hectic pace of an ad campaign, Stuntman Steve (Dave Clark) and teen model Dinah (Barbara Ferris) run out—all the way out, to an island off Devon.

Before reaching their destination, though, they are pursued by agents, sponsors, reporters, police and the four other members of the popular singing group.

Most of the "Five's" singing is done off-stage—as background music for the action.

Exuberant escapism.

RAFAEL THEATER

Piling up grosses as if it's planning to outdo its record-shattering predecessor is "Thunderball," held over.

Sean Connery plays James Bond. The intrepid secret agent is out to stop Emilio Largo, a SPECTRE nasty who steels two atom bombs from a NATO bomber and plans to extort a king's ransom from the free world.

As always, the girls are in abundance. The roster this time includes Claudine Auger as Largo's mistress, Martine Beswick as Molly Peters.

Much of the footage is underwater, affording a spectacular opportunity for the wonderful world of gadgetry.

If you're a James Bond fan, this one's for you. If you're not—get with it!

FAIRFAX THEATER

Held over is last year's big Oscar winner, "My Fair Lady," a delight for all ages.

When irascible British speech expert Prof. Henry Higgins (Rex Harrison) takes it upon himself to transform a Cockney flower girl into an aristocrat, little does he know he will fall in love with his creation.

Audrey Hepburn plays Eliza, the flower girl whose conquest of the English language begins with "the rain in Spain," picks up at Covent Gardens, and culminates at the opulent Embassy Ball.

All the music, all the sparkling, scintillating flavor of the Lerner-Loewe musical is here—as great as ever.

A truly fine motion picture.

Collision Hurts Neck Of San Rafael Man

Dennis M. Keller, 19, of the Bermuda Palms motel, 737 Francisco Boulevord, San Rafael, suffered an acute neck sprain when the car he was driving was struck from the rear and forced into one in front of it on Highway 101 just north of the Greenbrae overpass at 8:19 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Keller was northbound when his car was hit by one driven by Lloyd E. Dahl, 38, of San Francisco. Keller's car in turn struck one driven by Neda Louise Edwards, 32, of Vallejo. Miss Edwards and a passenger in her car, Ernestine McKinley, 50, also of Vallejo, both suffered mild neck sprains and were treated at San Rafael General Hospital. Keller was in good condition at the same hospital today. Dahl was unhurt.

Seminary Touring Company To Present Music Revue

"Acts 2:12," a musical and satirical revue by Project Vanguard, the San Francisco Theological Seminary touring company, will be presented at 8 p.m. next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church, 120 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

The production will feature a dozen numbers which grew out of a "drama and the church" workshop conducted by Festival Theater director Elizabeth Berryhill at the seminary.

Its title is derived from a biblical verse which reads, "And all were amazed and perplexed, saying to one another, 'What does this mean?'"

195 Courses Scheduled For Evening

A total of 195 College of Marin evening courses for the spring 1966 semester have been announced by Dr. Roy G. Mikalson, dean of the evening college.

The spring schedule includes 86 credit and 109 non-credit classes to start Feb. 7, in Kentfield, Novato, San Anselmo, and Hamilton Air Force Base.

New credit classes are anthropology, computer programming, German, philosophy, and retail buying. New non-credit classes are semiconductor circuit analysis; law for the layman (intermediate); the Middle East: "Patterns of Conflict and Compromise;" history and appreciation of the film; great living religions; sight-singing, rhythm, and ear-training (intermediate); special lip reading section for senior citizens; retail sales training; air conditioning and refrigeration (advanced); leadership training; and pre-school volunteer training.

Registration for credit classes will be from 9:30 a.m. until noon and from 7 to 8:30 p.m., Feb. 3, in Room 96 in Olney Hall at the Kentfield campus, or by mail if postmarked no later than Jan. 21. Mail registration kits may be obtained by writing or telephoning the evening college office. Counseling is by appointment with the dean of Students office.

A $5 per course fee is charged all adults except those taking 10 or more hours of credit courses and persons enrolled in English for the foreign born, citizenship training, piloting and small boat handling, workshop for braille transcribers, and performance classes such as community band, orchestra and chorus. Certain classes including ceramics, lapidary art, machine shop have an additional fee to cover cost of materials used.

Complete list of classes is available from the college.

Hall Re-Named As President Of Contractors

Frank H. Hall of Santa Rosa was returned to a second term as president of the Plumbing, Hearting and Cooling Contractors of Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino Counties at a meeting of directors last night.

Kenneth Testa, of Testa Plumbing, San Rafael, who lives at 489 Wilson Avenue, Novato, was given a second term as first vice president, and Russell C. Thompson, of Currie Heating and Plumbing Co., San Rafael, who lives in Palo Alto, was returned as second vice president.

Richard Peterson of Sonoma was named secretary, and Edward H. Dill of Mill Valley, treasurer. New sergeant-at-arms is William Palmer of Healdsburg.

J. S. Stites of Cotati was named a director, replacing Louis Wilson of Santa Rosa, who resigned.

State Art Commission Tours Civic Center

The California State Arts Commission recessed its meeting at the Marin County Civic Center this morning soon after convening.

Members wanted to tour the building.

It was the first time the year-old commission had met in Marin, which is represented on the 10-member commission by Mrs. Roger Kent of Kentfield.

Commissioners were guests of the Marin Museum Assn. for lunch at Peacock Gap.

Meeting Postponed

The Tomales High School District board postponed its regularly scheduled meeting from last night until 8 p.m. next Thursday at the Tomales High School because members wanted to attend last night's meeting of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

BATTLE NOT OVER

Scenic Roads Aide Views Marincello

"Obviously, the Marincello battle is not over; it has simply moved to new ground."

This declaration was voiced by Peter D. Whitney, executive director of the Scenic Roads Assn., in his annual report to memebrs, which was sent out this week.

Terming county supervisors' Nov. 12 approval of the Marincello master plan a "disgraceful. . .capitulation to hungry money and political shenanigans," Whitney predicted its opponents could still do a great deal to block its completion, particularly under the density proposed in the plan.

"The grant of density . . . is no more binding than that of any other master plan," said Whitney. "The board of supervisors . . . may still decide that each individual development plan is excessive in these and other respects.

"The high-rise apartments and the industrial zone could still be eliminated or curbed.

"It is important, therefore, that all of us be prepared to make the necessary appearance at the Civic Center in the next, precedent-setting year."

Meanwhile, added Whitney, association members "should let our supervisors know by letters, phone calls and—most important of all—by our votes, how we feel" about approval of the Marincello plan.

"Marin was betrayed that day, in a big way," wrote Whitney. "We suffered not the usual small nibbles that are taken by puny developers but a great, raw, bleeding shark-bite."

In another section of the report, Whitney told members they should be prepared to support a legitimate proposal for a true "new town," with a self-sustaining economy, few commuters and which "perhaps will even make a real contribution to the tax base—that issue which seems to blind everybody's vision."

"Such a new town," he said, "should have two absolutely essential characteristics:

"A. It should be remote from San Francisco.

"B. It should be surrounded by an inviolable greenbelt."

Whitney's report wound up by discussing the proposed West Marin Plan and the newly adopted county parks and recreation plan, and how each affects the Shoreline Highway.

He lamented that the West Marin Plan, after review by the county planning commission, had "a much heightened emphasis on four-laning of the road," but noted that "some very badly written language" dealing with the highway had been deleted from the parks plan, leaving it "in a form that protects Route One."

"Both these plans," Whitney concluded, "underline the obvious fact that the county's next big highway fracas is going to be precipitated by the freewayizing of Route 17—Sir Francis Drake, plus Miracle Mile—from San Rafael to Point Reyes Station."

"San Anselmo and Fairfax are up in arms—rightly, we believe.

"Some day we are going to have to make up our minds to say 'no' to the automobile, particularly the use of the automobile for commuting."

Skunk Shot By Rancher Was Rabid

Marin County has encountered its first rabid animal of the year.

Tests by the Marin County Health Department yesterday proved that a skunk shot last week by a Chileno Valley rancher in his dog pen was rabid.

Dan R. Pelz, health education director for the health department, said two of three dogs in the pen have been destroyed because they were not vaccinated. A third dog will be placed under quarantine.

County firemen picked up the dead skunk Jan. 6 from the home of George Eggers, 5772 Chileno Valley Road.

Pelz also released the final statistics on last year's rabid animals in Marin: seven rabid skunks, a rabid bat and a rabid cow.

Man To Be Arraigned In Lewd Film Charge

Dr. Charles Frederick Tobin, 41, arrested yesterday for alleged distribution of lewd movie film, was scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

He is free on $1,100 bail.

Dr. Tobin, a dentist practicing in San Francisco and residing at 101 San Gabriel Drive, Fairfax, is also charged with dispensing dangerous drugs without a proper label. Both counts are misdemeanors.

He was arrested by a district attorney's investigator and San Anselmo and Fairfax police after allegedly attempting to sell a can of 16-millimeter film to a 22-year-old woman in a San Anselmo bar.

Officers said he first approached her about posing in the nude for photographs, then suggested she buy the movie film for $32. Officers said the woman, a Corte Madera divorcee, took the film without paying, saying she would check with her "brother-in-law," then notified police.

They said Dr. Tobin also gave her 38 pills, including pep pills and barbituates and in an unlabeled container.

When arrested, officers said, Tobin had 18 more cans of movie film in his car trunk, along with 15 still photographs of females in suggestive poses.

Source of the film was reportedly from an unidentified East Bay dentist, the woman told officers. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Dr. Tobin, married and the father of five children, has no known police record.

He also said there is no indication of other films having been sold by the suspect, or any organized ring dealing in their distribution.

Narcotics Case Girl Released

Count of possession of marijuana and narcotics were dismissed against Karen Lee Ames, 19, in Marin Municipal Court yesterday following a preliminary hearing.

Her companion, Marc Torvend Ford, 18, of Sausalito, was bound over to Marin Superior Court on both counts, however, and also for concealing stolen property.

Both were accused of having marijuana and traces of methadone hydrochloride, morphine and atrophine in a saddle bag of Ford's at Miss Ames's apartment in Hilarita Housing in Tiburon on Dec. 29. Officers making the search said Ford also had stolen credit cards among his belongings. He is held in lieu of $5,500 bail.

4-H Youngsters In Guide Dog Show

Marin 4-H Club members raising puppies for Guide Dogs for the Blind will present a show at the annual meeting of the Guide Dogs organization Monday at the national headquarters, 350 Los Ranchitos Road, near San Rafael.

The meeting will start at 11 a.m. and more than 150 advisory board members and blind graduates of the school, with their guide dogs, are expected. Reports will be given on research, breeding, testing, training and student applications.

The 4-H Club group, known as the Marin Vips (for Very Important Puppies) will show the puppies they are raising as an accredited 4-H project.

Chamber Sets Date For Dinner

The annual Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce dinner and installation of officers will be held at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 9, at Sabella's Restaurant, directors agreed Wednesday.

Guido Todaro, Jerry D. Carver and chamber president Charles F. Francis were named to the committee on arrangements and program.

Francis appointed Samuel Schneider, chairman, Lawrence A. Mayer and Jayne Camp, to the new merchants advisory committee.

Viet War Debate Set In Sausalito

"Is the Viet Nam War Justified?" will be the topic of a debate at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito, sponsored by the Sausalito Democratic Club.

Richard K. Lynn, San Francisco businessman billed as an expert on southeast Asia, will speak in favor of the U.S. administration's policy toward Viet Nam. Asst. Professor Mark Mancall of tSanford University, will speak in opposition.

Tiburon Planners Agreed On Layout

After a two-hour study session on the proposed Tiburon downtown plan Wednesday, planning commissioners seemed to be in general agreement that they like it, Chairman Stephen H. Nash reported.

Nash said there will probably be two more study sessions on the plan being prepared by the planning consultant firm of Callister and Payne, the first on Jan. 31, before the next public presentation of the plan. Warren Callister, president of the firm, said he would provide a text of the plan at the next study session, Nash reported. When the plan was first presented to the planners on Dec. 20 only maps were shown.

Mosher Elected Memorial Aide

Francis W. Mosher Jr. of Mill Valley, past commander of Mill Valley Post 284, American Legion, has been elected chairman of the Marin County Memorial Day Observance Committee. He succeeds Roy Partridge of Larkspur.

Aubrey Mahaney of San Rafael was named co-chairman; Irving Blabon, Santa Venetia, re-elected secretary; and James V. Burdick, Novato, reelected finance officer.

Program plans to observe memorial day May 30 on the courthouse steps in San Rafael will be made by the committee at a meeting Feb. 8 in room 306 in the courthouse, Mosher reported.

Novato Bartender Awarded Damages

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday awarded a Novato bartender, George Johnsen, $8,500 for injuries suffered in a traffic accident in Mill Valley on Oct. 30, 1962.

Defendant was Sullivan's Pet Supply Co., San Francisco. Johnsen, of Kaehler Street, charged negligence in driving the supply company's vehicle caused the wreck on East Blithedale Avenue near Sycamore Avenue and resulting in his suffering a ruptured disk of the lower vertebra.

He asked $100,000 damages. The suit, filed June 14, 1963, was heard before Judge Thomas F. Keating.

THEY GIVE THEIR ALL FOR DEAR OLD TROY

This is "Basketball Spirit Week" at Terra Linda High School, and a highlight yesterday was the pie-eating contest—a hallowed ritual which is supposed to somehow inspire the students to greater spirit on behalf of the Trojan waxed court artists. Waiting to pitch into the pies (above) are contestants (seated, from left) Al Lundmark, Brian Perron, Jim Phillips, Bill Cuneo, and John Dohn, backed by their fair sponsors, Diane Herrera, Kathy Epidendio, Paula Brink, Kathy McKee, and Shirley McClain. In second picture, Cuneo is really down to business, eating the pie the only way possible since contestants had to keep their hands behind them. In bottom photo, winner Phillips, his pie all eaten except what remains on his face, smiles in triumph. On to glory, Troy! (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

$246,000 School Bonds Due Vote

The West Marin School District board last night called for an April 19 election in which voters will be asked to approve a $246,000 bond issue for an addition to West Marin School.

Four board members agreed on this during a special meeting with representatives of Haines, Tatarian and Associates of San Francisco, chosen as architects for the work. Board member Donald J. Melsaac was absent due to illness.

The board also authorized the architects to begin preliminary drawings on the addition, which Supt. Howard F. Brose said probably will house a library and three classrooms.

Brose predicted construction could begin by June, if plans are approved by the state without delay — and if the voters approve the bond issue.

Sons Of Norway

Marinites of Norwegian descent who wish to become charter members of a new chapter of the Sons of Norway may attend an organizational meeting to be held Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. at Odd Fellows Hall, 1522 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Attorney Makes Citizen's Arrest Of Marin Dentist

A Sausalito attorney yesterday made a citizen's arrest of his former landlord, a San Rafael dentist, on a charge the dentist broke into his apartment and stole his belongings.

San Rafael police said they accompanied John William Kaup III of 12 Platte Avenue, Sausalito, to the office of Dr. Robert Earl Smith at 908 E Street, San Rafael, so Kaup could make the arrest.

Smith insisted he had moved Kaup's clothes and other belongings because Kaup failed to pay his rent for a month. He said they were in storage and available to Kaup.

Smith was released on his own recognizance.

Tiburon Approves Duplex Proposal

The Tiburon City Council last night unanimously granted Harold Youngman permission to build a duplex on a 7,500-square foot lot at 1851 Mar West Street, although an ordinance is before the planning commission to raise the minimum duplex lot to 10,000 square feet.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs questioned the action but decided to "go along with it."

The ordinance to raise the minimum lot size was protested by about 50 citizens at a planning commission meeting on Nov. 16. It is on the planning agenda again Monday night.

In a meeting dealing mostly with planning matters, the council also granted permission to the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church for a nursery school for 3 and 4-year-olds at the church at 9 Shepherd Way.

A letters from Beverly-Bastian, director of the Belvedere Nursery School, objected to the permit. There are enough such schools in the Tiburon-Belvedere area, she contended.

"We have no right to tell people what kinds of businesses they can go into," said Councilman Jacqueline A. Parnell. "We're only concerned with zoning."

The Tiburon City Council Also:

1. Referred to City Atty. Robert I. Conn a proposed ordinance to prohibit firearms in the city.
2. Approved annexing Mercury Road in Belveron Gardens to the Tiburon Fire Protection District.
3. Approved a three-lot subdivision on 1.7 acres at the end of Round Hill Road above Reed School, requested by Barbara Norwitt.
4. Granted Alan Regan permission to build a single-family dwelling in a duplex zone at 2343 Mar East Street.
5. Referred to a committee of Councilmen John S. Hoffmire Jr. and Parnell a proposed community antenna systems ordinance prepared by the League of California Cities.
6. Gave first reading to an ordinance to prohibit real estate advertisement signs on public thoroughfares.
7. Approved a 118-square foot parallel parking lot for Fred Zelinsky on Tiburon Boulevard between Beach Road and the Tiburon Lodge Motel.
8. Approved a stop sign on the northeast corner of Gelbert Drive and Rowley Circle in the Del Mar Estates area.
9. Authorized City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose to enter an agreement with De Long Chevrolet Co. to lease a pick-up truck with option to purchase at $79 per month. The truck will be used by the maintenance department. There were three other bidders.
10. Considered a request from the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce for Christmas decoration funds and instructed Rose to meet with chamber representatives to discuss the matter further.
11. Appointed Rose as representative to the county urban thoroughfare committee.
12. Authorized Rose to seek bids for public liability insurance for the city.
13. Approved a 38-foot pier for a duplex Fred Jukich is building in Lyford Cove on Paradise Drive, next to the stone Tower Apartments.
14. Granted permit for the new post office building to be built on Beach Road between Juanita Lane and Main Street by Belvedere Land Co.
15. Changed the name of Vistazo West Street to Matschek Drive.

Installation Date

Installation of officers of Mount Tamalpais Parlor 64, Native Sons of the Golden West, will be at 8 p.m. Monday at the Portuguese-American Hall, San Rafael, not Sunday as erroneously reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Moyers Likes Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers says he likes his job and expects to keep it for the foreseeable future. The Washington Post reported yesterday Moyers is seeking a successor but he said he isn't seeking a successor, expects to keep the job.

Cohen Sets Study Of U.S. Funds

Larkspur School District Supt. Milton S. Cohen told district trustees last night that he will try to set up a research project with nearby school districts to use funds available under Title Three of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Funds are available for research to help teachers do a better job, Cohen said. But allocations to a single district are too small—Larkspur is allocated only $1,400—for that district to make a comprehensive study on its own, Cohen said.

Cohen said he will attempt to set up a research center in one school where library materials for both teachers and students may be studied. He said he has not yet consulted with other districts.

Larkspur school district board also:

1. Approved the calendar for 1966-67 school year, with classes beginning Sept. 12 and ending June 16.
2. Heard a report on the role of the teaching vice principal in district schools. His job is that of master teacher, Cohen said.
3. Hired Thomas Ellerbee to replace J. H. Thrailkill as district custodian. Thrailkill resigned.

Another Gallinas Services District Director Resigns

Another director of the Gallinas Villiage Communiity Services District resigned last night.

Mrs. Alys Durenberger, whose term runs until April of 1968, quit the board. At last month's meeting, Harry Thomas resigned.

"I'm a little sick of it," Mrs. Durenberger said today.

The directors have been under fire over park plans and continuing sewer problems.

Directors last night named David Banfield of 308 Vendola Drive to fill Thomas's seat. That position and those of Eugene Campbell and John Miller will be up for election in June.

The board last night settled this by consolidating the district election, which would otherwise be in April, with the June 7 primary, with the hope of getting more interest then, Mrs. Durenberger said.

Miller was named chairman of the board, replacing Herbert C. Belben Jr.

Novatan Faces Old Complaint

San Rafael police yesterday arrested a Novato man on a burglary charge dating back to 1963 in Santa Clara County.

Michael William Rice, 22, of 95 Mistletoe Lane, Novato, was to be arraigned today in Palo Alto Municipal Court on the charge of stealing a hand power saw while he was a student of Foothill Junior College, Los Altos.

The theft came to San Rafael police attention when Rice pawned the saw in San Rafael. It was traced through the serial number.

Today is Friday, Jan. 14, the 14th day of 1966 with 351 to follow.

The moon is approaching the new stage. No morning stars. The evening stars are Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Philippine statesman Carlos Romulo was born on this day in 1899.

In 1914, Henry Ford began making automobiles by the assembly line method.

In 1943, President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill began a 10-day meeting in Morocco to plan allied offensives aimed as the "unconditional surrender" of the Axis powers.

In 1959, the firing squads of Cuban Premier Castro executed 220 persons in two weeks.

In 1964, more than 140 persons died before a driving snowstorm finally ended in the East.

A thought for the day—Winston Churchill: "The only guide to a man is his conscience . . . the only shield to his memory is the rectitude and sincerity of his actions."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Most Hands Begin With Little Indication How Suits To Break

You must begin most hands with only a rough idea of how the key suits are going to break.

For example, you may not know how the trumps are going to break, but you should know which opponent will be short if the suit does break badly.

Opening lead — ♣ K

Three experts played today's hand at four spades during the team trials in San Francisco last November. In each case dummy's ace of clubs won the first trick.

SINGLETON

It should have been clear that if the trumps broke 4-1, West would have the singleton.

West probably had eight cards in clubs and hearts combined, and East only five cards in those two suits.

There was more room for spades in the East than in the West hand.

One declarer failed by leading dummy's low trump to the king. He continued with the ace and ten of trumps, driving out East's queen.

RETURNS DIAMOND

East returned a diamond to dummy's ace, and West led another diamond when he got in with the queen of clubs.

This forced South to ruff, and he had to use up his last trump to draw East's eight.

South ran the clubs, but West took the last two tricks with the ace of hearts and a diamond.

Down one.

TWO EXPERTS

The other two experts, Ivan Erdos and Edgar Kaplan, guarded against the bad trump break by leading dummy's ace of trumps first.

Dummy's ten came next, covered by the queen and king.

South drew one more trump with the nine and then knocked out the queen of clubs.

West could not make declarer ruff because the ace of diamonds was still in the dummy.

South could run the clubs and lead a heart to make sure of a trick with dummy's king, thus fulfilling the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner doubles, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K 9 5 3 2
♥ 10 4
♦ J
♣ J 9 6 4 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs.

Do not pass the double for penalties merely because you have length in spades.

You can afford to pass only when your trumps are solid enough to draw trumps as though you were declarer.

'65 BUICKS Discount Sale
4 PERSONAL COMPANY CARS

We are now offering four of our company owned, almost-new 1965 Buicks that have been used during part of 1965 as personal family cars by our department heads.

They have never been licensed thus carry the full 2-year new car General Motors guarantee. All have low mileage and you can't tell they have ever been on the road. The prices below are Kelly Blue Book average prices for used models without any guarantee. But we offer the full 2-year or 24,000 mile new car guarantee.

RIVIERA $4095
Here's the most luxurious car on the American road today. Driven by our company president for approximately 7,000 miles. Fully equipped including factory air conditioning, power steering, brakes, seat and windows. New car window price was $5851.

WILDCAT 4-DR. HDTP. $3295
Our sales manager drove this car 6,500 miles. Can't tell from brand new. All white with black leather seats. Full power including steering, brakes, seat and windows. New car window price was $4800.

SPECIAL 4-DR. SEDAN $2395
Forest Green with matching upholstery, 6,000 miles. Our used car manager's personal car. Power steering, automatic trans., radio, heater, W W tires, V-8 and lots of other factory extras. New car window price was $3272.

SPECIAL 4-DR. SEDAN $2195
A real economy buy here in this little V-6 Special 4-dr. Automatic trans., radio, heater and lots of Buick luxury items. You should get over 20 miles to the gallon on this little car. New car window price was $2945.

CITY OF SAN ANSELMO
RESOLUTION NO. 1083
RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO CITY OF SAN ANSELMO OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED "SUNNY HILLS LANDS" AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN ANSELMO:

1. That pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, a petition signed by owners of not less than one-fourth of the land in the hereinafter described territory, by area and by assessed value as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Marin, was filed with the Council of the City of San Anselmo on October 27, 1965, requesting annexation of the hereinafter described territory to said City.

2. That the territory which the petitioners request be annexed to the City of San Anselmo and which said City and its Council propose to annex, is situate in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated "Sunny Hills Lands", and described as follows:

EXHIBIT "A"
10 20 65

Description of proposed annexation area, prepared from Record data, of Northerly portion of Sunny Hills Lands to be annexed.

Lying within the County of Marin and being the Northerly portion of the Lands of the San Francisco Presbyterian Orphanage, as was conveyed by deed recorded in Liber 211, Book of Deeds, Page 177, Marin County Records, said lands more particularly delineated on that certain map entitled "Amended Record of Survey Map of the Sunny Hills Orphanage School", recorded in Book 3 of Maps, Page 132, Marin County Records; said Northerly portion more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at the intersection of the present Northerly City Limit Line of the City of San Anselmo, with the Easterly boundary of said Sunny Hills Lands, said line being the Easterly line of Rancho Canada De Herrera, at a point lying S11° 35' 26"W, 824.08 feet more or less from the 1½" iron pipe and tag marking the most Northerly corner of said Sunny Hills Lands; thence along said City Limit Line, Northwesterly 633.75 feet more or less, to its intersection of a portion of the Northwesterly boundary of said Sunny Hills lands, on a course delineated as N27° 44'E, 421.10 feet, on said Record Map, said intersection lies N27° 44'E, 321.1 feet more or less from a 1½" iron pipe and tag, marking the Southerly terminus of said course; thence along said Sunny Hills line, N27° 44'E, 100.0 feet to a 1½" iron pipe and tag; thence N80° 59'E, 250.80 feet to a 1½" iron pipe and tag; thence N58° 12'E, 304.0 feet to a 1½" iron pipe and tag; thence, N52° 12'E, 168.00 feet to a 1½" iron pipe and tag, at the most Northerly corner of said Sunny Hills lands; thence S11° 35' 26"W, 824.08 feet more or less to the Point of beginning; Bearings TRUE, based on said Record of Survey, all tags referred to bear the inscription, "R. S. HOGAN, L.S. 2798".

3. That the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, did in session duly assembled on January 8, 1966, consider the proposed annexation boundaries of said "Sunny Hills Lands", as above described, and as submitted to said Commission by the proponents of said annexation.

4. That Tuesday, February 8, 1966, at the hour of 8:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in the City of San Anselmo, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of San Anselmo, having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the City of San Anselmo and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to the City of San Anselmo. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the description and area of such property, in general terms.

5. The City Clerk of the City of San Anselmo is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published outside the City of San Anselmo, but in the County of Marin, California, the county in which is located the territory proposed to be annexed to the City of San Anselmo, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.

6. The said City Clerk is further authorized and directed to cause written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to each person to whom land within the territory proposed to be annexed was assessed in the last equalized county assessment roll available on the date the above said proceedings were initiated, at the addresses shown on said assessment roll or known to said Clerk, and to any person who has filed his name and address and the designation of the lands in which he has an interest, either legal or equitable, with said Clerk, such notice to be given not less than twenty (20) days before the first public hearing on the proposed annexation.

7. In the event any land within the territory proposed to be annexed is owned by a county, the City Clerk is directed to cause written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to the Board of Supervisors of such county, such notice to be given not less than twenty (20) days before the first public hearing on the proposed annexation.

8. In the event there is, upon the land proposed to be annexed to said City, a structural improvement owned, being acquired or leased by a county fire protection district, the City is directed to cause written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to the governing body of such district, such notice to be sent not less than ten (10) days before the first public hearing upon such proposed annexation.

9. The City Clerk is directed to cause written notice to be given to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

ADOPTED THIS 11TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1966, by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen Clute, Reichmuth, Franchini, Smith, Capurro
NOES: Councilmen—None
ABSENT: Councilmen—None

Physical Fitness Session To Open

Signups for the youth physical fitness program of the San Rafael Recreation Department will be taken from 9 a.m. to noon tomorrow at San Rafael High School.

The spring session will continue previous circuit training programs but will add new classes in self-defense and combatives. The first four Saturdays will have sessions on judo, followed by four classes on wrestling and two weeks on other forms of self-defense.

The program is open to boys and girls, 7 to 12 years old. A demonstration of judo and wrestling will be given at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Coin-Toss Election Results Corrected

It was Henry J. Alvernaz of 1048 Eighth Street, Novato, who tied with Joseph Silveira for the Novato Fire District board last April, and not Robert Busher as incorrectly stated in last night's Independent - Journal. Silveira won the election by a toss of a coin over Alvernaz. Busher was recommended by commissioners Wednesday night for appointment to fill a vacancy on the board.

Reports from 223 religious bodies in the United States show an enrollment of 45,805,074 in 281,593 Sunday or Sabbath schools, according to the Yearbook of American Churches.

TELEVISION REVIEW

New Red Buttons Show Needs Work

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) J Secret agents are generally a miserable bunch of creeps, and in all my years of spying I never met one that I could have felt comfortable with in the billard rooms of my baronial estate hidden away in Perth Amboy, N.J.

Time and again my services were sought, and money and women and Rolls-Royces were thrown at me, but I wanted to get out of the secret agent business because, in addition to the bad company, the future had limited possibilities.

I tell you this highly personal and heretofore unrevealed information so that you will understand my sympathy for the basic notion of the premiere of last night's new ABC-TV series, "The Double Life of Henry Phyfe," which is a half-hour comedy about a man who doesn't want to be a secret agent.

The man in question is portrayed by Red Buttons, and the reason that he doesn't want to be a secret agent is that he is happy with his present job, which is that of an accountant. Unfortunately, this mild-mannered fellow, who is also a big bit of a schnook—no, make that a whole lot of a schnook—has the ill luck to look almost exactly like a famous foreign agent who has been killed in a traffic accident, unknown to the government that employs him.

A Mr. Hannahan, regional director of a counterintelligence agency —portrayed by the slow-burn artist Fred Clark—pursues and finally recruits Buttons to impersonate the dead agent for the good of 194 million Americans. And therein lies the series.

Now I told you that my sympathy is with the notion of the show. For here is this meek little nothing, wearing an everyman hat and puffing a cigar right in the middle of his mouth—and suddenly people want him to start risking his life. He sympathizes with the 194 million Americans, but in truth, he wants no part of heroism or the secret agent nonsense.

I spend all this time telling you the set up because I hope you can visualize all the possibilities that last night's premiere generally failed to pull off. That doesn't mean we should give up too quickly on 'The Double Life of Henry Phyfe" because it has good people and a good basic idea and the absurd situations could well serve as an antidote to the secret agent craze now pummeling us.

Last night's debut was struggling and too weak in its rather inane section that found Clark pursuing Buttons. Once he was hooked, though, there were moments that smacked of promise. To see Buttons go continuously into a burlesque, sag under the weight of a 15-pound bullet-proof vest was funny, if not very new. And he even got some laughs out of the ancient ploy of having trouble mounting a horse (en route to meeting another agent on a bridle path).

This genuine sense of absurdity, of an average man—or schnook, if you please—reacting to the unreality of Secret Agentsville, could even allow for legitimate social comment in coming weeks (but don't hold your breath). In any case, as we used to teach in Perth Amboy, secret agents never fade away, they just die—and ABC-TV will have to work very hard to prevent the same from happening to Henry Phyfe.

GOP Given TV Time To Discuss LBJ Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—All three television networks will give Republicans a half-hour next Monday night to discuss President Johnson's State of the Union message.

The President's address to Congress will be assessed by Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., and Rep. Gerald B. Ford, R-Mich., in a program taped for telecast by the Columbia Broadcasting System at 10:30 p.m. and by the National and American Broadcasting companies at 11:30 p.m.

Novato, Lagunitas Get Federal Cash

The state Board of Education has approved more than $81,000 in federally financed projects for disadvantaged children in two Marin County school districts.

Bulk of the money will go to the Novato Unified School District, which will use its $75,549 grant to set up a language program, hire two teachers and buy a 79-passenger bus.

The rest, $5,600, will go to the Lagunitas School District to hire a teacher for remedial reading and mathematics.

State board members approved the Marin projects as part of 95 from district throughout the state. More than $6 million was involved.

177,000 Visit National Seashore

Point Reyes National Seashore attracted 177,000 visitors during 1965, Park Supt. Leslie P. Arnberger reported today.

The first access road to Point Reyes Beach opened last February, and more than 93,000 people visited that area, he said. Bear Valley back country opened in April and more than 26,000 visitors walked the upland trails that lead to the sea.

Arnberger predicted a new access road to Point Reyes Beach will be completed this year. Drake's Beach will be the focal point of new development with the building of a new access road from Sir Francis Drake Highway, visitor use buildings, picnic facilities, and life guard towers, all scheduled to be completed during the year. These areas are presently closed while construction is in progress.

Expansion of the trail system at Bear Valley will include an additional 25 miles of trail for hikers and horseback riders. This will bring the system to a total of some 40 miles of trails.

Visits to Point Reyes in 1965 greatly exceeded the year before and 1966 is expected to show a corresponding increase, Arnberger completed.

West Marin Master Plan On Commissioners' Agenda

Once again the Marin County Planning Commission will discuss Monday the West Marin Master Plan, probably centering talk on the housing density issue.

The commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The hearing on the master plan will be soon after 2 p.m.

Scheduled at 2 p.m. is the master plan for the 170-acre Dias Ranch west of Mill Valley, where developer Alfred J. Stern has proposed 3.5 dwelling units per acre.

Early in the morning session the commission is to consider again light industrial zoning around the county airport at Novato. Two weeks ago, the commission was concerned about putting tideland along the Petaluma River in industrial zone. It is now zoned for agriculture.

Item eight on the agenda is the request of Charles Tijerina for medical and dental offices on the second floor of the Alto branch of the Tiburon National Bank.

Item 10 is the application of Loyal Davis for approval of an eight-unit apartment development at 548 Miller Avenue, outside Mill Valley.

Item 16 is the request of Hidden Harbor Corp. for an exception to the underground utility requirement in a proposed Black Point subdivision.

Computer Flunks At Grading Tests

AUBURN (AP) — G. A. LaPlante, schools superintendent, told district trustees yesterday he was doing away with computer-grading of pupils' tests.

In the future, teachers will do the grading, he said.

The machine, he explained, made too many mistakes.

Durocher Exudes Boyish Enthusiasm

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Leo Durocher, as enthusiastic as a school boy with a hot rod, has left little doubt that he will be the rudder that guides the Chicago Cubs out of the depths of the National League.

The new Cub skipper was starred yesterday in a big press-radio-television gathering and pumped out these ideas:

"The Cubs don't belong in eighth place and my job is to get them out. I am as enthusiastic as if I were in my first year as a player or a manager. I'll press the buttons, but the players really make the manager.

"Give me players making $8,000 $10,000 or $15,000 — players who are hungry and want to make more — then you'll have hustle. I don't want a bunch of $40,000-$50,000 players.

"I've heard the Cubs have been complacent or self satisfied. I don't know if that's true, but if it is, I'll change it. They are going to hustle. If they don't, we'll just back up the truck.

"I know we won't finish eighth or worse. If we do, you can come get me with a net, but Mr. Wrigley probably will be ahead of you.

Independent-Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Friday, Jan. 14, 1966 37

"I'll be in charge. When I give a bunt sign, my player won't step out of the box as if to challenge it. When I give the hit and run, it will go unchallenged.

"My job is to get the 25 players thinking as one — that we can win. We are going to do something — bunt, drag, run. I want daring players — we aren't going to play scared.

"We'll have four leg men in the line-up — Ty Cline, Billy Williams, Don Kessinger and Glenn Beckert. No team in the league has more than four real speed boys. Who do the Dodgers have back of Maury Wills, Willie Davis and Wes Parker? Well, maybe you could include Lou Johnson."

Owner P.K. Wrigley remained in his country place at Lake Geneva, Wis., but his son Bill, was on hand for the Durocher doings.

Bill said:

"I talked to dad and he said that it would just be a waste of time for him to come in for the press luncheon because in Leo Durocher we have the greatest news source now on the sports scene. Dad's been delighted with the way Leo has taken over, and so am I. I don't believe there's any doubt that he's going to lead us upward in the standings.

"Leo has confidence, and that's about the greatest thing you can have going for you. And it's already beginning to reflect in the players. He's going to make the players believe in themselves, and that's one thing that has been lacking."

JOIN GUESSING GAME: HOW MUCH FOR MAYS?

The annual guessing game has started: How much will Willie Mays earn this season?

The San Francisco Giants center fielder already tops all active baseball players at $105,000 and after his Most Valuable Player heroics last season when he hit 52 home runs it's a cinch he'll get a raise. But how much?

Some experts guess anywhere between $115,000 and $150,000. Club vice president Chub Feeney admits, "Willie will probably top all past figures," referring to the $125,000 reportedly earned by Ted Williams in his hey-day.

Giant president Horace Stoneham isn't revealing any figures, so guess again.

Pros Rip Par At San Diego

By BOB MYERS

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tommy Aaron, who led in the first round in 11 PGA golf tournaments last year, but never won one, and husky Chris Blocker, whose name may ring a bell with television fans, led the way into the second round today of the $40,000 San Diego Open.

The pair shot 6-under-par 65s in the first round, but a small army of rival professionals was too close for comfort as play resumed today over the par 35-36—71 Stardust Country Club course.

Blocker, a 195-pounder from Jal, N.M., is the cousin of Dan Blocker, "Hoss" of the Bonanza TV series.

Chris is starting his second year on the circuit. He won $1,400 in the Los Angeles Open last year.

Aaron, 28, is rated one of the most consistent pros in the business, although he has never won a national title.

Thirty-nine players bettered par in yesterday's first round. But the carnage wasn't as bad as a year ago when 51 shattered regulation figures in the initial round.

Unheralded Lou Graham from Nashville, Tenn., started today's round one shot back of the co-leaders and tied at 67 were Mason Rudolph, Paul Bondeson, Harold Kneece and Bob Zimmerman.

Better known name players trailed.

Wes Ellis Jr., the 1965 San Diego winner, rested in the 68 bracket in company with six fellow pros, including Mike Souchak and Don January.

Battling to snap out of the doldrums, Souchak shot a 32-36—68 and January a 34-34—68.

Bill Casper Jr., the local favorite, had a 70 and Doug Sanders a 72. Another San Diegan, Gene Littler, also had a 72.

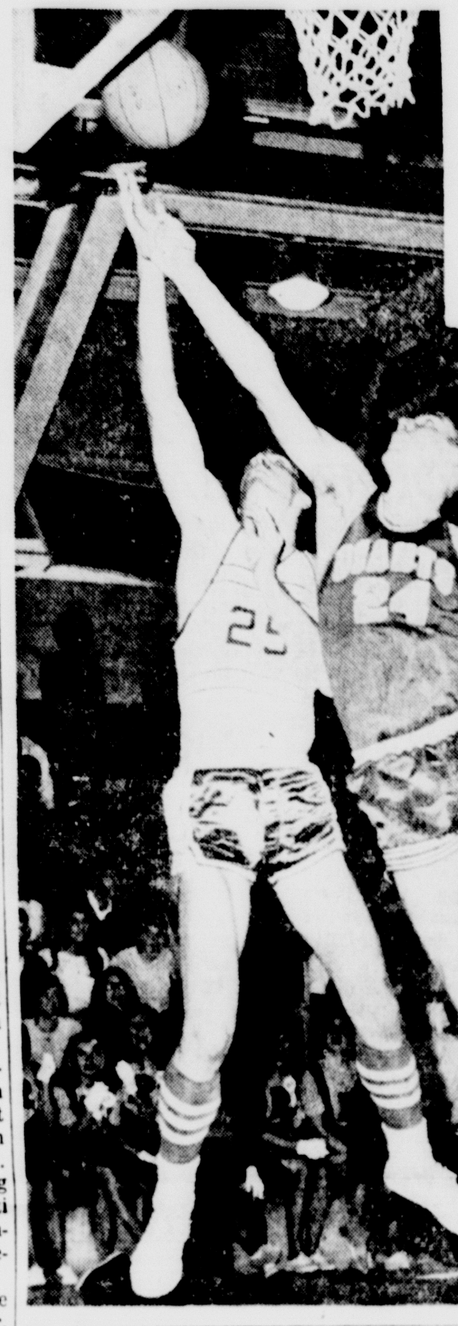
Further back — far back, in fact — was Champagne Tony Lema. It wasn't easy, but he managed to shoot 37-39—76.

Al Geiberger continued to play with a charm token pinned to his cap. It was a plastic blue-and-white bird, a gift from his 2-year-old daughter, Lee Ann.

The bird, according to Geiberger, was responsible for his $500-winning score of 65 in the pro-am Wednesday. And, it may be conjectured, it was responsible for Al keeping in contention in the first round with a 35-35—70.

Probalby the unhappiest golfer around was John Josephson of Westfield, N.J. He had two eagles on the back nine but came up with a 36—and a final score of 72.

Blocker, whose father, George Blocker, is a state representative in New Mexico, had the most spectacular round yesterday. He knocked in birdie putts of 40 and 25 feet and capped the round with a chip shot from 50 feet out on the 18th hole.



PREPS IN ACTION

Chet Carlisle (left) of Drake and Jack Fitzhenry (24) of Redwood, shown scrambling for rebound in their game last week, will be back on the firing line tonight, but against different opposition . . . Drake against Terra Linda and Redwood against Novato.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

N.L. Schedule Maker Goofed: Opener Is Three Months Late

The National League schedule maker goofed by 90 days. He should have scheduled the Giants-Chicago Cubs season opener for Jan. 12 instead of April 12.

En route to Candlestick Wednesday for Manager Herman Franks' press conference I couldn't help but admire the perfect conditions for baseball: Hardly a cloud in the sky; barely a whisper of wind; and a good nip in the air—just like Candlestick in August.

NO TRAFFIC problems, either. Why, I drove right up to Horace Stoneham's front door and had my choice of 42,000 seats.

The only things missing were peanuts, soda pop, four umps, 18 players and a game, but what the heck, you can't have everything. So I settled for the next best thing—Franks and stew in the press room. Franks greeted the free-loaders warmly and with relish, but the stew was pretty cold and flat. (Listen to the typical freeloader, will you!)

JUST ABOUT everything Herman said Wednesday appeared in yesterday's garbage can liners (plus the I-J), so I haven't much to add except one story he told about his meeting in Las Vegas the other day with Leo Durocher, baseball's answer to Cassius Clay.

Herman zippered the new Chicago manager's lip with: "Listen, Leo: I played ball for you and I coached for you, so I know everything you know, plus what I know myself. That means I know more than you, right?"

The Lip flipped, chuckled Herman.

AT THE Wednesday press conference I also noticed author Charles Einstein of Mill Valley, who is Willie May's ghost writer, huddled in conversation with Franks and I wondered if they were collaborating on a new book, "The Ghost of Frankenstein." (Sorry about that.)

MUCH OF the Marin Country Club's golf business meetings may be conducted over the back fence: New club prexy Doug Henderson resides at 20 Fairway Drive, which borders the course, and vice-president Sil DeMaestri lives at 50 Fairway.

LOCAL ANGLE, con't.: UCLA's Tommy Prothro and U.C. Santa Barbara's Jack Curtice, named yesterday as the large and small college coaches of the year, will attend the Coach of the Year grid clinic at San Francisco's Hilton Hotel Feb. 12-13, along with such other big names as Duffy Daugherty, Bud Wilkinson, Jack Christiansen, Pappy Waldorf, John Ralston and Ray Willsey.

I'll bet you're asking how in the world I can dig a local angle out of such a hatful of big names. Easy: Corte Madera's Bob Troppmann is clinic manager.

J.C. Crucial At Kentfield: Tars Vs. Tough Santa Rosa

College of Marin's basketball team opens a key weekend tonight in its quest for a Golden Valley Conference championship.

The Mariners host conference favorite Santa Rosa Bear Cubs tonight in Kentfield at 8 o'clock, and then move to Rocklin tomorrow night for a game against Sierra College.

Tonight's game will be aired on Radio Station KTIM, as will all the remaining home games, with Verle Sorgen handling the play-by-play.

Between them, Marin and Santa Rosa have won three games without a defeat in GVC action. Marin whipped Yuba 85-61 last Saturday in its Conference opener and Santa Rosa won a pair on the weekend, 88-62 over the Shasta Knights and 60-54 over Siskiyous College.

Marin coach Cal Riemcke, because of Santa Rosa's hot scoring attack, made a change in his starting lineup for tonight's game, bolstering the team's defense. Larry Wolfe will replace Rod Minti at one of the forward spots because of Larry's defensive ability. The 6-3 cager will have a tough task, being assigned to guard Santa Rosa's top scorer John Karlin, a 6-5 all-conference forward.

LARRY WOLFE
Defensive ace

Fred Arnold and Jim Halm, both 6-7, will be the boys in Riemcke's double post setup. Backcourt men for the Mariners tonight will be Don Hanson, 6-1, and Lorry Galassi, 5-11. Little Bill Pandiani (5-6) is the third guard for the Tars and Bill Brody and Monti will be spelling the front line starters.

"We're ready to go," said Riemcke. "We've been working hard on our defense for this game. This season it's up to our defense and rebounding to carry us."

And Arnold is quite a rebounder for the Tars. The former Novato High School star plucked off 27 rebounds against Yuba last week to crack his own single-game rebounding mark.

Hanson has been Marin's leading scored so far this season and tallied 20 points against Yuba. Arnold had 16 points in that game and Monti had 17. Riemcke concedes he's taking away points by not having Monti in the starting five but emphasizes Wolfe's importance on defense.

Adding scoring punch on the Santa Rosa quint is Bob Butler, a guard who was a Northern California prep standout when he was at Montgomery High in Santa Rosa. He scored 12 points against Shasta and 10 against Siskiyous.

Santa Rosa's season record is 9-4, compared to Marin's 9-5. But Marin is working on a seven-game victory streak and has won 9 of its last 10 games.

Leaders Rest As Marin League Challengers Fire Away Tonight

While six of the Marin Athletic League basketball teams are waging war upon one another tonight, league-leading Tamalpais will sit back and watch.

The surprising Indians have won two close games in league play so far, over Novato and San Rafael, and stand 2-0 in league standings. The Tam boys draw a bye tonight.

Hoping to match Tam's record tonight, the Drake Pirates play at Terra Linda. Redwood is at Novato and San Rafael is at Marin Catholic. Class B games in all three gyms start the action at 7 o'clock, followed by the varsity teams.

Drake won its opening game against Redwood last Friday, 66-54, and then drew a bye last Tuesday. The Trojans of Terra Linda will be trying to bounce back after dropping their first two league games.

That Redwood-Novato game shapes up as a biggie. Each team split its first two games and another loss this early will hurt, as the Giants and Hornets were picked as two of the top three teams in the league. But that was before the start of MCAL play.

Marin Catholic, 1-1, will be trying to redeem itself after a dismal showing against Novato last Tuesday. The Wildcats hit only 18 per cent from the field in losing to Novato, 46-27. San Rafael opened its league slate last Tuesday on the left foot, losing to Tam 44-38.

In the Class B division, Redwood and Tamalpais lightweights are tied for the top with 2-0 records. Since Tam is idle, a Redwood triumph over the Novato Bees would vault the little Giants into the league lead all by themselves.

Our 49ers Dominate West Starting Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two teams — Baltimore and San Francisco — will dominate the West All-Star squad's starting line-up on offense in the 16th annual Pro Bowl game Sunday.

All but two offensive starters for the West in the National Football League finale will be Colts or 49ers.

The exceptions are rookie halfback Gale Sayers of Chicago and guard John Gordy of Detroit.

San Francisco will furnish five starters, including quarterback John Brodie and fullback Ken Willard, also a rookie.

The Green Bay Packers, NFL champions, won't have a man on the starting offensive unit. But there may not be much squawking about that — because Packer coach Vince Lombardi is directing the West.

Lombardi says he has enough worries without listening to complaints from players.

"The main problem in getting ready for a game like this is terminology," Lombardi says. "Take pass routes.

'What we (Green Bay) call a 'fly' (meaning the receiver scoots downfield), San Francisco calls a 'streak.' What we call a 'post' (the receiver heads for the goal post) somebody else calls a 'pole'."

Rounding out Lombardi's starting offense will be end Dave Parks, tackle Walt Rock and center Bruce Bosley, all 49ers; flanker Jimmy Orr, tackle Bob Vogel, guard Jim Parker and end John Mackey, all Colts.

East Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns released this starting line-up:

Chandler Resigns Grid Post

NEW YORK (AP) — A.B. (Happy) Chandler, former commissioner of baseball, resigned as commissioner of the Continental Football League today because of a fight with club owners over the use of optioned players.

Chandler, who was commissioner of the year-old circuit, warned the club owners at the Thursday opening of the two-day midwinter meeting that if they changed the bylaws to permit the use of optioned players he would resign.

"I'll just go back to Kentucky and Mamma," he said.

The former baseball leader, who also has been Kentucky's governor and was in the U.S. Senate when picked for the baseball job, said he took the football post because "the Continental League will be the third major league."

He said use of optioned players by his league was a sure sign that the Continental was a minor league.

His contract had four more years to go at an estimated salary of $30,000 annually.

CAREER IS PERILED

Mantle Plagued Again By Mysterious Ailment

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A mysterious shoulder injury that could curtail his baseball career is a matter of serious concern to New York Yankee baseball star Mickey Mantle.

Contacted at his Dallas, Tex., home, Mantle said he would go to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., early next week for a three-day check-up which will determine his baseball future.

Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk revealed the new injury to the baseball great yesterday, announcing at the same time that southpaw Whitey Ford, ace of the New York pitching staff, had signed his contract for next season.

Ford reportedly signed for $60,000, the same money he received last year when his season record was 16-13. Mantle said he is taking the injury seriously, but indicated he would not actually know what it means to him until the check-up is completed.

"If I am physically able to play and won't embarrass the fans, I desperately want to play another year," Mantle said.

Mantle's legs and a knee injury have troubled him for several seasons, but he said his legs are in "good shape." He said he has been playing golf and running to get into condition for the approaching season.

Mantle said he did not know what caused the injury, but said that he "aggravated" it while playing touch football with his children on Christmas, 1964.

Mantle said the shoulder injury bothered him some during the 1965 season. He only played in 122 games last year, batted .256, hit 19 homers and had only 46 RBI.

He said that he had not been doing any throwing in his pre-season conditioning. The brilliant but brittle outfielder said he would have to wait about throwing until the check-up allows the physicians to determine the extent of the injury.

Ace Tournament At Injun Valley

Novato High School Boosters Club will sponsor a hole-in-one golf contest at the Indian Valley course, Novato, on the next three Saturdays, starting tomorrow.

To help raise funds for the high school's athletic program, the contest will be held at the fourth hole of the course with members of the Novato High golf team officiating. Hours will be 9 a.m. to noon each Saturday and entry fee is 50 cents per shot. Numerous merchandise prizes will be offered.

Rose Is Running Out Of 'Cousins'

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A sportswriter asked Pete Rose, the second baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, whether he thought he'd hit .300 again next season.

Rose, who hit .312 last year, replied:

"Well, I read in the papers that Warren Spahn has retired. I hit 11 for 14 against him. Then Bob Friend was traded to the Yankees. I was 9 for 14 against him. I'm down to .290 already."

AFL Shows New All-Star Format On TV Tomorrow

Champs To Have Their Hands Full

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The two-time champion Buffalo Bills meet a one-week old All-Star team tomorrow in the American Football League's All-Star Bowl — an old game with a new name that closes the season and opens a new chapter in football.

The game, which will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 11 a.m., PST, is a radical departure from the usual post-season All-Star game matching teams from the East and West and thus presents some intriguing situations.

"You've got a highly coordinated team like Buffalo playing against one that's only been together a week," said All-Star Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego in putting his finger on one of the situations created by the new format.

"Agreed," admitted Buffalo Coach Joel Collier, but:

"You've got a team like the All-Stars with highly qualified personnel — more qualified than any other All-Star team the league has ever had.

"There is no place you can let up on them."

And those are some of the ingredients which made the AFL decide in favor of the new set-up after four years of East-West battles. Now it will be the champions' pride and coordination against a vast amount of talent from the league's seven other teams.

Collier will have the same offensive weapons that were available to Saban as the Bills won the AFL championship — quarterback Jack Kemp, the league's most valuable player, running backs Wray Carlton and Billy Joe and receivers such as Bo Roberson, Paul Costa and either Ernie Warlick or Ed Rutkowski.

But Collier will have problems Saban probably never imagined — such as an All-Star offensive front four made up of Earl Faison and Ernie Ladd of San Diego and Kansas City's Buck Buchanan and Jerry Mays, a quartet that averages 6-foot-6 and 278 pounds.

The Bills also will have to contend with an All-Star offense that includes the league's No. 1 and 3 passers, San Diego's John Hadl and New York's Joe Namath, and the league's top three rushers, San Diego's Paul Lowe, Denver's Cookie Gilchrist and Oakland's Clem Daniels. In addition, Gillman has the other half of his San Diego running back combination, Keith Lincoln.

Hadl and Namath, who was the only rookie named to the All-Star squad, will have top receivers in Fred Arbanas and Frank Jackson of Kansas City, Willie Frazier of Houston, Gino Cappelletti of Boston and Don Maynard of New York.

However, San Diego's Lance Alworth, the No. 1 threat, likely will see little or no action because of an ankle injury.

Mighty Bruins Invade Berkeley Tonight And Stanford Tomorrow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After just one weekend of Pacific Athletic Conference basketball play, one team remains undefeated and one guess names the club—defending collegiate champion UCLA.

The Bruins whipped Oregon State and Oregon to go 2-0. Oregon lost a pair and each of the other six schools stand 1-1.

This weekend the job of trying to stop the Bruins in their bid for a fifth straight conference title falls first to California at Berkeley tonight and then to Stanford in a Saturday afternoon regionally televised game.

Southern California also invades the Bay Area to first play at Stanford and then at California. Washington goes at Oregon and Washington State at Oregon State tonight and the two Washington schools change Oregon partners for Saturday night.

Stanford perhaps poses the biggest threat to the Uclans. Senior Ray Kosanke scored 47 points as the Indians beat Washington 83-78 and lost to Washington State 61-58.

California's hopes of upsetting the defending champions were lowered when the Bears lost Robby Olson who suffered a fractured ankle. Center Bruce Steckel was ailing at the start of the week, but could see action against the Bruins.

UCLA goes into action with a 9-3 record but hasn't been defeated since Freddie Goss returned to the lineup. Goss missed early games with a stomach ailment.

The Trojans of USC count heavily on center John Block, a 6-9 pivotman who scored 40 points in the Trojans' first two confeernce games as they beat Oregon 92-66 and then fell to Oregon State 59-56.

Washington's center Gordon Harris also has 40 for his first two games.

Looks Like Easy Week For USF '5'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If you like your chances slim and odds long, try giving either Loyola or Pepperdine a chance this weekend when they travel north to meet the University of San Francisco as the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball season goes into its second week.

The USF Dons haven't lost on their home court in 27 straight contests and haven't lost a WCAC game there in four years.

Loyola hasn't beaten the Dons in five years. Although the Lions are improving behind 6-foot-5 forward Bob Burns, they will have to improve considerably more to beat the Dons tonight.

Pepperdine, with only a two-point victory over little Pasadena College standing bare against nine losses, has given opponents 100 or more points a game five times this season.

Before meeting USF Saturday Pepperdine faces Santa Clara tonight. San Jose State is at the University of the Pacific and UC Santa Barbara travels to Moraga to meet St. Mary's in the Gaels' first home court game this season.

PLAY ADJOURNS

After the weekend's action, each WCAC squad will have played three games. Conference play adjourns for the remainder of the month with 11 games to go starting in February.

USF still rates the overwhelming choice to take a fourth straight championship despite the gloomy outlook of coach Pete Peletta.

"I think the conference winner this year will lose two games," says Peletta, whose Dons lost one WCAC game last season. "The conference has much better balance."

Stu Miller Honored By S.F. Scribes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Reliever Stu Miller of the Baltimore Orioles, who posted a 14-7 won-lost record in 1965 along with a sparkling 1.87 earned run average, has been named to receive the "Comeback of the Year Award" from the San Francisco chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

The award will be presented on Feb. 13 at the Mark Hopkins Hotel during the chapter's annual banquet. Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, the National League's Most Valuable Player, also will be honored as "Baseball's Man of the Year."

The 38-year-old Miller, who saw previous major league service with the Giants and Cardinals, was the American League's second best relief pitcher last year behind Eddie Fisher of the Chicago White Sox.

Tickets for the banquet are $15 per person and are available on a limited basis. They may be purchased through the Baseball Writers, Candlestick Park, San Francisco.

Seals Host Seattle Tonight At Palace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Larry Lund leads the Seattle Totems tonight at the Cow Palace against San Francisco in their attempt to stay ahead of the Seals in the battle for the last Western Hockey League playoff spot.

The Totems currently occupy fourth place because of their 4-2 victory yesterday over last-place Los Angeles. Seattle has 29 points and fifth-place San Francisco 28.

Lund was scoreless when traded earlier in the season by San Francisco to Seattle. Since then he's paced a Seattle comeback by putting 10 goals into the nets, four against the Seals.

"So I made a bad deal," Seals' general manager Bud Poile says about the trade of the center to Seattle. "But that is the rub of the game."

The most recent Seal is Stan Gilbertson, a 21-year-old wing from Clinton, N. Y., of the Eastern Amateur League. The Duluth, Minn., native signed a pro contract with Poile yesterday.

Gilbertson is a rarity in United States hockey—he's from the United States. Only three U. S. natives play pro hockey—Gilbertson, the Seals' goalie Jack McCartan and Tom Williams who plays for Boston of the National Hockey League.

Mack Jones Signs

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Mack Jones, who hit 31 home runs in 1965, has signed his 1966 contract with the Braves of the National Baseball League.

TESTIMONY IN COURT

Atlanta Braves Expect Nearly 2 Million Gate

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Braves' baseball team says it expects nearly two million fans to buy tickets to National League games in Atlanta next season.

William C. Bartholomay, chairman of the board, told a federal court here a total of 2,200,000 tickets already have been printed for the 1966 season.

Advance ticket sales already are underway, and Atlanta sports fans have exceeded expectations.

Bartholomay made the remark in the state of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against the baseball team's transfer to Atlanta from Milwaukee.

Bartholomay was scheduled to be called as a witness again today. He was to be followed by Manager Bobby Bragan, President John McHale and Dick Cecil, Braves' business manager.

Bartholomay testified yesterday that the decision to move the National League team to Atlanta was prompted by financial losses and lack of interest in Wisconsin.

He said, "There apparently was no interest in the state of Wisconsin in buying shares of stock." He also said "commitments made to us in September of 1963 by representatives of the power structure of Milwaukee were not carried out."

In 1963, he said, the team lost in excess of $700,000. Losses in 1964 were in excess of $800,000 and last year the team lost "substantially in excess of $1 million."

The chairman of the board said an investment firm in Milwaukee gave the Braves a list of 40 or 50 Wisconsin residents who might be interested in buying amounts "equal to the investments we had made."

He said no one bought more than 500 shares. Stock was then offered to Wisconsin residents, Bartholomay said, but only 13,000 or 14,000 of the 115,000 shares offered were sold.

Six 49ers Get Good Chance To Shine In Star Game On Sunday

RANDOL

Six San Francisco 49ers will be appearing in pro football's last gasp performance this Sunday in Los Angeles. That would be the Pro Bowl game of the National Football League, the annual orgy that puts the best players of the league on display.

Now don't get the idea that a bunch of all stars are a cinch to produce the best game of the year. That would be sheer naivete. These laddies are all through with their regular season and they are not about to go out there and die for dear old coach and the home folks.

Honor comes first, and it IS an honor to be named to this squad. Second comes a matter of pride; in other words, each player must present a good showing to justify his choice for the game. Third is a matter of money, the extra change picked up for appearing being in the nature of a bonus.

FINALLY COMES the game itself, with a responsibility to the league and the fans who shoot off a few fireworks. In the end, this comes down to a passing show featuring the quarterbacks, the flankers and the ends. The lines bump up a storm and the backs carry a few times, but the big show is the aerial circus.

With offense the key for the day, our 49ers will have a chance to shine brightly as all sixe men chosen are on the offensive squad. They are quarterback John Brodie, backs Ken Willard and John David Crow, linemen Walt Rock and Bruce Bosley, and the league's leading pass receiver, end Dave Parks.

THE 49ERS choices are pretty much an indication of both the success and the failure of the local club during the past season. The offense did its job above and beyond the call of duty but the usually strong defense folded in the middle and blocked the 49ers from any playoff spots.

JUST A year ago only three 49ers were chosen for the Pro Bowl. They were defense men Matt Hazeltine and Charlie Krueger along with Parks. Had Hazeltine and Krueger stayed healthy this year they might have been repeaters on the West squad—and the 49ers might have figured in the championship in some way.

To show how far the 49ers have come since their low ebb of two years ago, consider that in that year only two men were selected and both were specialists: Abe Woodson and Tommy Davis. Good men both, but when no others are selected that's about as low as you can go and still stay in the league.

WE CAN hope for an entertaining game in the season closer, especially if Parks and Brodie get a real chance to shine. Most of all we can hope that no player gets hurt; this one is for fun.

Plenty Of Sturgeons In Bay; Striped Bass Few, But Big

STEVENS

About the good news anent sturgeon mentioned in yesterday's column: Dick Payne of San Lorenzo called to report he had found sturgeon populating the San Pablo Bay at several areas he fished and observed. "I only landed one striper," he said, "but I believe I could have landed a half dozen or more sturgeons. I released several and had runs on both tides in several different spots in the bay, from off China Camp to the Rock Wall across from Rodeo. I thought you would like to tell your readers that almost anyone using grass shrimp for bait can get himself a sturgeon."

We thank Dick for the news, and my readers have been put wise.

POOR PAYNE, he has been trying for months to land a striped bass that will weigh 30 or more pounds. The last trip the one bass he landed was fairly close — 27 pounds, 10 ounces. He has caught many stripers—gets 'em just about every trip, and has boated many weighing close to 30 pounds, but not quite.

Speaking of chances for a big bass, they look fairly good, and the ones that have been coming in to the Rodeo Marina have been big ones, but hear this: The average bass per rod has been low; Carl Bennett of the Marina called to report weekend results and admitted the average was not much better.

I ASKED Carl about the supply of bullheads at his place. "It's good, Ralph," he said, "but I have had to limit the number to four to a party. Some of the customers have gotten as many as 10 bullheads, so that they would have 'em for another trip or two."

Good for Carl. We all know that as many as three, even four fish may be caught on one bullhead.

HE CONTINUED: "Some nice catches of good-sized flounders came in over the weekend. On Sunday, 11 sturgeons were unloaded from skiffs. Dick and Audrey Payne each had a nice sturgeon. Earl Hastings took home a big bass; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rill had a successful trip for the third successive time out."

Carl paused in his report, then added: "I was out on Thursday. Between 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. I limited with my three bass almost of identical size—19, 20 and 21 pounds. Yes, I used bullheads for bait, but didn't use a double hook harness. Only a single hook run from the gills to the tail, a half hitch around the tail. Just as you said, that way is more sporting and works as well."

BULLY FOR Carl Bennett. He proved my contention. With the single hook method it becomes a matter of "timing"—how long to allow a bass to run before setting the hook (just long enough until the bass is unreeling line in a steady pull) a small bass will jerk the line, a lunker will have a steady, power pull).

THE ANSWER to a question: Yes, it is possible to hook a steelhead when the stream is very muddy. But not often, and only by fishing at the mouth of a tributary stream emptying into the main stream, and the water is clear for a few feet.

AND THAT is it for today. Pack up your gear and drive to San Pablo Bay with a mess of grass shrimps—get yourself a swell eating sturgeon.

Pacific Hires New Grid Aide

STOCKTON (AP) — Former University of the Pacific football player Don McCormick will become an assistant coach at his alma mater starting Feb. 1.

The announcement was made yesterday by UOP athletic director Paul Stagg that McCormick will assist new head football coach Doug Scovil.

McCormick, an offensive and defensive back from 1947 through 1949, now is athletic director at Encina High School in Sacramento. He coached football there and also at Sacramento's Grant High School.

IN MARIN

49ers Stars To Support Cancer Fund

The irresistible force of San Francisco 49ers Clark Miller and Gary Lewis will be added to "Project Victory" sponsored by the Marin Branch of the American Cancer Society and if pure determination can defeat the dreaded killer, these men will do the job.

Guests at the benefit dinner next Monday at Sabella's of Marin, defensive end Miller, a Walnut Creek boy who played for Utah State, and Gary Lewis of San Francisco and Arizona State will be part of a celebrity panel headed by film star Dennis Morgan, a former tackle at Carroll College and a resident of Hollywood.

Miller distinguished himself, in addition to his sterling end play, on a 68-yard gallop with a fumble for a touchdown against the Detroit Lions to chalk up the longest run with a fumble of the 1965 NFL season. The word gallop is used with forethought as the memory of classy Clark at 6-foot-5 and 250 pounds being pursued by a Detroit lineman of equal proportions, with neither gaining a step on the other, is one that will linger in company with last year's wrong way run by a Minnesota behemoth.

Lewis, a 230-pound and 6-3 fullback and a second year pro, executed the longest run from scrimmage this year, a 60-yarder against Chicago, due to desire and a great second effort. The second effort was on the part of tackle Len Rhode who, after an initial block, banged into Lewis's posterior with such force as to knock him loose from two defensive men who felt they had him safely contained. Big Gary popped clear and was in the end zone before he could gain enough control to fall down.

The Cancer Fund dinner is a donation from the Sabellas, their employees and suppliers to the Society and all money for tickets at $10 per person goes directly to the charity. Reservations may be made at the Marin Branch, American Cancer Society, 18 Mary Street, San Rafael.

Injury-Riddled Lakers Invade Warriors' Lair

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors basketball team places its hopes on rookie Rick Barry and veteran guard Guy Rodgers tonight in a civic auditorium home game with the injury-plagued Los Angeles Lakers, 8:30 o'clock.

Barry and Rodgers have been the standouts so far in a season of rebuilding after last year's 17-63 record, the worst in National Basketball Assn. history.

And the pair seems to have shown its effectiveness in terms of the standings. San Francisco, with three rookies on its 11-man roster, presently is in third place in the Western Division with a much improved 21-26 record.

"I told the players we are starting over," said Coach Alex Hannum. "Everybody has a chance to prove himself to me."

Hannum said he is reasonably satisfied with his top six men but is paying close attention to his reserves. Several of the Warrior bench men have asked for progress reports on their playing, Hannum said. They have been promised a good look.

Los Angeles, the Western Division leader, has the league's top scorer in Jerry West. West, who has been troubled by an eye injury, missed a game Wedneday in which the Lakers lost to Boston 114-102. But he is scheduled to play against San Francisco.

The Lakers also have profited lately from strong performances by injured Elgin Baylor.

BLOOD BANK AIDE HONORED

Mrs. Mrs. C. Kenneth Denman of 19 Pine Street, San Rafael, outgoing chairman of the Marin Community Blood Reserve Fund, was presented the plaque seen at right yesterday by Mrs. Bernice M. Hemphill, managing director of San Francisco's Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, in honor of Mrs. Denman's 15 years of volunteer work with the Marin Blood Center. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Isabelle Lankanau of 43 Bretano Way, Greenbrae.

Charts Given Jurors In Silverthorne Trial

Two weeks of testimony about staggering loan fees and related "high finance" at the ill-fated San Francisco National Bank were boiled down to a series of charts presented to jurors yesterday in the federal conspiracy trial of ex-banker Don C. Silverthorne and developer William S. Bennett.

Asst. U.S. Atty. James Brosnahan introduced the charts, providing a separate copy for each of the seven women and five men on the jury.

Defense attorneys tried to block admission of the charts, but were overruled by Judge Charles L. Powell, who was brought in from the state of Washington to preside over the trial.

Brosnahan then called bank examiner Alan R. Miller of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. to the stand so he could instruct jurors in how to read such charts.

The charts were brought into the trial after Mrs. Nancy Hester Priola, former chief teller at the bank, stepped down from the stand.

She wound up her testimony by conceding she had erred Wednesday in describing how she cashed a $50,000 check for Bennett and former San Rafael contractor William R. Atkinson. Mrs. Priola said she became confused after an entire day of testifying.

The $50,000 in question was the money which Atkinson last week testified had been carried from the bank in two paper lunch bags. Mrs. Priola said she had been wrong when she said it was necessary to get cash from the Federal Reserve Bank to cash the check. Instead, she testified yesterday, she drew the currency from the bank's vault.

Rather than putting the money in paper sacks, however, Mrs. Priola recalled seeing Bennett put it in a brief case.

Bennett's lawyer, James Martin McInnis, followed through on his promise to bring two secretly recorded tapes of conversations between Bennett and Mrs. Priola to court. Their content was not brought out in yesterday's proceedings, however.

Queried by Brosnahan, Mrs. Priola said she had been unaware that Bennett recorded the October and December conversations. She commented that "what I said to Mr. Bennett was not necessarily the truth as I say it under oath."

This led MacInnis to ask whether Mrs. Priola was "telling him untruths" during the conversations.

"It was an uncomfortable situation," she replied, "and I wanted him to leave. Possibly I answered lightly."

Families Can Send Talking Cards

Through Project Heart to Heart, immediate families of Marin servicemen serving in Southeast Asia will be able to send a 15-minute recorded message this month to their men as a "talking Valentine."

Sponsored by the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross, the project, to be carried out from Jan. 24 to Jan. 28, will provide tapes, recording facilities and mailing to the Marin families.

Appointments may be made through the Red Cross chapter office at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.
